OR a sum somewhere in the neighborhood of 2 cents you can do this. How little to give to be rid of the drudgery of washday and to have your clothes washed sweet and clean cleaner than they can be washed by hand!

No more the discomfort of a hot, steamy room. No more that rub, rub, rub. No more those red arms and hands. No more wear on delicate fabrics. No more of that for you or your laundress, if you have a

You know the drudgery of the old-fashioned wash-You know what it means to have a tired back and wet feet and a long, weary day. You know what washday fatigue means, How gladly you would give it up! And you can give it up. You can be forever rid of the tub and washboard, if you have a "Thor" Electric Washing Machine.

A Thor will do your washing quickly, silently, perfectly.

Just push the white button and the cylinder starts. It revolves first in one direction—then in the other. The clothes are lifted and dropped through the suds. No dirt can resist such action. The clothes are always washed thoroughly.

Push the black button and the machine stops. The operation Is just like that by which you turn your electric lights on and off.

Then a touch to a lever and the wringer starts, stops or runs

The Thor will operate from any electric lamp socket. Why not get all the use of the electric current? Let it wash and wring

A good-sized washing done in 60 minutes. Everything washed and wrung. Clothes ready for the line. All in an hour. Have you ever done a washing in an hour by the old way? Why continue to rub and wring for half a day or all day when the "Thor" will do the work for you in such a little while?

Only an hour for an average family washing-possibly two hours if your washing is extra large—and cleaner clothes. Just the push of a button to have that thresome work taken off your hands. Only that little effort to have the work done better than ISTEN its playing "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag and Smile, Smile, Smile." What can you do but smile? And in your mind's eye you see the marching columns, and in your ears is the drum of measured tread of marching feet. The music changes. Now the sweet, clear tones of the violin greet you. The tinkle, tinkle of the piano, and the thrump, thrump of the harp, playing soft and low, quiet the martial feelings raised by the music that has gone before. Now one is content to sit and dream and build castles in the air. And so the programme might continue without end, and be changed to fit one's mood, provided one had the records.

For the AMPHION plays all records faithfully and without hesiolder than I am. Housekeeping, with its many details, ages one quickly, if all the little 'short cuts' are not taken advantage of.

"One must be ever on the alert for new things that save steps

"It took a number of years of housekeeping to bring me to such a decision, and I would warn you that experience keeps a dear school. Make a vow, Mrs. Jones, when you start housekeeping, to use system in everything. Why, do you know, I have even systematized my shopping.

"Perhaps I should not say I, for it is really the 'D.A.' that systematizes my shopping.

"At any rate, it is one of the things I value most. Before I had it I either had to wait for 'C.O.D.' parcels, and in many cases scurry for change when the driver came, or I had to make a trip to the store in person and do my purchasing.

"Today I sit down at the phone and ring up the grocery section, or the meat section, or any section from which I wish something, and shop to my heart's content. At the end I say, 'Charge to my "D.A."' I know that those purchases will come as paid.

"At the end of every month a detailed statement is sent to me, which I keep on file. From time to time I go to this file and compare one month's expenditures with another; sometimes to see if I am keeping down expenses; sometimes to see if prices are descending or ascending.

"So you see it does my bookkeeping.

"During July and August I was at the cottage in Muskoka. While there I ordered my things through the mail, and had the satisfaction of having them come as paid, without the trouble of sending checks, money orders, or money in any shape or form. I get excellent interest on my deposit, too; better than expected. If ever you feel the need of a 'D.A.,' Mrs. Jones, just call at the 'D.A.,' Fourth Floor of the Main Store-
