Redmond Satisfied With Home Rule Bill

In the British Commons yesterday, Sir E. Carson was followed by the Nationalist leader, Mr. John E. Redmond, who made a compromise speech, endorsing the home rule bill.

"We Nationalists of today are not separatists like the followers of Parnell," he said. "We are ready and willing to accept an Irish Parliament, subordinate to the British law-making body, which may prescribe proper safeguards for Irish legislation. The bill presented today by Premier Asquith is excellent."

Mr. Redmond thought the bill would be adequate to carry out the objects of its promoters. He unhesitatingly advised the forthcoming Nationalist convention to accept the bill.

John Redmond declared today that the financial provisions of the bill were satisfactory, and that there was no objection to the reduction of representation at Westminster proposed in the bill. He declared he would recommend that the Nationalist convention accept the measure.

"I thank God that I have lived to see this day," he exclaimed. "I believe the bill will pass, and that the work of Ireland under its provisions will remove the widespread misconception of the Irish attitude toward England and the suspicion of the loyalty of Ireland."

BEATTIE NESBITT UNDER ARREST AND WILL BE BROUGHT BACK

Former President of Wrecked Farmers' Bank Located After a Year's Chase, and Will Face Trial in Toronto on a Charge of Forgery.

Toronto, April 12.—William Beattie Nesbitt is in the hands of the Chicago police, and Detective Wallace, of the Toronto force, who has been in that city for several days, is arranging for extradition proceedings by which Nesbitt may be brought to Toronto to answer the charge of forgery. Details of the arrest, which was made yesterday, and communicated to Toronto last night, are very meagre, but it is understood that the celebrated doctor, who has been wandering between Detroit, Buffalo, and Chicago for many months, is really in the toils.

A Long Chase. The arrest is the culmination of a police chase for the erstwhile politician extending over several months. For some days past Detective Wallace has been in Chicago on the case, and the news of the arrest does not come to the police as a surprise. It is understood that for a month past the officers have been definitely tracing the movements of the fugitive, and have been right on his heels on his recent trip through the western and middle states.

According to the information in the hands of the police, a remarkable physical transformation has been wrought in the former president of the defunct Farmers' Bank. Dr. Nesbitt has lost little in weight, but has permitted his beard to grow to a luxuriant length, until he possesses the appearance of a Jewish rabbi. On his apprehension the police were informed that he stated he would fight extradition.

It is, however, significant that Mr. W. J. Boland, K. C., for many years the legal adviser of Dr. Nesbitt, has, it is said, been in Chicago for the past few days, and friends of the former politician state that the visit was the result of an understanding that Dr. Nesbitt would give himself up to justice on reaching the Illinois metropolis.

Charged With Forgery.

The charge upon which Dr. Beattie Nesbitt's extradition to Canada will be sought is one of forgery, and is based upon his alleged connection with advances made by the Farmers' Bank to the Keeley mine. When the bank suspended on Tuesday, Dec. 20, 1910, W. R. Travers, then general manager, was placed under police surveillance. As a result of what Travers told the day following his sentence the information was laid against Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, charging him with making false returns to the Government of the bank's financial position.

This was in January, 1911, when Nesbitt was making his home with his wife on their island in Muskoka. With two detectives, Inspector-Detective Walter Duncan went to Muskoka, but they were just a day too late. Nesbitt had taken a day's drive across the ice and had boarded the C. P. R. Soo train at Balta. He was traced to the Michigan side of the Soo.

Up to this time no charge of an extraditable character had been laid against Nesbitt, but later the scrutiny of the bank books and papers revealed, it is alleged, sufficient to warrant the police proceeding on a charge of forgery. A warrant was issued, followed by a circular giving a full description of Nesbitt, and also notice that a reward of $300 was offered.

Every British consul in the world received one of these.

