

SIR ADAM BECK'S FUNERAL AT OLD HAMILTON CEMETERY AS SIR ADAM BECK IS BUREAU

Church, State, People, Pay Last
Homage To Great Canadian.

IMPRESSIVE SCENES

Special to The Advertiser.
By a Staff Reporter.
Hamilton, Aug. 18.—The body of Sir Adam Beck was borne to its place of last rest this afternoon. In a corner plot of Hamilton cemetery, beside the grave of the late Lady Lillian Beck, and beneath the shadow of a simple granite cross erected in her memory, the coffin was gently lowered as a silent crowd of thousands reverently looked on.

Exactly three hours after the plush-covered coffin which inclosed Sir Adam's body was placed aboard a special train at the London C.N.R. depot amid a vast throng of mourners, at 2:30 o'clock earth was three times sprinkled upon the casket as it sunk slowly beneath the surface of the ground at Hamilton cemetery, to reach its final position where rest and protection for a great Canadian will be found.

Historic Resting-Place.
The day's funeral services for Sir Adam Beck reached a climax of impressiveness at the age-old Hamilton cemetery, across from Dundurn Park, and overlooking an inlet of the Hamilton bay—all historic property—the body of one of the most inspiring characters of Canadian history is now interred. Brief and simple services marked the end of a life of public service, and the thousands who gathered to witness the funeral and the burial, the unprecedented copper shell which contained the coffin and Sir Adam's body disappeared from view.

Above the grave a canvas canopy gave shelter from a glaring sun. Carried by the hands of the city's finest, the coffin was borne from the road by the six active pallbearers and placed into a metallic case resting upon a mechanical frame which automatically lowered the remains.

Dean L. Norman Tucker of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, began the solemn words which were taken up later by Rev. David Williams, bishop of the diocese of Huron. Relatives of Sir Adam Beck stood behind, not more than ten feet from the grave, but in an inconspicuous section of the plot.

Tributes to Friends.
Ten minutes after Bishop Williams had concluded his prayer, during which time many passed beside the grave to drop the petals of a flower or to give a last look at the earth covered the grave to the level of the ground.
He lies in a separate plot beside his beloved wife, and the grave is high and striking in its simplicity. Simple, too, is the inscription on the base of the monument. Lillian O'Rourke, wife of Adam Beck.

Hamilton paid silent tribute as the funeral cortege, miles in length, wended its way from the station to the cemetery. Citizens lined the streets with bared and lowered heads. Their respect was expressed in more than 150 automobiles, carrying more than 200 mourners from London, wheeled from the station along Cannon street to Caroline, and thence to York street.

Sir Adam was always fortunate in commanding the admiration of his servants and that devotion expressed itself, powerfully yet touchingly, when Roy Beck, chauffeur, and Dan J. Simpson, trainer, remained guard over the casket to the end. The two men were the first to follow the coffin as it was carried from the hearse to the train, following them were Premier Ferguson and Hon. G. S. Henry. In the train en route to Hamilton they never left the coach in which the coffin of their late master rested, whilst the special funeral train sped toward Hamilton cemetery, where Sir Adam was buried beside his departed wife.

Hamilton Mourned.
Hamilton, the home of Lady Beck, did not fall behind London yesterday in paying its respects to Sir Adam Beck as the funeral cortege passed through the streets of the city and as the body of the late Sir Adam Beck was lowered into the grave. The city hydro-electric office was closed. A plain purple crepe hung on the door, whilst in one window, softly draped in royal purple, lay Sir Adam's photograph, that striking study which was taken of him a few short months ago, autographed and sent out to the several municipal hydro-electric commissions in the province.

Behind the photograph, yet lighting it with a subdued effect, the light of the light which Sir Adam had left behind him as a boon to Ontario and her people for the years to come.
One of the greatest crowds ever to assemble at Hamilton station buzzed with suppressed excitement as the engine, with seven coaches behind, paying its respects to Sir Adam Beck, at a moment, there was subdued murmuring. Little time was lost in carrying the hundreds of floral tributes to the casket.

Thousands Gather.
The coffin was carried from the train for a distance of fifty feet. It was then placed upon a bier and wheeled down the platform in an aisle of persons on both sides.
The funeral procession was two and a half miles in length. Thousands who had gathered about the train in anticipation of the funeral, passing through the center of the city, were disappointed when, at the last minute plans were changed. It was the original intention to have the procession pass directly along James street, but press of time necessitated the change of route.

Along James street a busy sweep of the waiting throngs as the slow-moving procession approached. The bells of Christ church cathedral, from which Lady Beck was buried four years ago, tolled out, and there followed solemn clangs from St. Mary's church and the city hall.
In the front of the last coach of

London Offered Fitting Tribute

"London's overwhelming tribute to Sir Adam," observed Philip Pocock to an Advertiser man on the funeral train en route to Hamilton yesterday afternoon, "proved the reality of the name he was known by. The People's Adam." "To my mind," said Mr. Pocock, "the tremendous crowds which filled St. Paul's cathedral and later lined the streets the entire way to the station and overflowed the platform there established the fact beyond a doubt that Sir Adam Beck was beloved by each and every citizen of London, and that in the real sense of the word he was a man of the people."

S. S. BOARD ADDS TRIBUTE TO BECK

Board Passes Unanimous Resolution Praising Great Statesman's Career.

