DELMAS TO FIGHT TO LAST DITCH

Any Attempt to Send Harry Thaw to Mad House Will Be Combated to the End - His Wife and Mother Acquiesce in This Plan of Action.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Every day of the Thaw trial apparently takes District Attorney Jerome so much nearer to the foundation he is trying to lay for a request for a commission in lunacy as the first step in an attempt to send the slayer of Stanford White to Mattawan.

When court convenes on Monday the examination of Dr. B. D. Evans, the defense's principal expert, will be concluded and other medical men will be called for cross-examination in continuation of Mr. Jerome's attempt to show that Thaw's insanity was of such a nature as to be incurable, or at least of such a character as makes it unlikely that he has recovered from the mental derangement which caused him to commit homicide.

DENIES THAT HE STOLE IT

Prisoner Charged With Stealing Overcoat Says Owner Told Him To Sell It For Whiskey.

Oscar Bloom, a native of Norway, who was arrested by Sergt. Campbell, on suspicion of stealing an overcoat, the property of one, Anton Johnston, from his house, 18 North street, on February 22, denied the charge in the police court this morning.

A RECORD BREAKER FOR COLD WEATHER

Fort Fairfield Had It 54 Below Zero on Last Sunday Morning—A Very Cold Week.

St. John residents who have suffered from the cold this winter will doubtless feel warm and comfy when they learn that after all, this little burg by the sounding sea comes pretty near being the warmest spot in New Brunswick. If they are sceptical all they need to do is take a trip to the upper St. John river and swim in that region for a time.

A well known St. John man who has been in Fort Fairfield for the past ten days on business, returned home last night quite convinced that it is not necessary to go to the Yukon in order to dig up the coldest brand of weather on the continent.

According to his story, Commander Peary and other Arctic explorers have been wasting valuable time and money in searching for the North Pole in the orthodox place. This St. John man has located it in front of the Fort Fairfield post office. In support of this he says that on last Sunday morning the temperature in front of that building registered on a spirit thermometer 54 below zero. The temperature record from Saturday last to Wednesday, as he gives it, is as follows:

Saturday, 38 below zero at 6 p. m. Sunday, 54 below zero in the morning, moderating to 40 below during the afternoon. Monday, 38 below in the morning, moderating to 30 during the day. Tuesday, 35 below zero in the morning, rising to about zero at night. On Wednesday a wind squall arose, the thermometer dropped to 48 below zero, and the high wind intensified the sting of the cold.

Later OTTAWA, March 2.—(Special)—Premier Tweedie has been notified of his appointment to Lieutenant-Governorship of the Province of New Brunswick and will leave for home tonight. The order-in-council was passed this afternoon.

REPLIES TO MR. J. C. KENWORTHY

Rabbi Rabinowitz Makes Spirited Answer to Interview in Last Night's Times.

The interview in the Times last evening with John C. Kenworthy, Ph. D., has brought a spirited reply from Rabbi Rabinowitz. The latter in an interview with a representative of this paper this morning spoke as follows:—

"After reading the scathing denunciation of Jews given to the Times by one John C. Kenworthy, Ph. D., of England, I found it hard to decide whether he is an escaped lunatic or a man who has his own axe to grind. I will give him the benefit of the doubt and say that he is the former.

"I think that the best answer would be a sound thrashing, and had he attacked the Jews or the Italians, as he did the Jews, such words would have been administered to him.

"I am sure that the Jews, who are as honest as the angels, are as peace-loving as the doves, and as unacquainted with Jewish law and Jewish history, may be misled by the statement of this Unworthy or Kenworthy. I beg to make a brief statement regarding his allegations:—

"He says that the Rothschilds and the Berlins, Paris and New York, are the cause of all the late wars. Anyone taking the trouble to investigate will easily find the truth. The Rothschilds, and especially in modern times, have always been opposed to war and bloodshed.

"He says further that the Jews are the cause of the world's most congregational church in the world. Every synagogue is a place of prayer, and every Jew is a religious man.

