HIS DICTIONARY CONTAINING 50,000 WORDS 50,000 WORDS

Every subscriber to Farm and Home will, on payment of the regular club price of 35 cents, be presented with a copy of this Dictionary, a work of extraordinary interest to all classes of progressive people. With the aid of this book anyone can easily secure 2 good sized club and thus obtain one or more of the many useful premiums offered. Club raisers should impress upon subscribers the munificence of this gift as detailed below and if they will but do so they will secure a subscription at nearly every home.

This Dictionary contains no less than 50,000 words which is all the average person has any use for. In quality it is unexcelled even by the great standard works of to-day. In quantity it is greater than any other abridged dictionary, by several thousand words. While it does not contain so many words, nor such exhaustive definitions as the larger dictionaries, it contains nearly every word in common usage, and fully answers the purpose of at least three out of every four people. A new device shows the plural forms of all the nouns. Another points out about 5000 especially difficult words; but the greatest of all achievements in modern discounts. tionary making is the addition of 25,300 words to this dictionary by means of a single page, called the "Columbian Word-Buildor."

A comparison with the leading publications of this kind is especially interesting, and shows that the Webster does not suffer, but on the contrary gives the biggest value of all, considering its cos*.

It is not only a dictionary, but a pronouncing and statistical gazetteer of the world, giving the correct spelling and pronunciation of the name of every country, state and province in the world, together with its area, population and capital; also a list of the large cities of the world. It also contains twelve departments, as follows: 1, Abbreviations; 2, Pronouncing Dictionary; 3, Proper Names; 4, Gezetteer of the World; 5, Large Cities; 6, Parliamentary Rules; 7, Business Instructor; 8, Social Etiquette; 9, Letter Writer; 10, Use of Capitals; 11

Punctuation; 12, Postal Guide. It contains 192 pages, handsomely bound in imitation leather covers, and is especially designed for pocket use. Be sure when sending subscriptions to specify those desiring the Dictionary as we do not send it unless ordered.

Special to Club Raisers. As an inducement for every agent or club raiser to send us a club of at least Five new subsoribers we have decided to renew this number, a copy of Wood's Complete Natural History, containing over 600 pages and 600 illustrations, or a handsome cloth-bound book which may be selected from 50 volumes, embracing the most noted works in English literature. A complete list of these books will be forwarded to any address on request. This offer which is an exceedingly liberal one is limited to October 1, 1900. No time however should be lost in going to work since every club of Five entitles the sender to one of these books in addition to the regular premium or cash commission. Thus may your spare moments be most profitably employed. Should you desire sample copies drop v., a postal and we will forward as many as you can use to advantage.
