NUI LIKELY THAT SALARY LIMIT WILL BE CHANGED THIS SEASON

Smaller Clubs Will Oppose Any Attempt to Raise Limit Higher Than $1,200—Local Fans Regret Illness of Chaucer Elliott -Liable to Make St. Thomas Situation Wobbly.

It is altogether probable that the attempt to raise the salary limit of the Canadian League will meet with a great deal of opposition when it is brought up at the meeting to be held in Hamilton on Wednesday. smaller cities on the circuit are all against the move, while Hamilton, London and Ottawa are in favor of the raise.

However, it is not likely that anything will be done in the matter this year, and the $1,200 limit will be adhered to for the coming season. Whether it would be an advisable move or not is a matter hard to decide. Many of the managers are of the opinion that just as good players can be signed up under the lower limit than under a larger one, and then it is pointed out that the smaller cities would suffer if the limit was

Last season, not one of the clubs made an effort to keep under the limit, and the result was that Hamilton and London were about the only cities that were able to keep the pace.

There is no doubt that the splendid support given the local team was the means of helping many of the other teams out of the hole. In August the Berlin team played something ake twelve games in London, while Guelph and Brantford were also 'requent visitors.

This season, with all the clubs remaining within the salary limit, there should be no necessity for the smaller clubs having to play a large number of games in the one city order to bring them out even on the financial end. SYMPATHY FOR CHAUCER.

The local fans learn with a feeling deep regret of the illness of Chaucer Elliott, and the probability that he may have to lose his leg in order to recover. It is to be hoped that the nature of Chaucer's case in not as bad as at first stated. Chaucer is one of the most popular managers in the Canadian League and the local fans were always glad to welcome him to London dian League, and the local fans were always glad to welcome him to London. Last season he made many friends in this city, and the news of his illness has come as a shock.

A good ball player, a popular manager, and a gentleman at all times, is Chaucer Elliott, and there is no doubt but what he will be missed this season if his case is as serious as announced. It would be a big blow to the Canadian League to lose him now. Without him the St. Thomas situation would likely cause trouble, and the league might face the problem of placing a team somewhere else. Chaucer put St. Thomas on the baseball map last season and with him at the head of affairs this year the Railway City should have a great season in the Canadian League, and the team should prove a big success financially. His illness will likely prevent him from playing ball this summer, but it is to be hoped that it will not prevent him from managing the Saints. His side shot, and Eatons got the next two, friends in London are anxiously awaiting word that his case is not as serious as at first thought and are hoping he will have a speedy recovery.

I care will go over the salary limit of $1,200 per month in its enthusiasm to land the championship, President James Fitzgerald intends making the clubs produce signed affidavits from every player who signs a contract, to the effect that he is not receiving a cent more than the document calls for. No bonuses will be allowed, and the new head of the Canadian League Intends to impose a heavy fine on any club exceeding the limit as laid down for Class "C" clubs. With the extension of the Canadian Baseball League, President Fitzgorald is taking the above step to protect the charter clubs from the newer clubs who may let the salary limit slip in getting a winning team together. The league is now waiting on the Peterboro franchise owners. The latter have not yet organized, but are expected to do so very shortly and the annual meeting will be called just as soon as Peterboro swings into line. The schedule will then be presented for adoption, it being about the same length as last year as to the opening and closing dates. A meeting was called today for next Wednesday.

North Bay Game Ends in a Fight in Which Referee Took a Prominent Part.

TO WINNIPEG VICS. A SIX-TEAM PRO. HOCKEY LEAGUE

Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Toronto, Hamilton and London Proposed for an Intermediate Professional Hockey League for Next Season-Will Be on a Par With the N. HA.

