Historic Timepiece.

The old astronomical clock in the first and second quadrangles at Hampton Court Palace, which has gone continuously for many years without stopping, has suddenly ceased to keep time. It stopped at six minutes to eleven a few mornings ago, through the slipping of a pin in the mechanism, and is now being thoroughly overhauled. The circumstance is of interest, as there is a tradition at the palace that the clock had not stopped from any accidental cause for over a century. The present clock is a restoration of the original clock, erected about 1560, when Henry VIII. and Queen Catherine Howard lived at Hampton Court. A clock that originally belonged to the queen's apartments at St. James' Palace was removed to Hampton Court in 1835, and put in the place of the old clock, which was laid aside in an out-house of the palace until 1879, when the board of works ordered its restoration to its original position. As, however, it was found to be too old to be made to perform the old movements, little remains of the original clock except its pictorial dial. This has three discs, which combine to show not only the hours of the day, but the days of the month, the motion of the sun and moon, the moon's age, phases, quarters, etc. The clock is wound up weekly, and this occupies half an hour. There is an ordinary face to the clock in the first court, which was added in 1649.

CELEBRITY PASSES AWAY

Deceased Was One Of Toronto's Most Honored Pioneers

CAPT. M' MASTER DEAD

Toronto, Jan. 8.—Capt. William Fenton McMaster died at 10:30 last night in his 89th year. He was one of Toronto's most honored pioneers, and the history of the city was almost entirely linked in association with his career.

A kindly and cheery figure about the Parliament Buildings, he pursued with assiduous industry until ten days ago his duties in the supervision of reports in the Department of Agriculture, and, though somewhat stooped, continued very active and walked to and fro with amazing vigor. On Dec. 28 he began to feel the weight of years, and having sank slowly since, passed quietly away last night at "Rosholm."

Capt. McMaster was born on Sept. 1, 1822, near Omagh, Tyrone, Ireland, and landed in Toronto May 17, 1839. The place was then a country town, with two or three wooden wharves. He lay sick of ship fever for several weeks after his arrival in the room in Leader lane lighted by the fifth upstairs window from King street on the east side. Employed at first in Cathcart & Co.'s, where his uncle, subsequently Senator McMaster, afterwards became a partner, he went to Bensenville and was in business there with his father. At Bensenville he also married Jane, daughter of Dr. Summer. She survives him with their children, Robert S. F., secretary of the Toronto General Burying Grounds Trust; Charles A., in business in New York; Helen, married to A. L. Herbert, assistant chief engineer of the C.P.R.; and Miss Flora, who remained with her father. Seven grandchildren also survive him.

Capt. McMaster was in business also in Kent. Upon the death of his father he came to Toronto, when his uncle, his brothers and he established the firm of William McMaster & Nephews, the wholesale dry goods house. In 1865 Senator McMaster withdrew and the firm became A. R. McMaster & Brother, and so continued till 1885, when the captain gave up business and in the following year entered the civil service as assistant secretary to the bureau of industries, which expanded with the Department of Agriculture, where for ten years he held the position he held at his death.

In addition to these duties he was one of the first directors of the Toronto, Grey & Bruce, and Toronto & Nipissing Railways. He was one of the founders of the Freehold Loan & Savings Co. When the Toronto Industrial Exhibition was founded he was elected first vice-president at the first meeting and held the office until 1893. He became an honorary director and held this position until the last.

Shortly after his arrival in Toronto he became attached to Brabant's Horse, and not only in military but in naval matters he proved himself capable and devoted. He was one of the very few men who passed with honors, both the military and naval examinations. In 1862 he founded the Toronto Naval Brigade for the defence of the lakes. He equipped the corps and maintained the men at his own cost, and in 1866, at the time of the Fenian Raid, the brigade was utilized in manning a gunboat, converted from a twin-screw tug. He supplied the equipment in this instance also, and the boat was despatched to patrol Lake Erie, where it remained till the arrival of troops and vessels of war. He retired from this service with the rank of major, and the brigade was broken up about 1868. Capt. McMaster was also an honorary officer in the Q. O. R.

Col. Cameron's Sudden Death.—Brantford, Jan. 8.—One of Brantford's prominent citizens, in the person of Col. Ed. Cameron, expired as he was entering his home about six o'clock last evening. He was in excellent health all day, but towards evening began to feel weak and walked home from his office. Death was due to heart failure.

Col. Cameron was Superintendent of the Six Nations Indians and was appointed to that position in 1891. He was formerly a lawyer, and was commanding officer of the 38th regiment.

Rev. W. MacWilliam Dead.

Toronto, Jan. 8.—The death occurred about midnight yesterday of Rev. William MacWilliam, who for many years had been librarian of Knox College. Deceased was in his 70th year. Deceased formerly preached at Streetsville, Ont., and then became a missionary at Prince Albert in the west. Later he had a charge at Port Hope. About 10 years ago he was appointed librarian at Knox College and also taught in the Bible Training School on College street. The late Mr. MacWilliam was a man of particularly ripe scholarship, though modest and retiring in his manner. A widow, a son and two daughters survive.

Lieut.-Col. Stewart Dead.—London, Jan. 8.—(C. A. P.)—Lieut.-Col. K. Stewart, C.M.G., a Scotch Canadian, late King's messenger, a well-known soldier, is dead. Lieut.-Col. But nothing could be done, and she gazed sadly at her copy of "Plutarch" dancing merrily on the waves far astern.

A Wonderful Record.

As made up by improved and exact processes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. It cures the backache, periodical headaches, the dragging-down distress in the pelvic region, the pain and tenderness over lower abdominal region, dryness and pelvic catarrhal drain, so disagreeable and weakening, and overcomes every form of weakness incident to the organs distinctly feminine.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, the makers of which are no afraid to print their formula on the bottle wrapper, thus taking their patrons into their full confidence. It is the only medicine for women, every ingredient of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the most eminent medical practitioners and writers of our day, recommending it for the diseases for which "Favorite Prescription" is used. It is the only put-up medicine, which does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, so harmful in the long run, especially to delicate women. It has more genuine cures to its credit than all other medicines for women combined, having saved thousands of sufferers from the operating table and the surgeon's knife.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do not gripe. They effectively cleanse the system of accumulated impurities. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by Dr. Pierce, 1008 pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. England's Advantage.—Prof. Barnes, an American educationist, lectured recently at Harrow School on English and Transatlantic methods. While claiming that the American system had substantial points of advantage, especially in the production of a splendid general mediocrity, he regretted that it had no historic associations. Looking round at the old oak-paneled walls, deeply graven with the names of many who had made their mark in history, he could not help feeling, he said, that his country, with all her millions, would be hard put to it to find the value which such associations would be to her, if only it were possible to make them organically connected with the life of her people.

Always give to a gracious message a host of tongues; but let ill tidings tell themselves.
