THE SPRINGBANK RAILWAY.

City Conneil Passes a By-law Ratifying Their Pro-posal—Not All of the Company's Wishes are Acceeded to-Altering Billiard Licenses.

The City Council held a special meeting last evening to put through the by-law, carrying into effect, so far as the city is concerned, the Springbank Electric Railway proposal. The company's manager, Mr. C. E. A. Carr, and Solicitor Ivey were present, and raised several objections to the city's proposal. City three or four days. The members present were the Mayor and Aldermen Taylor, Pritchard, J. Heaman, Skinner, O'Meara, Douglas, Carrothers, Cooper, Armstrong, Dreaney, Bennett, Parnell, McCallum, Nutkins, W. Heaman, City Solicitor Meredith and City Clerk

A letter was read from the Street could not accept the by-law relating to their entrance to Springbank Park. Clauses 7, 23 and 26 were not, and are not satisfactory, and they could not agree to the amendment of clause 31. With reference to employes, the letter stated that they must be similar to those in the city. While not acknowledging the right of the city to say what the fares should be, they would agree to a special fare for corporation laborers. The first three clauses mentioned were liability clauses. On clause 7, Manager Carr objected to the word "unnecessary" in the phrase "do no unnecessary damage" of the company's engineer, if done by the third instalment, thus losing only the steam roller last year was $333.83. The by-law, relating to the amending of the present system of taxation, was presented to the Council. The City Solicitor explained proposals of the by-law briefly. The first instalment of all taxes (except statute labor taxes) are payable on the 31st of July in each year. But if a person on or before July 31 paid first instalment of all taxes (except if a person on or before July 31 paid if a person on or before July 31 paid cent, but the grass had grown on the spot his first instalment he was entitled where the bricks were piled. An effort to wait until September to pay his will be made to locate the stolen material, to wait until September to pay his Railway Company stating that they second instalment and till the 30th of November to pay the third instalment. The taxes, instead of being divided into two instalments, were now divided into three instalments. The first instalment of taxes was to be one-third of the whole amount, as nearly as possible. For instance, taking a tax bill of $23, $7 must be paid in the first instalment and $8 in the next two instalments. It might be also that the first payment might be also that the first payment would be greater than the next two. Provisions was made that if the whole was paid before July 31, the ratepayer would have three per cent. rebate on the second instalment and five per cent. on the third instalment, in the laying of drains, etc., on the or an equality of four per cent. Ald. O'Meara objected, and the by law was laid over to the Council meeting next Monday night.

The billiard license by-law came up for a third reading. The by-law provides a reduction of license for first table to $30 instead of $40, and the second $10. Ald. Heaman said the loss would be a total of $365 in license fees. A number of amendments were offered, but the by-law went through.
