When Alderman McDonald introduced A notice of motion in the council to give Contractor W. J. Boss six months notice to terminate his garbage collection contract with the city, he started some-

Upon the suggestion and advice of Mayor Graham, argument on this notice of motion was postponed to a special meeting which was called last Thursday night. On the suggestion and advice of Mayor Graham the special meeting was adjourned without having disenssed the subject other than to refer the whole matter to the board of con-trol for a report. When some of the aldermen asked that the board report at the next meeting of the council, Mayor Graham explained that it would take some time to get the report ready. The aldermen bent on probing the Boss contract want some action taken before their terms expire and they want the six months notice to expire before

Needs Money Bylaw. Controller Percy Moore told the aldermen that it would take a money bylaw ratified by the people next January, and for an amount at least equal to $15,000 the city to collect the garbage. Mayor Graham has written to other cities for statistics on garbage collection but the aldermen say they don't want to know what other cities are doing. They urge that if Boss is making a profit the city can make one, and they are for public ownership to this extent. Ross Makes $2,500. According to a statement issued today it is said that Mr. Boss has prepared a report showing his income and expenses and by this statement he does not make more than $2,500 a year. The action taken by the council has caused several statements to be prepared including the one by Mr. Boss and another one by Walter C. Dodd, garbage superintendent Mr. Dodd's statement shows what the city pays for garbage collection.

Some Interesting Figures. Mr. Dodd's figures it is shown that the city expends about $46,000 in the garbage department. Of this amount the city pays to Mr. Boss the sum of $34,456. This latter amount is for 32 men and 32 horses furnished by Mr. Boss for collecting garbage. The city furnishes the carts, and has appropriated $500 for keeping the carts in repair. The and horses are supposed to work every day except Sunday and the price for one man and one horse as set forth in the contract is $3.50 per day. According to this contract price the 32 men and 32 horses ought to bring Mr. Boss $35,168 a year. He is supposed to make 25,000 calls a week.

Pays Men $20,096, Of the full amount paid Mr. Boss for his year's work the sum of $20,096 goes to his employees, the 32 men, who draw Continued on Page : leven.

FROM CALIFORNIA

Liner Ashore Off British Coast —All Saved by Steamer and Destroyers.

[Canadian Press.] London, June 29.—The 1,016 passengers on board the Anchor liner California, which went ashore last night on Tory Island during a dense fog, while on her way from New York to Moville and Glasgow were successfully transferred today to the Donaldson liner Cassandra and a small coasting steamer without loss of

The crews of several British torpedoboat destroyers assisted in the operation of transferring the passengers.

The California lies in a very precarious osition on the rocky coast, but it is exected that she will be floated as soon as ne weather sets in. Her crew connues on board, although the water has enetrated three of her holds.

London, June 29.—A wireless message the Malin Head station early today rom the Anchor Line steamer California, vhich is ashore on Tory Island, stated hat the vessel struck at 9:20 o'clock last light in a dense fog. In response to her istress calls, the steamer Cassandra and hree torpedo-boat destroyers rushed to ier aid.

The Cassandra and the destroyers, the essage stated, experienced some difficuly in locating the California, owing to the og and treacherous nature of the coast. The destroyer Lynx was the first to arrive at the scene of the accident, and by he aid of a search light from the Lynx he Cassandra was enabled to approach he California. The 1,016 passengers on the California ommenced disembarking at daybreak, being taken aboard the Cassandra. The officers and crew of the California assisted by men from the three destroyers in the work of transferring passengers. The message stated that the wireless worked excellently, and from the moment of the impact the California was in S. LONDON PLAN AFFECTED constant communication with Cassandra. The message confirmed earlier reports that no loss of life had resulted from the accident, or in the transferring of the passengers to the Cassandra. THE ASSASSIN

Plot Which Cost Austrian Grand Duke and Wife Their Lives Believed To Have Been Carefully Laid.

[Canadian Press.]
Sarayevo, Bosnia, June 29.—Details were known today of the deaths of Archduke Ferdinand and his wife, who met their deaths at the hands of the young assassin, Gavrio Prinzip, while on an official visit to the Bosnian Capital. The bodies of the two victims were embalmed and placed in a catafalque in the chapel of the palace, where they were surrounded by a magnificent display of wreaths and other floral emblems from all parts of the country.

