In this Class there was a larger number of entries than at any previous Exhibition. Most of the cattle were very fine, thus showing the great improvement by the Imported Stock.

The sheep were quite inferior; not as good as last year, which speaks to every farmer that a better breed is required.

In this department there were not as many entries as last year, as several of the members did not attend. Perhaps they thought the day would be unfavorable, or their neighbor's articles were better than theirs, and therefore did not attend; but it is to be regretted that there should be any falling off, and more so on the day of the Exhibition, for it requires all to attend on that day, as it makes the Exhibition more interesting.

In this department most of the articles were good. Many of them were in advance of last year, or of any previous Exhibition.

The Cloth was made of the best materials, and neatly done.

The Butter was very nice indeed, which shows the interest taken by the ladies in their department.

As a whole the Exhibition was a success.

Respecting the crops we would beg to report:—Hay good—above an average. Wheat sown early was good, but later sown was a light crop. Barley a fair crop. Oats, better than last year. Indian Corn but little planted. Buckwheat a light yield in most places. Potatoes a light crop—very much injured by blight. Turnips a poor crop. Other roots a light yield. Apples in some orchards good, in other indifferent. Cherries a good yield. Gooseberries and Currants very much injured by worms, nearly stripped of their foliage in the early part of the season.

5th DECEMBER, 1871.

The following are the officers elected for the present year:—Pres., John Dakin; Vice-Pres., Benjamin Hardy; Sec'y., William Aymar; Directors, John Welsh, James H. Marshall, Robert J. Turnbull, William O'Dell, Charles T. Potter.

WM. AYMAR, Secretary.
