City Engineer Graydon is getting after the London Electric Company for failing to light the streets in time. He will recommend to No. 3 committee that the company be docked 3 cents a lamp for 362 lamps because they failed to light the lamps until one half hour after the streets became dark. "The streets were dark for half an hour," said Mr. Graydon, "and I ordered a policeman to note that the 362 lamps in the city were not lighted until much after 6 o'clock. If they do not have them lighted on time, I will continue to have them fined."

The police have been investigating with a view of locating Jerry Heenan, of Lansing, whose whereabouts were sought by Mrs. Bert Eberly, of College, Cal. After coming here from Lansing, Mr. Heenan changed his name to Joseph Cummings, and stayed for a time with Mrs. Myers in South London. Later he boarded at 489 York street, and on being taken ill on Dec. 17, 1907, went to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he died on Dec. 20 and was buried in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 19.—When interviewed at her home at 194 Argyle street, Mrs. Haversstock was quite willing to talk of her peculiarly unfortunate case. "I was always 'blue' and depressed, felt weak, languid and utterly unfit for any work. My stomach was so disordered that I had no appetite. What I did eat disagreed. I suffered greatly from dizziness and sick headache and feared a nervous breakdown. Upon my druggist's recommendation I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

"I felt better at once. Every day I improved. In six weeks I was a well woman, cured completely after different physicians had failed to help me. It is for this reason that I strongly urge sufferers with stomach or digestive troubles to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills strengthen the stomach, improve digestion, strengthen the nerves and restore debilitated systems to health. By cleansing the blood of long-standing impurities, by bringing the system to a high point of vigor, they effectually chase away weariness, depression and disease. Good for young or old, for men, for women, for children. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Advertiser Correspondence

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Dear Sir,—I would like to use your column to publicly express my thanks to the Phoenix Insurance Company, of Brooklyn, who, through their agents, Messrs. G. M. Gunn & Son, of this city, had a policy on my furniture only while I was in the house in Hale street, Pottersburg, and a few days before the fire burnt up the Canadian Packing Company, I was appointed superintendent for the packing company with a residence in the factory, and I moved all my furniture into the factory, an entirely different location where the hazard was much greater, and the same was totally destroyed. I gave no notice of such removal to the insurance company, and, therefore, had no legal claim on them, but they have generously paid me 50 per cent of my policy of $500, amounting to $250. Thanking you, I am, yours truly,

SUNDAY IN THE

A CALL TO A NEW MINISTER

Is Extended By the Christian Workers Church—Anniversary Services in Several Places.

Sunday was a day of more than usual interest in local churches, and the beautiful summer weather that prevailed brought forth large congregations both the morning and evening services.

Throughout the Christian churches of the world yesterday special prayers and services were held for the advancement of Sunday school work and many of the local pastors took advantage of the occasion to make an appeal to their congregations for their support.

Yesterday was also the anniversary of St. Luke's birthday, and in several of the Anglican churches this was made a subject of special celebration. St. Luke's Church, Broadhead, which was built in honor of St. Luke, commenced special commemorative services, which will be brought to a close by a social in the church on Tuesday evening.

Anniversary Services.
The annual anniversary services of Dundas Centre Epworth League were also held, and both morning and evening services were attended by very large congregations. The pulpit of the First Methodist Church yesterday was filled by Rev. Dr. Daniel of Park Street Church, Chatham, formerly of Colborne Street Methodist Church, of this city, and the church was filled last night and yesterday morning by former members of his congregation and others anxious to hear him preach.

Rev. W. L. Rutledge was in Chatham conducting anniversary services in Park Street Church.

Evening Services.
"Transformation" was the theme of Dr. Daniel's evening sermon, and the speaker based his remarks on Corinthians, Second Book, III, 18, "But we all, with open face, beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the spirit of the Lord."

"Transformation," said Dr. Daniel, "is the keynote of the twentieth century, and is the greatest word of the present day. I propose to deal with it under three heads in regard to its physical, intellectual and spiritual aspects. We have all read with the greatest regret of the immense forest fires that have wrought such terrible damage in various parts of the country. People who were considered wealthy have in a few short hours had their belongings transformed into a pile of ashes and charcoal, which was practically worthless. And yet science tells us that out of this worthless charcoal Nature, the wonderful chemist, fashions the diamond, the most beautiful and pure stone known. That is a transformation of a physical kind."