From present prospects London will be on the professional hockey map with a vengeance next season. It is now proposed that this city put a team in a league composed of Detroit, Cleveland, Hamilton, Toronto and Buffalo. To the local hockey fans, the proposal looks like a good one. Such a league could not help but be a success if the teams were properly managed, and if the present plans of the promoters of the league are carried out there is every reason to believe that the teams will be well conducted and put on a basis that will not only assure the public good hockey, but will assure for the Alian Cup. The result was not a surprise to the fans in the city, as it was expected that the local team, would win out. The visitors put up a much better fight, however than was expected, and in the first half gave the Victorias a hard hattle. They expected, and in the first half gave the Victorias a hard battle. They had the score reading at the half-time 3 to 3, and appeared for the second period very confident of winning out. The local boys came back with one of their speed tornadoes, and in ten minutes ran in four goals. Each team utes ran in four goals. Each team what a specific should be in the thousands.

As far as the three Canadian cities are concerned, there will be little or no trouble. Toronto is crazy for a pro. league of some kind, and with the new arena, one of the best in the land, a pro. team would meet with success in that city right from the start. Hamilton has an arena in the course of concretion, and already the city is waking up with the hockey fever. By next winter, the Ambitious City will be hockey mad, and the game will receive strong support there.

score doubled and the Victorias on the long end of it. The redeeming feature of the eastern team's play was the way in which the men checked back in the first haif. The speed was too much for them in the last period, and they could not stand the pace.

WESTERN RULES 11850

that team will draw thousands.

The rink question is one that will have to be seriously considered, but the local fans are assured that if London is taken into the league that a new arena will be built. In this connection, several sites have been mentioned. One of the most favorable is that of the southeast corner of Tecumaeh Park. There is a big stretch of land here that would make an ideal spot for an arena without interfering with the park as a baseball diamond. The local Canadian League officials are interested in pro. hockey, and if the game is played here next winter it will be under the control of the London Baseball Club.

They have been approached in regard to the scheme to form an International League, and are strongly in favor of it.

The proposal will be gone into more fully after the baseball season has been well started on its way, as the organizing of the local Canadian League Club is taking all their attention just now. However, it is certain that something will be done to put London in the league.

be done to put London in the league. DETROIT AND CLEVELAND STRONG. Detroit and Cleveland are hockey crazy, and the success of the game is assured in both cities. In the winters of the past nothing more exciting than a basketball game or a checker match was ever pulled off in these cities, but now that hockey is stepped in the fans recognize a splendid substitute for baseball in the winter months, and the Canadian game is becoming more popular every season.

The game has attracted the attention of several of the big baseball magnates in the States, and it is stated that they are behind the plan to organize a league composed of the above-mentioned cities. The game will be put on the same basis as organized baseball. President McCaffery, of the Toronto Baseball Club, is working up the Toronto end of the matter, and in any case, Toronto will have a strong professional team there next season.

The plan to build an arena in London is being seriously discussed by local men, and if the Tecumseh Park site is chosen it is likely that the building will be erected in such a manner that one side of the roof will be used as a bleachers in the summer time. The game has attracted the attention of several of the big baseball magnates

London may yet figure in a world's championship hockey match, and per-naps some day the Stanley Cup may yet rest in the city on the Thames. There is no reason why Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec should "hog" the silverware.

TIGER RECRUITS IN ACTION AGAIN

Held a Good Work-Out on Saturday and Sunday and Show Up Well.

PITCHERS BURN 'EM OVER

A Bunch of Veterans Are Expected About the Middle of the Week, and Squad Will Soon Be Complete.

Monroe, La., March 10. - If the Tigers had to go all season with the infield that practiced here today, they would be better off than several of the clubs in the American League. At least, Manager Jennings said at the close of the afteron workout that he would not trade the combination that performed with so much ginger for the regular infield of some of his rivals, which is rather a nice compliment for the ambitious boys.

The weather man kindly consented to let the Tigers get in a full day's work to start the week, and they took advantage of the favor by doing about three days' oil. For the first time since Jennings has as been a manager there was Sunday-oing practice, and it was one of the hapst sessions that has been seen sinc the club's arrival in Monroe.

Hughie doesn't like to ask his men to on the Sabbath morning, preferring Harry Lecky, the Fast London work on the Sabbath morning, preferring to give those who wished to do so a chance to attend church service. However, the bad weather of last week made it necessary to take advantage of every minute of sunshine. Both morning and afternoon sessions were made up of batting practice, bunting drill, and the regular workout for the infielders.
