Corn—There was a big, fine scalping market in corn. The early weakness was on huge receipts, lower cables, and dry, favorable weather. The bottom was reached when the market had dropped a cent, and there was a big rally on a report that Kansas and Missouri will not reach half a crop. I he weekly government report was bullish, saying much good weather was needed thruout September to mature the crop. Snow's report from central Iowa said corn was maturing slowly, and requires until October 1, without frost, to secure the average yield. Primary receipts were large. Valentine and Wrenn were the biggest buyers, the first-named taking a million bushels. Bartlett sold three-quarters of a million early. Visible increased 36,000. Stocks here decreased 64,000 for the week.

Oatts—The oat market was steady withn a small range. Some selling was credited to Armour.

Oatis—The oat market was steady within a small range. Some selling was credited to Armour.

Provisions—There was a little more snap to provisions than of late, owing to break in ranks of union workers. Shipments of meat and lard only half of a year ago.

Englis & Stoppani wired to J. L. Mitchell, 21 Melinda-street:

Wheat—Heavy world's shipments, particularly from Russia, lower cables and the accumulated receipts for three days, gave the market a weak start, prices losing about half a cent at the opening, to which another cent decline was added during the morning on free liquidation by scattered holders. There was about a cent recovery near the close on a report that Minneapolis cash wheat had advanced 2 cents, and some good buying being noted. Continental markets closed lower. The Russian government, which usually makes heavy loans on the wheat crop, is now using funds for war purposes, and the movement from that country may, therefore, be heavy for some time, altho their crop is somewhat smaller than a year ago. Pactific Coast is coming eastward in considerable quantity to supply the milling demand, in addition to the movement of spring wheat and northwestern country elevators show an increase of stocks over last year. Both the foreign and domestic supply for the present is sufficient to meet all demands, and is the depressing factor in a market without a leader on either side. A very conservative estimate of the domestic crop of marketable wheat would place the amount at not over 535,000,000 bushels, and with the shortage of 100,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels in foreign crops, suggests a very strong position for the cereal for the long pull, with to-day's break hardly warranted by legitimate conditions.

Corn—The market opened steady on low temperatures over the belt, but sold off in sympathy with the break in wheat and the heavy accumulation of receipts at primary points. Later crop reports from Iowa and other portions of the belt said corn was 80 per cent. in the boasting stage, with the nights cool and ma

Inin to sent as others lative possibilities.

Outs—The market was featureless, with an easier undertone, and sympathized closely with corn.

Provisions—Some selling by brokers thought to represent packers, and liquidation by outside holders, constituted the bulk of the business, and the undertone was easier.

LOCAL FRUIT MARKET.

Deliveries of fruit down at the foot of Scott-street on Tuesday were the heaviest of the season. Harry Dawson of the Dawson of the Dawson Commission Company estimated the deliveries at fully $5,000 packages, and all Canadian grown. This is a remarkable showing, and the fact that the bulk of the stock was disposed of at fairly satisfactory prices speaks well for the market. The bulk of the offerings, 7 carloads, consisted of melons, a moderate supply of tomatotes, pears, peaches and plums, and all Canadian fruits in season.

Tomatoes showed a tendency toward firmer prices, but melons sagged down to the lowest level. A few first-class Crawford lowest level. ADMITTED PAYING MONEY. But William Lambe Says It Was Not to Influence Votes.

Bracebridge, Sept. 6.—(Special.)—The protest against the return of A. A. Mahaffy, M.L.A. for the electorate district of Muskoka, opened in the courthouse here this morning before Chancellor Boyd and Justice Teetzel. E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., and Mr. Beaton appeared for the petitioners and G. T. Blackstock and O. M. Arnold for the respondent. There are 146 charges, and application was made this morning to add more to the number. The right to enter new charges was held in abeyance, as the respondent has had no opportunity of meeting them, and whether they will be admitted or not depends largely upon the progress made in the case.

The morning court was largely taken up in proving agency, the witnesses examined being Frank Hornsby, Barisman Blanchard, H. H. May, Huntsville; M. Right, Huntsville; Dr. Williams, T. E. Godson, Charles Lount and O. M. Arnold. Dr. Williams, who was placed in the witness box to establish agency, and who was charged with abetting an account of a patient named Earlsman Blanchard, asked to have the charge investigated, as he was anxious to attend to his practice. He swore that he had not abated the account. Blanchard swore that he paid it on Oct. 28. He had not been asked to vote for Mahaffy. Dr. Williams was not at his place in the summer of 1903, and he never saw Dr. Williams about getting a reduction of his account, The charge was dismissed.

Charge of Oliver.

In the afternoon several charges were taken up. Charge No. 1 was a charge that M. Oliver, a wiper in the Allandale G.T.R. engine shops, was remitted a portion of his account owed to William Mayhew, a storekeeper at Huntsville. Oliver stated that Mayhew had an account against him in which was incerporated accounts owed by his father and one or two others of the family. His wages were garnisheed, and he protested against the account as excessive. Before the election, Mayhew asked him if he would be present on election day. He said no, he was losing too much time. Mayhew said if he came up he would pay Oliver's expenses and take $10 off his account. He told Oliver not to say anything about it. On election day he returned to Huntsville, cast his vote without seeing Mayhew, then went to Mayhew's store and borrowed a dollar. This he paid back on April 17. On the day of the election he got a pass to Bracebridge in mistake for Huntsville, and had to pay his fare from Bracebridge to Huntsville. On July 6, about the time his garnishment came up in court, he, with his brother, went to Mayhew's store and asked what it meant. He said to Mayhew: "You are not taking off what my expenses were." He put his expenses at $10. Mayhew refused to acknowledge the debt, and on Oliver saying he promised him he would, Mayhew said: "Well, what about it, if I did say I would?"

Cross-examined by Mr. Blackstock, the witness said that he had a con-

Mr. Mayhew denied ever offering to reduce the account in consideration of his polling his vote for Mahaffy. The morning of the division court suit was the first he heard of it. He saw the two men hanging around his store door that morning, and when there were no customers in they went in, and Williams said: "What about that $10?" He replied: "What $10?" Oliver replied: "Five dollars fare and $5 loss of time." No such words as "What if I did" were uttered. The expression was "You're crazy." Oliver then came back, threw a slip of paper on the counter, and the two, without speaking, went out. Pre-Mayhew Denies Charge.
