

Littoll's Living Age.

IN 1858 THE LIVING AGE entered upon its fortieth year, having met with signals of commendation and success.

A WEEKLY PUBLICATION, it gives fifty-two numbers of sixty-pages each, or more than

Three and a Quarter Thousand copies as an octavo page of reading matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering the great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a completeness nowhere else supplied.

The best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Serials and Short Stories, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical, and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature, and from the pens of the FOREMOST LIVING WRITERS.

The ablest and most cultivated intellects, in every Department of Literature, Science, Politics, and Art, find expression in it. Periodical Literature of Europe, and especially of Great Britain.

The Living Age, forming four large volumes a year, furnishes, from the great and generally inaccessible mass of this literature, the only compilation that will give the reader all, in satisfactory and COMPLETENESS with which it embraces whatsoever is of immediate interest, or of solid, permanent value.

It is therefore indispensable to every one who wishes to keep pace with the mental or intellectual progress of the time, or to entertain in himself or his family, general intelligence and literary taste.

OPINIONS.

"We have thought that it was impossible to improve upon the grand publication; yet it does seem to grow better each year. We regard it as the most valuable publication of the time."—Observer of New York, New York

"By reading it one can keep abreast of the current thought upon all literary and public matters."—New York Observer

"Such a publication exhausts our expectations. There is nothing else worthy in science, art, literature, biography, philosophy, or religion, that cannot be found in it. It contains nearly all the good literature of the time."—The Christianian, New York

"In reading its closely printed pages one is brought in contact with the men who are making opinion the rule of the world."—Episcopal Record, Paris

"Always new, always attractive, always exhibiting editorial wisdom, it is as essential as ever to every one desirous of keeping up with the current of English literature."—Episcopal Record, Paris

"It is edited with great skill and care, and its weekly appearance gives it certain advantages over monthly journals."—A. L. O. G. G. G.

"I have truthfully and repeatedly said that it never comes up to a valuable page."—New York Tribune

"At its publisher's price it is the cheapest reading matter in our power."—Hudson City

"It saves much labor for those people who have no time to go to the various reviews and magazines, but it will enable them to keep themselves well informed upon the questions of the day."—The Advance, Chicago

"It furnishes a complete compilation of an individual's opinions."—Chicago Tribune

"It enables its readers to keep fully abreast of the progress and literature of civilization."—The Fort Worth Herald, Fort Worth

"It is a weekly without a rival."—Montreal Star

"The Living Age is a weekly of the highest quality, and its publication is a great benefit to the cause of literature."—New York Tribune

"The Living Age is a weekly of the highest quality, and its publication is a great benefit to the cause of literature."—New York Tribune
