

the huts remain empty until the grass appears on the upper mountains in the spring.

WOOD-GATHERERS.

The women of the house are said to earn the family living and do it at the needle's point, for the peasants of Appenzell and