One of the most successful sales of the season was that of Walter Wilson's, when J. F. Elliot sold on Thursday his entire stock of cattle and hogs, amounting to $2,730, in two hours and twenty minutes. Cows sold for $22.00 a head and yearlings brought over $50.00. It pays to keep the good stuff and have the right man sell it for you.

The monthly meeting of the Warwick Women's Institute was held in the Foresters' hall. Papers were read on the three L's—Life, Love and Laughter, the three essentials of the human race. The subject of Life was beautifully defined by Miss Gavigan. Self-control, optimism, and sympathy were the three keywords of the paper. Quoting from Browning, the speaker said:—
—One who never turns his back,
But marched breast forward,
Never doubtful, clouds would break,
Never dreamed, though right were worsted,
Wrong would triumph,
Held—we fall to rise—arc' baffled to fight better
—slept to wake.

Miss Annie Thomson spoke of love:—
Still we are saying, teach us how to pray,
O, teach us how to love, and then our prayer,
Through other lives will find its upward way,
As plants together seek and find sweet life and air.

Laughter, we were told by Miss Anna And is necessary to the health and happiness of both body and mind. Let us serve God and be cheerful for his honor and glory.

Trenouth's Chopping Mill Burned

About 10:30 Wednesday night fire was discovered in Trenouth & Co.'s chopping mill. The alarm was rung and the firemen were promptly on the spot, but, as the fire had made considerable headway before discovered, they had a stubborn fight in extinguishing the blaze. The building, being covered with sheet iron, while confining the fire made it somewhat difficult to get at. After an hour's work the blaze was extinguished, but the building and contents were a complete loss with the exception of the gasoline engine, which was in a lean-to and is not much damaged. The night was remarkably calm, not a breath of wind to blow sparks, and there was not at any time much danger of the fire spreading. The building was owned by Wm. Doan and was not insured. His loss will be about $400. The contents, consisting of a large quantity of oats, chop, shorts, etc., belonged to Mr. Trenouth. He places his loss at $2000, with $1000 insurance. The origin of the fire is not known.

The wedding march was played by a cousin of the bride, Miss Jennie Osborne, of Delaware. After the ceremony, the guests to the number of thirty, repaired to the dining-room where a dainty luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Davies left for London and other eastern points the same evening. The bride's travelling suit was of green broadcloth with hat to match.
