

HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE

Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Denison, Texas.—"After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's step-sister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get your medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

If you are suffering from any form of female ill, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and commence the treatment without delay.

NOTE AND COMMENT

On the British front in France there is a belief that the war will end this year. Recruiting must be continued, so that even if the war does not end this year it will be brought to a victorious conclusion next summer by Canada's help.

Calgary News Telegraph: Canada's new wealth from livestock and general farm production was between $700,000,000 and $800,000,000 last year, according to E. F. Hebden general manager of the Merchant's Bank of Canada. If this rate can be maintained for a few years, the Dominion will be able to meet its share of the war burden and still have a handsome surplus for development.

If our local grocers would let the people know about the prices of their goods through printer's ink, as the travelling grocers and foreign merchants do by flooding the country with price lists, catalogues, etc., there would not be so many duped farmers or complaining merchants. The advertisers who put their goods before the people and keep them there are the ones who sell their goods. They must say when too late, "I would have duplicated that bill of goods," but they should have let the farmer who sent away and bought advertised goods of a foreign merchant know it before he bought. That's the business of it.—Forest Standard.

"Carry your own lifeboat," is the motto of an Italian inventor, G. Piperno, who has visited England with what is probably the most ambitious life-saving appliance on record. When not in use the apparatus is packed into what looks like a man's suitcase, measuring 24 in. by 16 in. by 8 in. and weighing 20 pounds. When disaster is imminent the passenger brings the suitcase on deck, breaks the seal, and the apparatus opens out and becomes a small boat. If it is necessary to abandon the ship the passenger steps into his private boat, closes the outer cover, and launches his craft by hurling himself overboard, the apparatus rights itself in the water, the top cover is thrown open and the occupant finds himself sitting in an absolutely unsinkable ship.

A Legless Farmer

As an example of pluck and energy consider Myron L. Briggs, of Battle Creek, Michigan. Mr. Briggs, who has no legs, does practically every kind of farm work, and is prospering. Briggs is about forty-five years old, strong and healthy. He hitches up his three-horse team and cuts his own hay, wheat and oats, then goes out and cuts more for neighbors who have no binder. He can climb up a ladder over the high crossbeam into the haymow, and throw down or mow away hay almost as rapidly and as well as any able-bodied worker. He can hitch up his team and drive out into the field alone, and plough or harrow all day, using seats on each implement. He rides a two-horse cultivator, and cultivates corn and potatoes by a hand-stick attachment that operates two cultivator gangs. Mr. Briggs lost both legs in a street car accident sixteen years ago. For eighteen months he lay in a hospital hovering between life and death. Then he slowly recovered.

OLD DAYS ON THE FARM

Trusty Old Nag Versus Auto

It was usually in winter when the singing class were held and some of the boys had horses and cutters. It would have been hard to beat a trusty old nag and a comfortable cutter with "cumfy" robes, in the golden olden days, as the shortest way to a country girl's heart, and some years later in our civilization the good-old buggy in fall or summer was the king of siege guns in affairs of affection. Talk about autos you gay Lotharios of today! Mere speed and burning up roads shouldn't count with the right kind of a girl and I don't believe it does. Why, you've got to have your hand on the steering wheel and your eyes on the road and your voice is drowned in chugs and whirs and sputters. The fellow with the slow old nag—a long and shadowy road—has an incomparable advantage. He can even lay down the reins.

Don't tell me you fast-moving lovers of the twentieth century that you've out-distanced those singing school boys—a going down the primrose way—Lover's Lane, I mean. I won't believe it.

A Warrior of To-day

The methods of warfare have changed enormously in the past year. The sword, for example, has almost disappeared from war.

A story comes from the Argonne about a French chasseur who took a German officer prisoner. The chasseur, a boy, said to the officer: "Give up your sword!"

But the officer shook his head and answered: "I have no sword to give up. But won't my vitriol spray, my oil projector, or my gas-cylinder do as well?"

No better protection against worms can be got than Miller's Worm Powders. They consume worms and render the stomach and intestines untenable to them. They heal the surfaces that have become inflamed by the attacks of the parasites and serve to restore the strength of the child that has been undermined by the draught that the worms have made upon it, and that their operation is altogether health-giving.

A stand to hold ice cream cones erect, made of stiff paper, is the invention of a New York man.
Parchment manuscripts nearly 800 years old, from which the ink has faded from view, have been read by a Berlin scientist who photographed them with ultra-violet rays.
Holloway's Corn Cure takes the corn out by the roots. Try it and prove it.

Kept Too Busy

"Why don't you advertise?" asked the editor of the home paper. "Don't you believe in it?"

"I'm agin' advertisin'," replied the proprietor of the Haysville racket store.

"But why are you against it," asked the editor.

"It keeps a feller too darn busy," replied the proprietor. "Advertised in a newspaper one time about ten years ago and I never even got time 'to go fishin'."

From Here And There

Ashford: "How are the acoustic properties in that new church?"
Bassford: "Great! If you sit well back you can't hear a word of the sermon."

Russia maintains at Moscow an experiment station for the study of flax cultivation and manufacture.

Helmets for aviators have been invented with wireless receiving telephones built into the ear flaps.

According to a British scientist X-rays are the most extreme rays at the ultra-violet end of the spectrum.

Rubber-covered canvas disks that prevent slipping are attached to the soles of new shoes for very young children.

Experiments by German scientists have proved the truth of the old theory that tightening a man's belt lessens hunger.

A Cuban has invented a material made of palm fibre to be used as a substitute for cedar in cigar boxes.

Spring controlled arms that engage the sides of a pocket feature a new thief proof holder for pocketbooks.

According to a London chemist the surest way to determine the age of a painting is to analyze the pigments.

A sliding weight on the handle of a new ice pick does the work, the hand that holds it remaining stationary.

More than half of Sweden is covered by forests, only Finland having a greater proportionate area of timber.

It Makes New Friends Every Day.—Not a day goes by that Dr. Thomas Electric Oil does not widen the circle of its friends. Orders for it come from the most unlikely places in the west and far north, for its fame has travelled far. It deserves this attention, for no oil has done so much humanity. Its moderate cost makes it easy to get.

A milk bottle can be converted into a pitcher by the use of a recently patented handle and spring controlled cover that can be attached without the use of tools.

To lessen the humming of telephone wires fastened to buildings a new German system encloses them in cement cylinders that are softer on the inside than the outside.

A clock attachment for a new electric stove permits food to be placed on it at any time with the assurance that the heat will be turned on and off again when desired.

So successful have been the experiments of a Vienna botanist in the utilization of a nettle fiber that he predicts that Austria can become independent of foreign cotton.

A novelty for smokers is a receptacle for ashes in which they drop out of sight and which even prevents their odor or that of cigar stumps from permeating a room.

Earthquakes cause electrical waves and an Italian has invented apparatus which has registered them several minutes before seismographs have shown earth movements.

An Illinois inventor's pencil sharpener consists of a hollow shell carrying a knife blade over which a pencil is drawn, the debris being collected within the shell.

The Last Arithma Attack may really be the last one if prompt measures are taken. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy will safeguard you. It will penetrate to the smallest bronchial passage and bring about a healthy condition. It always relieves and its continued use often effects a permanent cure. Why not get this long-famous remedy to-day and commence its use? Inhaled as smoke or vapor it is equally effective.
