

ART. VIII.—DUTIES OF VICE-PRESIDENTS.

The Vice-Presidents, according to their seniority, shall, in absence of the President, preside at meetings and otherwise fulfil the duties appertaining to the office of President.

ART. IX.—DUTIES OF SEC.-TREAS.

It shall be the duty of the Secretary-Treasurer to keep the minutes of each meeting, have charge of the books of record and other documents belonging to the Association; to issue the certificates of membership, keeping a register of the same; notify members of the time and place of meetings, and have charge of all moneys or other property of the Association, and disburse the same. He shall also report to the annual meeting the number of members and the financial position of the Association.

The remuneration of the Secretary-Treasurer shall be in the hands of the executive committee, and shall be a first charge against the funds of the Association after payment of the ordinary running expenses.

ART. X.—DUTIES OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

It shall be the duty of the Executive Com-