OLD GUY CURTIS. In pursuance of their intention to have a professional coach, the Montreal Football Club has cast its eyes on Guy Curtis of Kingston. Guy Curtis, once famous as the Queen's University football and hockey captain, was well known to every student of that institution for some fifteen years. Matricling from Albert College, Belleville, though his home itself was in the village of Delta, near Brockville, Curtis entered Queen's with a fair standing which he kept up academically for precisely one year; after that his athletic prowess quite overshadowed his ability as a student. He had never played football but had been a notable hockey player on the team of his own village, and it was first in that capacity that he became known to the university athletic world. In his second year, however, he began to play football, and his success was instantaneous. Under his captaincy, the Queen's senior rugby team was as invincible as the hockey team was upon the ice. Curtis acted as captain of the latter organization also. Queen's made several trips to New York and Pennsylvania, being among the first of the Canadian teams who, by their exhibitions of Canada's game, have succeeded in rendering it so popular in the republic to the south, and it was owing to Curtis that the team commenced and continued these. Curtis continued to play the latter game long after he actively took any part in the football field. Curtis was the first to introduce massed plays into Canada. Occupying in person a position at half, Curtis, who weighs nearly two hundred pounds, and who never was much of a runner, played right up upon his wing and his ponderous charges and head work were responsible for the majority of the scores in most of the games. Queen's played under his captaincy. In latter years, after he had ceased

Don't Go Back on Corn. It will be a mistake to reduce the acreage of corn this year. If we have a dry season, and we are likely to have it after so much snow and rain in the last past twelve months, there may be a material shortage of the other fodder crops this year. In such a case reduction in the area of corn might easily prove disastrous. Plant corn; it is one of the cheapest of feeds at all times, and, in a dry season, it is absolutely essential to successful mixed farming. High Pressure Days. Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements society, more numerous. The first effect of the praiseworthy effort to keep up with all these things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves, and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge, we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high pressure days.

The New Edition of The Canadian Newspaper Directory. The Canadian Newspaper Directory for 1905, which has just been published, is a mine of information—not only to the advertiser, but also to firms in every line of business. It is the most ambitious work of the kind ever published in Canada. It is more than a directory of Canadian publications. Besides giving a complete and accurate list of newspapers, magazines and trade journals, with intimate particulars as to issues, circulation, politics, and extent of field covered, it also supplies vital statistics regarding the places of issue, with location, population, industries and resources. The Canadian Newspaper Directory is published by A. McKim & Company, Newspaper Advertising Agency, Montreal and Toronto, who plan and place the advertising of many of the largest and most successful advertisers in Canada, as well as the leading advertisers of the United States and Great Britain.

Nervousness and Nerve. The more nervous a man is, the less nerve he has. That sounds paradoxical—but it isn't; for nerve is stamina. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives nerve. It tones the whole system, perfects digestion and assimilation, and is therefore the best medicine a nervous person can take. If you get tired easily, mentally or physically, take Hood's—it will do you good.

Students Arrested. Members of the Holiness Movement have been in the habit of holding open air services on Saturday nights at the corner of Sparks and Mc-tulloch streets, Ottawa. On April 1 they were closer than usual to Ottawa's main thoroughfare, and it being the busiest time of the evening the street was soon congested and rendered impassable. Several times the police evicted evangelists, men and women, to move further away so as to relieve the pressure at the crossing. No heed was paid and finally the police arrested seven men and they spent from Saturday until Monday in the cell, shouting, singing and praying so long as they were able. On Monday, Bishop Horner put in a plea for them. They had been over zealous, but it was not the object to make a disturbance, and he could promise they wanted peace, and not trouble with the law. They were consequently allowed to go.

The Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer. Walter James Brown, B.S.A., L.L.B., for three years Principal of the Canadian Correspondence College and a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, has been appointed Editor of The Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer of Toronto. The interests of the agriculturalists and homemakers of this country are rapidly assuming commanding importance, and The Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer, with its new corps of editors and assistants, will devote its energies to the solution of the problems affecting the promotion of agricultural industries and the development of Canadian homes. The Reporter has made arrangements whereby The Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer and The Reporter may be had by any subscriber in Canada, United States or Great Britain until January 1st, 1906, for one dollar. A more liberal newspaper offer has never been made.

Women. There are several things about Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets For Women. That make them different from ordinary medicines. The one of greatest interest to you is, that unlike liquid preparations, they do more than merely stimulate the user while taking them. They Make Healthy Women. There are many reasons for this. Here are three: They are the prescription of Dr. Hugo, of Paris, one of the world's greatest specialists in diseases of women, a prescription which embodies the skill and experience that comes from forty years' practice as a specialist. They are compounded to meet the needs of sick, tired, and run-down women, and of them alone. They are for women. They contain every known medical ingredient of known virtue to women. They include special uterine tonics, which are not contained in remedies sold for both men and women. They contain ingredients just recently discovered, proved by scientists to be of the greatest value to women. These ingredients are not contained in any other remedy. This explains in part their being more effective than any other remedies placed on the market twenty-five years ago.