"It is a consolation to notice that according to Mr. Kenworthy all bodies of socialism should also be swept out of the world, together with the Jews, and by the words 'out of the way' he means out of the world.

"He says that the Jews are the cause of the world's most congregational church in the world. Every synagogue is a place of prayer, and every Jew is a religious man.

The dog also followed to the cemetery and sat on the grave until a member of the family caught him and took him home.

THE BLUENOSE HAD HARD TIME

Capt. MacNamara Tells of the "Worst Trip He Has Ever Known."

The Parrboro schooner, Bluenose, Capt. G. I. MacNamara, before reported at Seal Cove, Grand Manan, arrived in port last night at 10 o'clock in tow of the tug Lord Wolsley. Captain MacNamara was interviewed this morning by a Times reporter, and related the following story:—

"I am thankful to be alive," said the captain. "Such suffering I never thought I could stand.

"We left New York on February 17th. For St. John, loaded with a cargo of fertilizer and naval stores. On February 21st, when the vessel was twenty-eight miles north east of Cape Cod, we encountered a north west gale of wind, heavy sea, and very weather. The vessel became unmanageable, being lee'd up in a frightful manner. The crew had been on deck for hours and were more or less frost-bitten and were no doubt saved from freezing to death by having their clothing lee'd up by the salt water spray from the heavy sea.

CARRIED CREWS TO A TERRIBLE DEATH

Two Trains In Head-on Collision—Engines Locked Together Rolled Down a Steep Embankment and Both the Engine Crews Were Killed.

WATERBURY, Conn., March 2.—With an impact of sufficient force to crush the ponderous locomotives together like paper, twist and bend them and topple them from the track down an embankment and into a ditch beside the track, two passenger trains, a regular and a special, met in head-on collision early today on the New York and Hartford railroad at Platt's Mills, about a mile and a half below this city, resulting in the death of four men, and serious, if not fatal, injuries to two more. A score of others are more or less seriously hurt. The dead were the crews of the engines. The regular was the midnight train which is due at 12:30, but which was behind time.

The special, however, is said to have passed that point and so met the regular at Platt's Mills. The engines crashed together and in that embrace rolled down the embankment, they carried down to death with them their crews. Two engineers and one of the firemen were killed from the wreckage, their bodies bruised and blackened by the fire from the wreck, while the body of the other fireman is still under the mass of twisted iron. The tenders of the locomotives did not leave the rails but were hurled backwards and into the coaches behind them. In the case of the special the coach was badly wrecked and almost all the occupants received some hurt. The baggage car of the regular was telescoped.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

THE WEATHER. That New Brunswick can be out-colded by either Maine or Manitoba in weather or any other things are better admitted by Mr. Hiram Hornbeam. Hiram was in the country market this morning, with fur coat and cap, and moccasins and over-socks. He listened attentively while a man who had been in northern Maine told about the mercury being 54 degrees below zero this week, and a man who had once been in Winnipeg told of seeing the thermometer register 66 below. "I callate," said Hiram, "there was pretty cold here—but you ought to be out in Hornbeam Settlement Monday morning. I didn't see no thermometer, but we had to warm the cows with hot drinks and hot blankets afore we could milk 'em, and every blessed hen laid from eggs. I got some of 'em right here in a basket." The man from Maine and the man who had been in Winnipeg butted up their coats, and went out in search of something of a warming character. Hiram turned down his fur collar, pulled up his cap, and beamed genially upon the habitues of the market.

AN AFFECTING SCENE

ST. GEORGE, March 2.—(Special by carrier pigeon)—The Shore Line train was given a great reception yesterday. News that it would positively arrive was circulated through the town and the entire population turned out to see the unusual spectacle. An address was presented to the train hands and when they departed the farewell was very affecting. Many wept, as the older members of the community can scarcely hope to live long enough to see them again. The supplies brought by the relief party were most acceptable, and greatly strengthened the general hope of holding out till spring.