When a little child brushes aside the childish and material things that confront it, and stands face to face with a really great thought, trying to assimilate it, seeing and appreciating its beauty yet not fully understanding it, that is a transformation of another and intellectual kind, and it is worth far more than any diamond. The third kind of transformation is a spiritual one, and more difficult to understand. It takes place when God touches our souls with his wondrous power, and lifts us into a plane from which we can see his beauty and majesty. If you can imagine all the beauty that you know, all the power that is possible, all the sweetness and goodness and mercy compressed into one thing, that is a spiritual transformation."

St. Luke's Church.
Rural Dean S. F. Robinson, rector of St. John's Church, Strathroy, conducted special commemorative services in honor of St. Luke, at St. Luke's Church, Broadhead, yesterday. The church was well filled on both occasions. In the morning Rural Dean Robinson spoke from St. Luke ix, 62, and gave an interesting account of the life and works of St. Luke. In the evening the speaker continued his theme, and in addition spoke of the prosperity of the country and the blessings we have enjoyed, as calling forth the greatest thankfulness on our part.

The debt on St. Luke's Church has been reduced to $500 and will likely be wiped out in the near future. During the evening service a solo was sung by Mr. Lewin and was greatly appreciated.

bot Street Baptist Church yesterday morning and at the New St. James' Church last evening, taking as his subject on both occasions "Who Will Show Us Any Good?" Mr. Lancelley's place at Dundas Centre was taken by Rev. A. J. Vining, who preached a special sermon in connection with the anniversary services of the Epworth League. In the evening Rev. Thomas Mitchell, of the New St. James' Church, preached in Dundas Centre Church on "God's Description of a Man."

New St. James' Church.
In the morning at the New St. James' Church Mr. Mitchell preached on "Christianity Fitted as a Universal Religion," and showed that it is so fitted for four reasons, the first being the apostrophic form in which the New Testament is written. Second, the teachings of Christianity are embodied in a life. Every great movement needs a standard and an ideal. Aristotle said that moral treatises while they might have weight with noble minds were unable to move the masses. Christianity is not merely a moral treatise but is something that has Christ for its centre. The existence of the church fits Christianity as a universal religion. The church is not as strong as it might be nor as good as it might be in that it lacks sacrifice and unity. Still it is a potent instrument for good. Christianity satisfies the needs of man. Religion is psychological and depends upon the psychological truths of truth, beauty and goodness. The Christian religion satisfies all these.

First Presbyterian Church.
At the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning Rev. J. G. Inkster preached the fourth of a series of sermons on "The Fact of Christ," taking as his theme the fact that the coming of Christ on earth revealed sin to man. When a man finds Christ he finds his own sins. Then he must find how that sin can be forgiven. With man forgiveness is a duty, with God it is a problem. How can He do it? Because sin to God means sin against the whole fabric of His moral law.

In the evening Mr. Inkster preached the fifth of a series of sermons on the parable of the "Unmerciful Servant." Mr. Inkster dealt first with the leniency of the king towards the servant. The servant had no idea, when he said he would repay the debt, how really great that debt was. The third thing that we do to coming to Christ is to say that we will pay the whole debt when we generally are unable to do it. It is a very different thing for a man's sin to find him out and for a man to find his sin out, but unless man finds his sin out there is no hope for his salvation. Unless we see that sin is a personal thing we do not see sin at all. It is no use for us to talk about the sins of society until we see our own sin. The servant in the parable could not forgive his fellow servant because he was not forgiven himself.

A Joint Meeting.
A meeting of the members of all the churches of the city will be held in the schoolroom of the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening next to bid farewell to Messrs. Rice and Lang, who leave shortly for the Sudan. On Sunday next Rev. Dr. Milligan, of Toronto, will preach in the First Presbyterian Church and Mr. Inkster will preach in Toronto.

Memorial Church.
Rev. R. Millman, of Toronto, preached in the Memorial Church yesterday to large congregations. Mr. Millman took as his subject in the morning the three meanings of the temple in the Bible. The first meaning is that of a temple of stone and wood, such as David planned to build to the Lord in Jerusalem and was afterwards built by Solomon. The second meaning is the temple of the body, and the third that of the temple of living souls.

Christ Church.
At Christ Church last evening Rev. R. S. W. Howard preached an interesting sermon on the life of St. Luke, Oct. 18 he said was set apart in many of the churches as a day of commemoration of St. Luke. St. Luke was a physician of great repute in the ancient world and although not a Jew, was widely known among them. He is known as the great physician, even after he had left his practice to follow Christ. He wrote the Book of St. Luke and the Acts of the Apostles and his writings are looked
