

Questions

2. Audio-Visual Systems (Division of Anglo-photo) did not on balance meet the NFB criteria as well as Visual Education Centre did. The contract was awarded to Visual Education Centre because: the firm specialized in audio-visual software; its personnel had a broad understanding of the relation of audio-visual concepts to educational requirements, and promotion; its financial resources were adequate; its management had a known record of accomplishment; the key personnel had a very high reputation in the education milieu not only in Canada but abroad, and an intimate knowledge of the Film Board's product; it had a more comprehensive line of audio-visual software which did not compete with NFB's.

Hon. Gérard Pelletier (Secretary of State):

I am informed by the National Film Board as follows: 1. All three distributors of audio-visual materials selected by the NFB for the sale of NFB products in Canada are Canadian controlled. NFB included in the contracts a clause to this effect, as follows: "The distributor warrants that at all times during this Agreement the outright ownership, or the absolute majority of the issued share-capital of the distributor will be held by Canadian citizens residing in Canada. In the event of the sale of the outright ownership or of the absolute majority of the issued share-capital of the distributor, the present Agreement will be subject to review by the Board and possible termination. The foregoing subject to all other terms and conditions of this Agreement".

2. To the best of the NFB's knowledge, Films Inc., of Willmette, Illinois, U.S.A., had and still holds a non-controlling interest in Visual Education Centre.

3. As stated in Question 2 above, Films Inc., has a non-controlling interest in Visual Education Centre. Details as to the nature of such an agreement are not available to the National Film Board.

4. Not applicable.
