LONDON, Jan. 16 .- Sunday has give a welcome respite from strenuou opportunity for calm reflection ove the prospects of both parties striving to gain control of the government.

The greatest animation prevailed to day at the rendezvous of politicians an Saturday's results were discusse from all possible view points. Although both sides preserve an air of confi dence, it was evident the Conserva tives have at least abandoned hop that the party will form the next gov ernment. The utmost they dare exped is Liberal majority will be so reduced in next parliament as to place the Liberals at the mercy of the Nationalists

Mr. Balfour, leader of the oppositio in the house of commons, in a speec some days ago, said the great politi cal issues now in question would no be settled by one general election, and perhaps not by two. Clearly the ex premier accurately measured the situa tion, and the hopes of tariff reformer must now be centred upon some futur

THE GREAT STRUGGLE

The political struggle now on in Britain is both the greatest and the fiercest in her history.

Primarily it is a direct and bitter fight of democracy against aristocracy. That is the great fight, and democracy will win. The bulk of Canadians are with the side of democracy.

The Liberals have kept the fight to this main constitutional issue. It overshadowed naval insecurity, tariff reform, home rule for Ireland. The Conservatives made a mistake in rejecting the budget. Time is on the side of tariff reform, but it is not on the side of aristocratic gov-

His Pro-Boer Sympathies Got Him Into Disfavor at Grimsby After Sensational Address.

LONDON, Jan. 16.-The most exciting scene of the campaign occurred at Grimsby Saturday, where a menacing growd threatened David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, compelling him to flee from a hall where he had been speaking, under police protection, much as he was driven from a pro-Boer meeting at Birmingham during the South African war, when he escaped in a policeman's uniform.

Part of the provocation for the hostility shown toward him was caused by the chancellor's unusual course in addressing the voters on polling day, which has never obtained before in England, and which is considered by many unconstitutional.

The chancellor's speech included a prediction of disaster to the German CUSTOMS CERTIFICATES fleet if it fought the British.

Referring to the invincibility of the British navy, he declared: "If the German fleet in a moment of madness ever attacked Great Britain, it would be at the bottom of the German ocean in a few hours." A big crowd waited outside the hall Country of Origin of Each Must Be and when the chancellor appeared.

The chancellor retreated within the building and a cordon of police was drawn up to keep back the crowd.

The chief constable, with an escort of police, conducted Mr. Lloyd-George out of the back door, and the party retreated a quarter of a mile along the railway, where a small station was used as a refuge.
