MINING BROKER'S LONG TRIP

Mr. J. Hugo Ross Has Returned From the British Columbia Mining Districts.

BOUNDARY DISTRICT VERY ACTIVE.

Thinks Those Who Have Invested Money in the Western Mines Will Eventually Profit.

Mr. J. Hugo Ross of the well-known firm of Fox & Ross, mining brokers, Toronto, has just returned from a two-month trip through the Stickeen, Boundary, Camp McKinnon, Lillooet, Texada Island and Republic mining camps, where he has been in the interests of his firm and their clients.

He reports increased activity in the Boundary District and now, that the C.P.R. have their various spur lines graded into the principal mining camps, believes that shipping will be commenced within the next month or so, and by that time that the vast resources as well as the richness of this district will be shown fully to the various eastern investors.

All Baiting Towns.

Columbia, Grand Forks, Greenwood, as well as Phoenix, are all bustling towns and will no doubt, in the spring, benefit considerably from the construction of the two smelters in the neighborhood of these places.

Mr. Ross claims the prestige of being the first Toronto broker to visit the Republic Camp and express himself as being greatly pleased with the condition of the Republic mine, which is under good management, and, as soon as the new mill is completed, will no doubt show greater results than in the past.

The Jim Blaine mine, adjoining the Republic, undoubtedly has its lead, this being conceded by the various prominent mining men in the camp, and shareholders in this property need have no fear but that their interests will be well guarded under the new management.

Some Promising Properties.

Republic Camp has many other promising properties, amongst which may be mentioned the famous Mountain Lion, which is indeed a second Republic, and will be heard of within the next few months.

There are a great many other promising claims here, with development work, will show good results. However, shareholders in these properties must remember that it takes time to develop a mine and, if they only exercise a little patience, Mr. Ross thinks, they will be amply rewarded in the near future.

It is to be regretted that, on account of the labor troubles, the Stickeen has been closed down, with the exception of one of two properties, all summer. However, I understand from press despatches that a settlement is in progress and I will most certainly be delighted to hear that such is the case and this promising district in full swing again.

The Rambler-Cariboo.

I had pleasure in making an extensive examination of the Rambler-Cariboo, which is indeed a great property and one which will, in the near future, make a close run for the supremacy of this district.

The property is, at the present time, paying a cent per share a month and, at present figures, should be a first-class investment.

Camp McKinnon is undoubtedly the greatest free-milling camp in British Columbia and will fully demonstrate this before next summer by that time, there will undoubtedly be several more stamp mills in the camp. At the present time Cariboo, Granite and Banner 5 and I understand the Lemon has 50 on the way.

While in the vicinity of the Jim Blaine mine, which is looking up extremely well.

Off the 75-ft. cross-cut they have drifted on the vein, encountering a nice body of ore similar to the Cariboo and Waterloo, which carries very fair values and may be said to be in the line of a first-class property.

It is estimated that there are about one million dollars' worth of low-grade ore in sight in this property, so that shareholders need not be frightened, but that later they will receive good profits by holding this stock and awaiting developments.

In the Lillooet District.

I also visited the Apple and Whale, situated on Cayoosh Creek, Lillooet District, now owned by the Toronto & Lillooet Gold Reef Company and which is about the largest surface showing of ore which I have yet seen. The company are now putting a granite plant, which I think will demonstrate this district is all right and destined to become prominent at an early date.

The Golden Cane property, machinery and other assets are also owned by the syndicate. However, at the present time, it is not deemed advisable to work this property, but later on this may be changed.

While in Vancouver I thought it advisable to visit Texada Island, on which the Van Anda property is situated, and later on this will be a great copper district.

Van Anda city is a stirring little town, being principally in the hands of the Van Anda Company, which has its own smelter, saw mill, general store, hotel, etc., and is quite an ideal colony.

On the Copper Queen, between the 500 and 200 foot level are several small veins of good looking body of copper ore, which, I understand, runs about $40 to the ton, and at the 400 foot level, a good cross-cut and upraise to connect with this body, which, I presume, they will most certainly catch. The Copper Queen is looking very well and is shipping steadily to the smelter.

On the Cornell, the other property owned by the company, they have encountered some very rich ore, and are also shipping.

In all there must be about 200 men employed for this company, which is showing great activity, and certainly the present manager, Mr. H. W. Treat, is doing all in his power to ensure success for the company, and certainly deserves credit for the able manner in which he is handling his affairs.

Most Enjoyable Trip.

In conclusion I may say that I have enjoyed this trip as never before, and have been through the mining districts off and on for the last four years. How astonished I must say I was quite astonished at the progress since visiting the country a year ago, and the various eastern people who have invested money in the west will have time and patience. I believe they will in the near future be amply repaid.

However, it must be remembered that mining is a slow and tedious process, and that it takes time and money to develop properties to a dividend-paying stage.

Of course the recent financial trouble, as well as the recent financial war, have to a certain extent, detracted investors, but I believe that later on the market will be more active than at present and those who purchase now at present low prices will undoubtedly reap fair profits when the market is in a more settled stage.

Patriotic There, Too.

I may say that the west as patriotic as the east in their endeavor to enlist in the services of the country. There is hardly a mining camp which is not interested considerably in the news from the trans-continental, any fresh bulletins being sought for. An intense enthusiasm reigns all over the country regarding the forming of further contingents, and the west can be relied upon to send its full share of volunteers if required.

Heard at Lunch.

"But Brown, see here, weren't you a great sufferer from dyspepsia and indigestion?" "I should say I was," replied Brown, with a happy chuckle, "I often wished that I were dead, it seemed to me that any food, however plain and wholesome, that I put in my stomach, lay there like so many cold, hard stones. Then fermentation would set in, and sour liquids, whatever they are, would rise up in my throat and fairly choke me with their scalding. I finally got so that I dreaded meal times, and a dull, chronic pain was always present in my abdomen, as though a stick, sharpened at both ends, were keeping the sides of it apart."

"Well, how did you get rid of your disorder?" "I, myself, am troubled with indigestion, and I am afraid that the stuff the doctor prescribed isn't doing me much good." "Hutch, old man, simply Hutch, the greatest and most convenient cure ever put within the reach of suffering humanity. The directions say that 'one Hutch gives instant relief,' and that's the way I found it. I am now free from any trace of indigestion, always carry my Hutch with me, and I'm now ready for my luncheon—Try Hutch, old man."