According to the semi-official report of the tragedy, at the time the fatal shots were fired Field Marshal Oskar Poiorek, governor of Bosnia, was seated in the archduke's motor car. Count Francis Von Harrach was standing on the footboard of farmer seems to have more than the the car, acting as a shield to the occupants, of whom he had smallest quantity left. New potatoes are much later this season than they generally are, according to the farmers.

None will be on the markets here this

The archduke was joking with the count about his precautions, when the reports of several shots rang out. The aim of the assassin was so true that each of the bullets inflicted a mortal wound. For an instant after the attack Field Marshal Poiorek thought the archduke and the duchess had escaped. Neither the archduke nor the duchess uttered a sound, but a moment afterward the blood spurted in great gushes from the victims' mouths and throats, and it was seen that they had been mortally wounded.

Lieutenant-Colonel Eriz Merizzi, ed by the newspapers in Belgrade, who had been wounded by the bomb and Bulgars throughout Servia and at the first attack, was today pro-nounced out of danger, while the in-the minds of the students and to inury sustained by Count Von Boos-Waldeck is said to be insignificant.
The Croatin students here today nade several attempts to punish the Serbs, but the troops were called in and maintained order.

Servian Students Arrested. Gabrinovics, it was learned today, had been expelled from Sarayevo two years ago, but had been recently permitted to return through the inter-vention of a Socialist member of the Bosnian Diet. Some Servian students They were arrested as accomplices the assassins.

Martial Law. Sarayevo, Bosnia, June 29.-Martial law was proclaimed today both in the city and the district of Sarayevo, in consequence of the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg. Carefully Planned London, June 29.-Every dispatch today from Sarayevo and brings additional evidence that the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg, was one of the most carefully planned crimes ever attempted and carried out against royal personages. Indications from the scene of the bloody tragedy show that it was engineered by persons possessing more mature organizing ability than that of the youthful assassins. It is generally thought in Austria and Hungary that the plotters had their head-quarters in Belgrade, the Servian capi-Servian hatred of Austrians, which has always been violent, has, it is pointed out, recently been foment-duce them to sacrifice their lives in the belief that they will go down to history as patriots.

Contrary Effect.

Yesterday's crime seems to have contrary effect to that desired by its authors, for even before the bodies of the murdered couple have been interred, the Austrian authorities already are contemplating severe measures against the Serbs among the inhabitants of Austria and Bosnia, and these are likely further to embitter here, when they heard the news of the assassination shouted: "Thank God we need not do it ourselves:" and Russia, the protector of all the Serbs. Archduke Francis Ferdinand it is asserted today, was well aware of the danger he was running during his tour of Bosnia, which he undertook as inspector-general of the forces of the empire, a title which had been conferred upon him last year by Emperor Francis Joseph. His chief task was to inspect the Austrian army, which has guarded the Servian frontier during the recent Balkan wars and prevent any encroachments by Servian troops.

Was Warned. The Servian minister at Vienna told Archduke Francis Ferdinand of the peril of his visit to Sarayevo at the present time, and implored him, even if he insisted on going there himself, at least to leave the duchess at home. When the Duchess of Hohenbergen was informed, however, of the dangerous nature of the ourney the archduke was about to take, she said her place was at her husband's

ALEXANDRA SCHOOL | ALL-NIGHT CHASE

Difficulty in Distributing 350 Man Wanted On Charge of Pupils to Other Schools a Serious Objection.

New Princess Avenue Building Expected to Care for Alexandra Pupils.

The discussion by the members of the board of education to establish industrial training exclusively at the Alexandra School, has stirred up considerable protest to the scheme. Some residents have gone so far as to register their protests with the board.

It is the idea of the board to have some 350 pupils attending the Alexandra School distributed to the Talbot Street, Rectory and the proposed new Princess Avenue Schools. Just how this will work out has not been predicted at the Rectory and Talbot Street Schools are being run to the fullest capacity at the present time and conditions at the Talbot Street School, especially, are said to be overcrowded.

Not For Manual Training.

The Alexandra School was built for manual training, and if the industrial courses are made permanent considerable expense would be incurred to make the building conform to the new work.

The industrial advisory committee now rents certain rooms in the school for the industrial work, and if the building is taken over by this committee, which has charge of all industrial work in the schools, it will have to go to the council and ask for $125,000 to buy the building.

May Abandon Riverview School.

If the plan for the Princess Avenue

School goes through and an industrial school is made of the Alexandra, some members of the board say the Continued on Page Eleven.