ODDFELLOWS VISITED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, April 11.—Twenty-five members of Russell Lodge, No. 51, I. O. O. F., of Mitchell, visited Avon Lodge here last evening. The Stratford degree team under Captain W. D. McLennan initiated ten candidates.

"My Business is Unique"

WE are told by the old-time circus men and dime-museum operators that good freaks used to command large salaries. Barnum's "dog-faced boy" is said to have drawn $200.00 a week—you see he was the only dog-faced boy in the world—he was unique.

Most of us—even if we could be freaks—would prefer to make our livelihood some other way. And, anyway, the "freak" stunt is about played out—even in the circus business.

It is surprising to find an otherwise hard-headed business man who takes a strange, abnormal joy in posing as a freak. He doesn't call it that, of course. He doesn't even know he is posing. Ponderously in earnest, he would not dream of describing his business as "freakish"—but delights in saying it is "unique"—which really amounts to the same thing.

Some manufacturers "play freak" only when talking to an advertising man. They keep that word "unique" tucked back under the tongue all ready for use whenever anyone suggests that they should advertise. "Oh, my business is unique—it cannot be advertised successfully."

Haven't you often heard it? Have you ever said it yourself?

Let us not try to qualify for the dime museum. Let us get down to selling goods. And selling goods—no matter what the goods are—is easier if the goods are advertised.

You say your proposition is "different"?

Very well, advertise it in a "different" way.

An Actual Experience That Completely Routs The "Unique" Theory

They market a product which their sales manager was wont to refer to as "the hardest thing in the world to advertise." But a persistent advertising man kept hammering at the door of skepticism, and he finally agreed to "test out" an advertising campaign. A twelve months' trial was agreed upon. To-day, at the end of 18 months, this firm is advertising on a much larger scale. Direct orders for the "hard-to-advertise" line are coming in steadily, and the advertising is looked upon by that sales manager as an all-important factor in his business-building.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 608 Lumsden Building. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

SUDDEN DEATH OF AMERICAN GENERAL

A Son of Civil War Grant Succumbs to Heart Failure.

[Canadian Press.] New York, April 12.—General Frederick Dent Grant, commander of the department of the east, and son of the famous Civil War general, died suddenly at midnight at the Hotel Buckingham, where he had been secretly taken on Wednesday evening by his physicians. His presence in this city was not known until the news that he had been suddenly stricken was flashed to newspapers by the police. A policeman stationed near the hotel had called an ambulance at the request of an employee, who told him that General Grant was choking to death.

Although there had been rumors of General Grant's illness and reports that he would never again take up his duties on Governor's Island, today's news came as a distinct shock to the public. According to Dr. Robert Abbe and Dr. Edward B. Dettol, his physicians, the death of the general was caused by heart failure. He had been suffering for some time, they asserted in an official statement, from "diabetes and attendant digestive disturbances."

Recent reports that General Grant had been in a private pavilion in St. Luke's Hospital in this city suffering from a cancerous growth under the tongue, the same affection which caused the death of his distinguished father, were denied today by the hospital authorities. Dr. Abbe, who has been the general's family physician for many years, refused to discuss the subject.

Mrs. Grant was entirely alone with her husband when he died, except for a nurse.

CLOTHIER—SEARSON

A Charming Wedding Celebrated on Queen's Avenue.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John McMurphy, Queen's avenue, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when the latter's cousin, Miss Evelyn Margaret Clothier, became the bride of Mr. Richard Searson, of Watford. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. John and the man went down to the river Gibson Inkster, in front of a bank of ferns and Easter lilies. The bride looked most charming in her dress of cream silk, the corsage being trimmed with silver fringe and seed pearls, with veil caught with orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of cream roses and lily of the valley. After the ceremony, a sumptuous repast was partaken of in the dining-room, which was attractively decorated with red, white and blue.

The health of the bride and groom was drunk by the guests most enthusiastically.

The bride's travelling suit was a navy blue, with hat to match. After a honeymoon trip to points west, Mr. and Mrs. Searson will reside in Brooke.
