

which had been silenced last night fired again this morning, but were in a short time silenced a second time. The wall has not been damaged near as much this day as the last. Notwithstanding the enemy has fired a good deal at the cavaliers, that designed for two guns has been entirely finished and the guns mounted. We have been employed also in finishing the palisades before Cape Diamond, and continuing the traverses. This afternoon we removed three howitzers and mounted three cannon. The French have made no visible progress during these last twenty-four hours. Within that time one man has been killed and two wounded. A 13-inch mortar burst this day.

14th—E.—This morning the wind southerly and rain. At the break of day the enemy played ten guns from their different batteries, which were partly silenced by us at noon. From this time their fire has been very slack the whole day, and little or no damage has been done to the wall. The workmen have been employed making banquetts to the left face of La Glasière bastion and raising merlons to the four-gun cavalier. No apparent alteration in the enemy's works. No man killed or wounded these last twenty-four hours.