THE LITTLE WEEKLY PAPER. Folks may prize the city dailies with their editorial views. With their boisterous circulation and their telegraphic news. With their parliamentary speeches and the same old party song. And their so-called brainy essays which are always dry and long. They may prize the great trade journals or the classic magazine. With its illustrated stories and the science of the art. But the one I hail with gladness, which I long so for to come. Is the little village weekly which they send me down from home. 'Taint no twenty-page edition for it has but only four. But they breathe the breath of comfort and 'Taint what folks would call artistic, for at times it's dim and blurred. But it tells me to interest and I make out every word. It is mostly bright and cheery, though sometimes my heart is bleed. As I read a black-lined notice that some old-time friend is dead. But there's far more than sorrow in the messages so sweet. Of that little village weekly, that away back country sheet. How it fills my heart with gladness as I through the briefly written columns of the local district news. There ain't no big lettered headlines and no colored pictured shows. Nor the editor ain't trying for to tell folks all he knows. It don't take up space in talking what has happened o'er the sea. But it speaks of things and people of great interest to me. Never fills up half its columns with what's daily, but tells me that the farmers all are busy with their hay. Never prints about four columns of French words I can't pronounce. To describe some maiden's debut and how costly jewelled founce. But it tells me that the neighbors made a bee and got up wood. For the cripple Sammy Johnson and the poor old widow Hood. It don't make no leary comment on some swell-head potentate. But it tells me Taylor's Billy is a striking quite a gal. What their baseball team is beating nearly everything in sight. What the Rev. Mr. Simmons lectured in the Baptist Church last night. It don't deal with wordy matters which professors call profound. But it tells me Uncle Wiley is in health and pegging 'round. That Uriah Fratz has traded off his team with Cyrus Hamlin. And that Uncle Silas Hamlin sold his famous Jersey cow. Tells me Sarah Smith is better, that she sat up yesterday. That a welcome kiltie stranger came to Thomas Duff's to stay. That Joe Bowers had built a silo, and Bill Jones had roofed his shed. That the widow Webster's boy came home, the one she thought was dead. Folks may prize the city dailies with their essays and reviews. With their parliamentary comments and their latest foreign news. As for me, well I read at 'em and to grasp their meaning try. But when comes that 'way-back weekly, then I put the dailies by. For it brings to me glad tidings of the village I love so. And it seems just running over with the things I want to know. It's a little beam of sunshine on life's dark and trackless sea. That away back country paper which they send from home to me. —Crawf. C. Black, Montreal.

INDIANS MIX WITH WHITES. In Five Generations Two Races Will Be Fused Together. Mr. Cockshutt, Brantford, gave some interesting information about our Indian Wardens in The House of Commons the other day. He assured the House that the money voted for the Mohawk Institute had been wisely and well expended, and if all the money voted for Indian education had been as well expended, no fault could be found with the administration of the fund. With respect to the progress made by the Indians as a result of educational efforts, Mr. Cockshutt regarded it as satisfactory. As to the future of the Indian race, Mr. Cockshutt was of the opinion that the Six Nations will ultimately become absorbed into the Canadian nation. White blood is now so completely infused into the race that there are comparatively few of pure Indian blood left. Within probably three generations or five at the most, the process of absorption will have been completed at the rate it is now proceeding. Young Indians who were educated at the Mohawk Institute have been very successful, and he mentioned a case of illustration several who occupy important positions in commercial and other walks of life. The result of the adoption of the Provincial franchise had been to deprive the Indians of the Six Nations, in common with those of other tribes, of the franchise. This he regarded as a step in the wrong direction, inasmuch as the Indians were to be advanced in civilization largely by placing upon them the full responsibility of citizenship. They should be given the franchise, and, although he was not in a position to ask for that to-day, that should be the ideal kept in view. No nation in the world had progressed more rapidly than the Six Nations, who a century and a half ago were in a wild and savage state. At the Mohawk Institute technical and manual instruction were embraced in the curriculum, and that was the only practical and effective method of imparting education. Although pagan rites were practiced to a very limited extent upon the reserve, it was largely the result of the demands of white visitors, but for whom these rites would have long since become extinct so far as any significance they might have formerly possessed for the Indians.

Lady Bank Clerks. Comes now a contemporary with a tale about "Lady Bank Clerks" being employed in several European banks, and advocating their introduction in Canada. Surely everyone knows that there is already in Toronto a bank employing several young ladies, not as stenographers, either, but in regular clerkships of the kind hitherto held by men. Canada does not lag behind in the procession—Toronto News.

A Suggestion. He—I can never think of the right thing to say at the right time. She—Why don't you try saying the right thing sometimes even if you get in the wrong place?
