Hamilton, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—What open hostilities were unable to effect in the way of solving the crossing problem of the Hamilton Radial Railway, G. T. R. Manager Hays and Messrs. Leather and Turner of the Hamilton Electric line have now accomplished by a friendly conference, by the bargain struck the Grand Trunk Railway yields the crossing at Burlington (the only obstacle to the Radial's run to Oakville) in return for the abatement of the level crossing over the G. T. R. main line, along the Sherman-avenue and over the H. & N. W. division, near the Beach. The new route proposed for the Radial is to run north from Wilson-street, on the G. T. R. main line, to a northwesterly direction through a subway under the G. T. R. main line, then along the Sherman-avenue and over the H. & N. W. division, near the Beach. THE PURE FOOD SHOW.

Successful Opening of a Very Interesting Exhibition in the Caledonian.

Those who frequented the Caledonian Rink last winter and rooted frantically at a hockey match or glided about on the ice to the strains of music would have difficulty in recognizing the place today. Science, in its inexorable march, respects nothing. The people have to be taught, no matter at what cost, and a skating rink more or less counts for nothing.

Wonderful Transformation.

So science, in the shape of the Pure Food Exhibition, has taken possession of the Caledonian Skating Rink and so transformed it that it is a place of light, music and artistic decoration. The bare brown wood and rafters of the roof have disappeared and in their place is a stretch of red, white and blue, which, by the aid of the electric lights, throw the great shadows of the galleries are completely transformed. The brown railing and posts being traced with lines of twisted building, woven around in serpentine coils of red, white and blue, to the main body of the building, all characteristics of a skating rink have disappeared, and the great vacant space that was formerly occupied by the rink is now a place of light, music and artistic decoration.
