Night School.

The Commercial Night School reopened Tuesday evening, and was well attended. Classes were formed and received their courses in Accounting, Rapid Calculation, Business Penmanship, Business Correspondence, Business Spelling, Business Law, Stenography and Typewriting. A few students entered for Telegraphy, Mechanics, Mechanical Drawing, Mensuration and Land Surveying; while it was delightful, as the Principal, Mr. P. G. Butler, expressed it, to find no fewer than seven willing to study for the Business Educators' Examination of Canada, or the C.I.E. Intermediate Grade, whichever they preferred, in Commercial Subjects. An excellent report was given on the success of last year's work, which resulted in the placing of over sixty students in good business positions; that was a great help to the business firms of the city, and is appreciated by everyone. The advantages afforded of eleven typewriters, four new machines (Underwood's, L. C. Smith's, Remington's and Oliver's) will be for the Evening

Classes, as well as the Day and Afternoon Classes, and all will have the privilege of instruction from an expert teacher in typewriting, Miss Freeman, who has graduated from what is said to be the best school in the world in this subject, Rose L. Fritz's School in expert typewriting. The all-finger touch method will be taught, and no doubt good results will follow. All the teachers of last year will be present, and additions made to the staff as required. The rooms are very comfortable and provided with the latest of electric light and the comfort of the students; while three of the leading moving picture houses of the city have kindly promised to show films for the school moving picture machine from time to time, that will be both instructive and entertaining to the students, and a reward of industry. Returned soldiers have also been invited to attend.

Everybody appreciates good clean goods. You should see our Men's Fancy Shirts at $1.50. W. R. GOOBIE, is just opp. Post Office.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

10.30 A. M.

FORGING AHEAD.
AT BRITISH HEADQUARTERS, Evening, Oct. 2, via Reuter's Ottawa Agency: Canadian Press Despatch from Reuter's Ltd.—Reuter's correspondent cables, although the fighting blazed up this morning with great intensity, later the infantry fighting decreased. Along the Cambrai-St. Quentin front we are busily engaged in mopping up and consolidating our gains. The Canadian attack, yesterday, anticipated the heaviest enemy assault which engaged two fresh storm troops divisions, hence there occurred furious fighting in which the Canadians gradually gained the mastery. The enemy is unquestionably beginning to feel the heavy losses sustained in materials. He has for some time now employed liquid air as a substitute for high explosives. In the attack along the Canal bank, north west and southwest of Valenciennes, our troops relieved a party of Americans who had been surrounded the day before and had put up a magnificent resistance, though heavily outnumbered and the ground in front of them was strewn with dead Germans. We satisfactorily progressed eastward in various parts of the new battlefield. In forcing the Beaurevoir-Weaucourt line yesterday, the English thirty-second division bore a conspicuous part, finally breaking through the outposts of the Siegfried line, which enabled the attack to swing northwards toward the Germans, massed below Cambrai. The statement that the Germans fired Cambrai appears to be unconfirmed. It is now believed that the fire was caused by the burning of ammunition dumps.

Mineral Deposit.

An American mineral expert, who has been over the mountains of the Atlantic coast and located by Mr. M. L. Parrell, declares it to be the very best in the world, and furthermore states that it is the largest. It is a fissure vein, whilst all others were only composed of pockets. It is at Fleur de Lys. Up to a few years ago, only a small amount of this mineral was used, Germany buying all that was available, which she used to harden her big guns which, in this war, were used to shatter the big cities. Since the war, the Allies have tried everywhere, with but little success, to obtain the metal to use for the same purpose. This mineral is used for making dies, armour, and for hardening steel. The percentage in this deposit runs very high, according to our local analysis, and to the Munition Board, Ottawa, and also to the U. S. Assay Office, Washington. It runs in sand and ore, as has never happened before, it being previously only found in rock. The sand also has a big commercial value. The Allies will now be able to get the valuable mineral from the mine of Fleur de Lys. Operations will begin very shortly.

From Port of Spain, Trinidad, come advices to the effect that the dried fish market is firm and the "government price on Halifax cod is $8.50," while large Newfoundland cod of superior quality is bringing $56. These figures indicate that the scarcity of most grades of dried fish has influenced higher prices, and what is true of Trinidad is true also of markets as far away as Europe. Indeed, dried fish is so universally used that there is a shortage of the whole world feels it.—N.Y. Fishing Gazette, Sept. 21.

You bend over and can scarcely get straightened up again. This comes on you so suddenly you can't understand it.

This is lumbago. Like backache and rheumatism, it is the result of poisons in the blood. The kidneys are deranged, but the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will soon set them right. The pains and aches will disappear with the poisons when the kidneys do their work properly.
