NOTICE.

When a newspaper offers its advertising space at nominal figure, it is a practical admission of "no rculation." THE KLONDIKE NUGGET asks a ood figure for its space and in justification thereof atees to its advertusers a paid circulation five times that of any other paper published between Juneau and the North Pole.

From Saturday's Daily. WIDOWS AND ORPHANS FUND. An entertainment is being planned to occur on the 15th inst., the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the fund now being subscribed in England for the relief of widows and orphans of British soldiers whose lives have been lost in the Transvaal. The cause is a most worthy one and the Nugget bespeaks for the entertainment a liberal patronage from Dawson's citizens. Subscriptions to this fund are being taken in every corner of the globe where the British flag flies, and the amounts already raised aggregate an exceedingly large sum. It will doubtless create a thrill of patriotic pride in England when it is learned that far away Dawson has sent its quota both of men and money for the aid of the general cause. A most striking feature of the Boer war is the tremendous amount of colonial enthusiasm that has been awakened. Britain has no complaint to make of the loyalty of her dependencies. Her best troops will be found in the colonial contingents and money for various causes arising from the war is being subscribed most liberutility of the rockers process having been exhausted.

In the matter of powers of attorney it will be noticed that the writer is very positive. Unless powers of attorney are disallowed, which is altogether improbable, he says there will be prac tically no opportunity for new arrivals to secure locations. His conclusion, "I fear there are going to be many a poor disappointed fellow dropped on the Nome beach next summer, !! is distinctly prophetic.

We have seen nothing in the way of reliable Nome information that in any degree justifies the preparations on the there next summer. We are firmly convinced that for every man who met disappointment in Dawson in the rush condition.

Dispatches announcing that Gen. Buller's losses have aggregated 2000 men lead us to the conclusion that the report wherein the same number were said to have been lost near Kimberley was in error. The operations around Kimberley have been confined, so far as information at had extends to a severe bombardment maintained continously for a number of days. But that British losses could have amounted to the number mentioned seems altogether improbable. We conclude therefore that an error in the original Kimberley dispatch confused Buller's losses with the casualties at Kimberley.

The manner in which information is confused in getting from the interior to the outside is well illustrated in a recent Victoria paper. In connection with the disappearance of the Clayson party the statement is made in the ally Dawson does not propose to be Victoria paper that the men who disap- proud man but dere's 'nuff blue blood

An observing citizen remarked in one of the hotels a few nighs ago that he had kept pietty close tab on those leaving Dawson for Nome and gave it as his opinion that of every three men starting, two were broke and were being taken at the expense of the third. "It is this wa;, ' he continued, "Dawson is full of men wno came here in the hope of getting hold of something for themselves. They left their homes on the outside with that end in view, but on reaching here have found that there is no chance for them owing to the ex isting law which, instead of encouragpart of so many thousands to rush in ing mining, make it almost prohibitory. Many of these men possess a few hundred dollars and seeing nothing here but a chance to spend without replenishing, they are mushing on to of '97 98, there will be ten at Nome Nome and taking two or three fellows next summer in identically the same, with them for company and to assist along the route. If the laws now obtaining in this country don't react in a death dealing fashion, then I'll miss my guess."

Yesterday was room rent day with the Stroller and, having no friend with double bed, he was forced to spend the night in a chair in one of the many all-night resorts. Being his first night for several weeks in a chair he was somewhat resrless as were also two of his neighbors who were attempting to woo a few hour's rest under a crap table in close proximity to the camp of the Stroller. About 4:30 o'clock this morn ing I heard one of my neighbors. exclaim, "Say, Bill! Wake up! Does yu know dat me an' yu is amenable to de law fer sleeping under a gamblin' table? I seed in der paper las' night dat any feller in any way connected wid 'er gamblin' table 1s 'sposed ter be worth $50 a month ter der gnyment. Now, if we'se ketched under dis table we'se'll saw wood fer mor'n a month. What des yu say'n we'se pull outen dis and go over 'n li down by dat wood, tuther sided de stove? I'm not 'er

If I were to luse my job now would be broke before the end of time days, and after Saturday night, m room rent is paid to that time, I'd h sleeping in a bar room chair unle some good Samaritan took pity on me Here's a check; take it to the bar an have something on me."

Birthday Party.

Master Hugh McDonald, only child of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McDonald, is king of the Klondike for this afternoon this being the seventh anniversary of his birth. A large crowd of .little men and maidens are assisting him in celebrating the event in a hilarion manner.
