

Rev. Dr. McVicar, of Montreal, has opened a class for training Sunday School teachers. The course of instruction is to embrace: 1. The art of teaching, including preparation of lesson, management of classes, and communication of knowledge to the scholars of all grades. 2. An elementary view of the evidences of Christianity. 3. The essential doctrines of Revelation. An international scheme of lessons will be made the basis of instruction, thus enabling the teachers of all denominations to avail themselves of the benefits of the class.

GUELPH MARKET.

GUELPH, Nov. 28th, 1872. The grain market remains much in the same condition as reported last week, except that Spring Wheat has gone up a cent, making it $1.18, being two cents per bushel more than it paid in Toronto, whilst Fall Wheat has fallen to $1.25. The extra price of Spring Wheat in Guelph is probably owing to the demands of local millers which are far greater than the supply coming in can meet. The Liverpool market is reported without change, Hecley remains inactive; in Toronto, holders are not willing to accept current rates, and are shipping to Oswego on owners account. Oats are two cents lower in quotations since last week, bringing only 40 cents. Dressed hogs may also be quoted lower, no tender prices having been reached through the week as $5.75, the figure obtained last week by Mr. J. Phil. $5.12 1/2 cents, may be quoted as the prevailing outside price for superior specimens, although $5.80 was offered on Wednesday; Toronto quoting only $5.25, and $5.50 in some instances by butchers for choice small pigs. Hay has been sold as low as $14 during the past week, although reaching as high as $20 during the same period. We understand loads of hay have actually appeared on the Guelph Market all the way from Durham, a distance of some 64 miles! The butter market is at present somewhat what sluggish, 14 cents being about the top price, but buyers seem indifferent even at that. They complain loudly of the wretched condition in which most of the butter is marketed, and which must ultimately react very detrimentally to the farmers interest in this particular department. At Albany for the week ending Nov. 24, the cattle market opened briskly but dropped somewhat at the close on Saturday, in consequence of the inferior quality offering. We notice Canada steers quoted at 4 1/2 to 5 1/2, whilst some Illinois steers are quoted as high as 8 cts. average 1400 lbs. Good quality sheep were in quick demand; prices for lambs 7 1/2 to 8 1/2 to 7 for coarse wool sheep and fine wool sheep 4 1/2 to 6 1/2.
