"She Does Not Knew Chicken from Turkey." Helene is the handsomest gin of her race, She's an elegant form and an exquisite face, And she dresses with perfectly consummate grace, But she doesn't know chicken from turkey; She knows many languages, living and dead; In science and fiction is very well read, But she cannot cook meat, and she cannot make bread, And she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She can play a "Fantasia" or "Nocturne" with skill; Can sing up to "B"—has a wonderful trill; Can write a good story or sonnet, but still She doesn't know chicken from turkey. She's been up the Tiber, the Rhine and the Nile, She's a painter in every nonular style.

She's a painter in every popular style--Can decorate china, a plaque or a tile, But she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

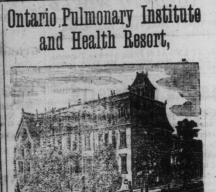

She's always self-satisfied, graceful and cool; She's always self-satisfied, graceful and cool; A critic, both just and correct as a rule; And knows every stitch of the Kensington school, But she doesn't know chicken from turkey. She can work a design by Lansing or Burt; But she cannot cut out for her children a skirt, Or make for her husband a well-fitting shirt— She doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She doesn't know cheken from tarkey. I'm willing a girl should read Latin and Greek; Should German and French and Italian speak; And be "up" in the latest esthetical freak, If she only knows chicken from turkey. I'd like her in music and song to take part; Read poetry, science and cultivate art, If husband and children were first to her heart, And if she knew chicken from turkey.

Knew barley from rice, knew a tart from a pie; A boil from a stew, a broil from a from a fry; And if she went into the market to buy, Knew very well chicken from turkey. For, to make a home happy, all knowledge must blend, Art, science and service their benefits lend; Then, ladies so clever and wise, condescend To know about chicken or turkey.

Now, here comes the moral of this little tale, Which showed that Helene did not know the word "fail," Which showed that Helene did not know the word "fail,"
For she went to where cookery books were for sale,
And made known her desire to the clerk. He.
From several volumes, immediately took
A copy of "Mrs. Clarke's Cookery Book,"
And said, "You'll soon know, if through this you will look, What to do with a chicken or turkey."