The R. C. separate school board of London, at its regular meeting last night, passed unanimously the following resolution:

"Resolved, that this board hereby expresses its most profound regret at the death of Sir Adam Beck, K.B., LL.D., M.L.A., who had been for many years the chief amongst the outstanding citizens of London, and whose public and private efforts were directed with unflinching loyalty toward the betterment of his fellow-men and of the city of his adoption. His devotion to the cause, his keen business sense, and his astute grasp of the future made possible the disbursement of western Ontario, under municipal control, with the result that Ontario today is in advance of the world in the use of electrical energy for domestic and industrial purposes.

"As chairman of the Ontario power commission, as chairman of the London railway commission, as London's representative in the Ontario legislature, as mayor of the city, as the founder of the Beck system of wells, as Victoria hospital trustee, as head of the great humanitarian project, the Queen Alexandra sanatorium at Byron, of which he was the enthusiastic and constant supporter, and as a citizen of London, his life was a study in the highest respect of his fellow-citizens of the city of London, the cradle of his great endeavors and the only place that he ever made his home.

And he it further resolved, that this resolution be inscribed on the minutes of the board in great and large letters, and that a copy be presented to his daughter, Mrs. Strathmore Hay, to whom and to her relatives the board's sympathy is extended in their, and our, irreparable loss."

FORLINI INDICTED ON THEFT CHARGE
Arrested at Hamilton, Foreigner Faces Serious Situation.
Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Aug. 18.—With the indictment today of Romeo Forlini, alleged "fence" for a band of international bank thieves, who was arrested at Hamilton, Ont., secret service agents announced they had found $55,000 worth of Liberty bonds and 140,000 worth of Italian lire in a bank vault rented by Forlini. He was indicted on a charge of possessing stolen bonds.
Forlini was held in $40,000 bail here on the federal charge. Secret service agents said he was trying to dispose of $1,500,000 worth of stolen bonds in Hamilton. Most of the bonds were stolen in western and southwestern cities and towns.

INGERSOLL BELLS TOLL AS BECK TRAIN PASSES

Special to The Advertiser.
Ingersoll, Aug. 18.—Ingersoll paid a sincere tribute today to the memory of the late Sir Adam Beck. As the special train bearing the power knight's remains passed through Ingersoll the town bell was tolled, ringing out for a space of about five minutes. The public utilities commission was represented at the funeral service at London by Supt. Harold Hall.

The funeral train Sir Adam's body and a half miles in length. Thousands who had gathered about the train in anticipation of the funeral, passing through the center of the city, were disappointed when, at the last minute plans were changed. It was the original intention to have the procession pass directly along James street, but press of time necessitated the change of route.

Along James street a busy sweep of the waiting throngs as the slow-moving procession approached. The bells of Christ church cathedral, from which Lady Beck was buried four years ago, tolled out, and there followed solemn clangs from St. Mary's church and the city hall.
In the front of the last coach of the funeral train Sir Adam's body and a half miles in length. Thousands who had gathered about the train in anticipation of the funeral, passing through the center of the city, were disappointed when, at the last minute plans were changed. It was the original intention to have the procession pass directly along James street, but press of time necessitated the change of route.

Special Train Carries Hundreds To Graveside in Hamilton Cemetery.

MANY LONDONERS GO

Special to The Advertiser.
By a Staff Reporter.

Hamilton, Aug. 18.—London civic bodies were well represented amongst the 210 people who went to Hamilton for the funeral service at the graveside in Hamilton cemetery. The various representatives were as follows: City council Ald. Frank McKay, Edwin Smith, L. H. Douglass, M.D., James McCormick and Harry Bottrell, H. B. Ashplant, city auditor; Public Utilities commission, E. V. Buchanan, manager, A. O. Hunt, assistant manager, R. J. Webster, commissioner, (Philip Pocock and T. W. McFarland, other commissioners, attended in other capacities); Board of Education, S. F. Lawrance, chairman, trustees, Mrs. J. A. Hunt, London & Port Stanley Railway, J. E. Richards, manager and secretary, and Donald Wright, commissioner; London Health Association, Col. Ibbotson Leonard, D.S.O., vice-president, and Dr. F. H. Pratt, medical superintendent, Miss E. M. Forest, matron, and Miss M. Theodora, accountant, of Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, Byron; London Street Railway, Harry Tunstall, superintendent, and W. Parkinson, ticket agent; London Rotary Club, Herbert Spittal, president, and W. R. Venable and Dr. A. J. Grant, directors; Commercial Union, R. H. Dowler, president.

Other Londoners who went to Hamilton as passengers on the special funeral train were: Dr. J. Cameron Wilson, E. R. Dennis, J. I. A. Hunt, H. J. Childs, J. M. McEvoy, K.C., Victor Blackwell, E. Ruse, T. Hodgkinson and E. S. Little.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, premier of Ontario, who came to London for the funeral, was accompanied by the service there, was accompanied by all of the members of the provincial cabinet, the exception of Hon. Chas. McCrear, Hon. Forbes Goffrey, M. D., and Hon. Lincoln Goldie, all of whom are at present in England. The cabinet ministers who accompanied the premier, all acting as honorary pallbearers, were: Hon. W. F. Nickle, K.C., Hon. Geo. S. Henry, Hon. J. H. Martin, Hon. Leeming Carr, M.D., Hon. W. H. Price, Hon. James Lyons and Hon. J. R. Cooke, member of the hydro-electric commission, and Hon. J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: Mr. Arthur Meighen, K.C., leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and among those present, both at London and at Hamilton, were: J. H. Thompson, speaker of the legislature, and Dr. R. A. Pyne, a colleague of Sir Adam in the cabinet, and the federal cabinet were: