Those few who read the Nationalist press, however, knew very well the danger. The alliance is real and has had the visible result that Mr. Borden must at once pay the price by including three bitter anti-British Nationalists in his cabinet. Everybody must now know what the alliance means.

Messrs, Monk, Pelletier and Nante are leaders of the Nationalist movement, men opposed to all forms of assistance to the mother country. Their supporters in the press and platform ralled at the "British-born" as the sciam of English slums, and branded them not merely as "British offscouring," but as Britons at all. They are eager to keep out of this country the British immigrant, making no secret of their view that if the Briton is kept out, the rapidly increasing French Trace will be able to possess or control the Dominion. They have ridden into power and into Mr. Borden's cabinet with this cry on a wave of anti-British sentiment which seized on a part of Quebec, For there the whole campaign was waged on the navy, not on the reciprocity issue.

Last week the Financial Post published than three million dollars greater, and the building permits of thirty cities for the month of August, the total showing a gain of 41.3 per cent over the same month a year ago. Gratifying as that table proved to be, the following tabular statement presenting the permits of 23 cities for the eight months of the year now expired is equally pleasing as an evidence of sustained and expanding development.

Ten of the cities, says the Post, unfortunately show a decline, and had they broken even instead of going back, the pet increase would have been more in excess of 31,000,000.

He is John Kleinhans, who has been divided by the state board of health to see that Kansas hotel patrons get what the law says they are emitted to when they pay their money. This includes sheets ninety-two inches long, free from germs. A hotelman at Goffs, who was found to be using short sheets, has been fined $25. There is only one thing to be said in favor of a short sheet—that it can't hold so many germs as a large one.

Paper Bag Cookery

These Cooking Bags are now available by mail or at The London Advertiser Office in quantity and at cost, as stated on coupon, which must be clipped out and presented or sent with order. A Paper Bag Cooking Coupon will be found in every issue of The London Advertiser as long as the bags are on sale.

Directions---How to Use Cooking Bags:

1. Select one that "fits" the food intended to be cooked. 2. Grease slightly the inside of the bag, except in the case of vegetables, or when water is to be added.

3. When the food has been prepared for the bag, place the same on the table, and lift the uppermost edge of the bag while you insert the contents.

4. Fold the mouth of the bag two or three times and fasten with a clip, or pins, or in any other way that will secure as nearly as possible a hermetical closing.

Should it ever happen that a bag leaks, simply transfer it with contents undisturbed to another bag.

5. The oven, any kind of which will do, should be kept clean, and if properly heated, as with the old style of cooking, results should satisfactorily follow. Average oven heat should be about 200 degrees. Fahr., and when the bag is put into the oven this heat should be reduced by about 30 degrees. In the case of ovens with solid shelves, a wire grid should be placed on the shelf with a space between and the bag with contents on the grid. Experience will soon teach the cook when the oven is hot enough without the use of a

6. The oven door will not require to be opened every now and then "to see how the roast is doing." The whole force of the heat is playing upon the bag and from within it cannot escape.

7. Exercise care in taking the bag out of the oven, and if gas is used the bag should be kept out of danger of contact with the flame.

A plate inserted under the bag will best remove it from

8. When taken out for use the bag should be ripped open from the top and the fragments thrown away.
