When we were young, people had colds, soaked their feet in hot water and got well. Now they have grip, take quinine and feel sick all summer. Then they had sore throat, wrapped a piece of fat pork in an old sock, tied it around the neck at night and went to work next morning. Now they have tonsillitis, a surgical operation and two weeks in the hospital. Then they had a stomach ache and took castor oil and recovered. Now they have appendicitis, a week in a hospital and six feet due east and west and four feet perpendicular. Then they worked, they labor now. In those days they wore underclothes now they wear lingerie. Then they went into a restaurant, now they go into a cafe. Then they broke a leg, now they fracture a limb. People went crazy then, they have brainstorms now. Politicians paid good hard cash for support, now they send government garden seed.—Ex.
