WIDOW CHARGED WITH KILLING ADMIRAL

She stands until Friday next week at 3.30 o'clock in the morning, until which time you stand committed to the Plymouth County jail without bond."

No Bail Needed.
Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Jacobs, who had been summoned as witnesses at the inquest, which has now been closed, were in the court room at the time of the arraignment of the admiral's widow.

Baring Home Life.
For ten days, or since the authorities first learned of the presence of arsenic in the rear-admiral's stomach, the authorities have tried to ascertain where the poison was bought, and have made every effort to lay bare the home life of the admiral's family.

Both Married Before.

Both had been married before. The admiral's first wife was Mary Anne Varnum, whom he married at Draught in 1871, when he was a lieutenant in the navy. From his graduation at Annapolis until his retirement at the rank of rear admiral in 1905, the life of the naval officer was filled with honors, and he acquired a fortune.

Strange Experiments.
It was said that Ainsworth, Mrs. Eaton's first husband, renewed friendly relations with his family, and was an occasional visitor at the home. It was about this time that Mrs. Eaton said that her husband was much interested in drugs and their effects upon persons and devoted much of his time to strange experiments.

After their marriage the Eatons came Brookline. Soon afterwards the rear-admiral met with financial reverses and in his last days led an unpretentious life on a poultry farm in Norwell. His principal income was from his allowance as a retired naval officer, which amounted to $4000 a year. It is understood that his estate is represented largely by a life insurance policy for $6000.

"NEVER AGAIN," SAYS MAXINE ELLIOTT
Nat Goodwin's Former Wife Is Not Engaged to Tennis Player.

LONDON, March 20.—(Copyright).—"Never again," says Maxine Elliott, Nat Goodwin's former wife, in a cablegram from Cannes, Southern France, denying the rumour that she is married to Anthony F. Wilding, the international tennis champion. She adds: "I am not engaged and never intend to be."

Mr. Wilding also denies that Ralph E. junior, did not always agree, it was said.

MOTHER CHARGES TEACHER WITH CRUELTY

son attempted to take her there. In doing this a struggle ensued, accompanied by screaming on the girl's part, and it was this her sister Lizzie had witnessed.

Struck the Teacher.
Miss Richardson was still bending over the pupil and was not aware of the woman's presence when Mrs. Brymer came up from behind and hit her a blow on the jaw, quickly following it up with several more blows on the face.

It is not likely that the case will be heard on Thursday owing to delicate state of Mrs. Brymer, who has been told by her doctor that it would be impossible for her to attend court for several weeks' time.

HON. J. D. HAZEN TO WASHINGTON.

OTTAWA, March 20.—(Special).—Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, has gone to Washington, D.C., in connection with the pelagic sealing treaty, which may again be laid before the senate for ratification at the present special session of that body. It is anticipated that a great deal of executive work such as ratification of treaties will be put thru by the senate before the extra session of congress on April 7.

OPEN-AIR SHELTERS IN THE PLAYGROUNDS

Management Committee Will Deal With Suggestion of Dr. Noble.

Dr. Noble at the meeting of the board of education last night proposed that $10,000 should be expended for the erection of open air shelters in playgrounds. Trustee Brown told the board that Toronto was leading all the other cities of Canada in providing school playgrounds.

Dr. Noble's proposition was referred to the management committee. Trustee Fairbairn advised the board not to discuss the question of a directorship for the schools until an official statement had been received from Hon. Dr. Pyne with respect to legislation on the subject promised for this session.

It was decided to open a half day class

F. TOSSELL HONORED BY HIS ASSOCIATES

Popular Employee of Robert Simpson Company Got Well-Filled Purse.

Recently Mr. F. Tossell, of the office staff of the Robert Simpson Company, resigned his position to accept an office position in Edmonton, Alberta. On Wednesday evening Mr. Tossell, who was very popular with his associate workers in the offices of the big store, received from the managers, assistant managers and others of the office staff a most hearty expression of their good wishes and a gift of a purse of gold, at an informal gathering in the offices for that purpose.
