The Church of Jesus Christ was founded for the sole purpose of being helpful. Her membership is composed, not of those who are perfect, or make any claim to perfection, but rather of those who in weakness and humility recognize their dependence upon a source outside themselves for strength in time of temptation, for courage in the hour of despondency, for comfort in the hour of mourning, and release from the bondage of sins which beset us. To ALLELUIA, such this Church swings wide her doors and bids you welcome in the name of the Master Helper who bids us love and help one another. Come! I!

"Works Both Ways"

The getting of two distinct values when purchasing one article applies pretty generally in the field of merchandise. These times, extending even into liniments. While most articles of this nature are intended for external use only, a notable exception is the famous Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. Powerful enough for every requirement of outside application when needed for sprains, strains, muscular rheumatism, all aches, pains, and soreness, it is, in addition, a wonderfully effective preparation for internal use in the case of colds, coughs, sore throat, cramps, chills, etc., when necessary that its remarkable soothing and healing qualities go direct to the seat of an inward trouble. Thus, in Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, you get two in one—internal and external use—the double value liniment as it is known. Over 100 years of splendid service to humanity has made Dr. Abner Johnson's prescription a household word, and present day users speak of it as "an angel in disguise."

Tried the Mail Order System

The kick in a certain Scottish village was in urgent need of repair, and Sandy McNab, a very popular member, had been invited to collect subscriptions for the purpose. One day the minister met Sandy walking irresolutely along the road. The good man at once greeted the cause. "Man, Sandy," he said, earnestly, "I'm sorry to see ye in this state." "Ah, weel, it's for the good o' the cause," replied the delinquent, happily. "Ye see, minister, it's a' through these subscriptions. I've been down to the glen collectin' fun', an' at every house they made me hae a wee drappie." "Every house! But—but—surely, Sandy, there are some of the kirk members who are teetotalers?" "Aye, there are; but I wrote tae those."

The annual meeting of the Queen Square Methodist church Sunday school was held at the residence of the pastor, Rev. LUDGATE LAKE PROPERTY To the Editor of The Times-Star: Sir—I would like to say in answer to Commissioner Wignorn's reply to Pro Bono Publico that I am one who is interested in the property of Ludgate mentioned. I have a good share of taxes to pay and I must say that too much property is not a good thing to have just now, as from all appearances the assessments will use large figures to make the assessments for this year. The commissioners never had this property bought, as I understand it. If he will glance over the bargain made at the time he refers to he will remember that 33 (thirty-three) feet around the lake was mentioned, and when Mr. Murdoch staked it off he discovered it was not enough to cover the idea for which it was intended, and they wanted as much more of the ground for the price then mentioned and disagreement followed, and there the matter stands. Now, is it up to the commissioners to throw cold water on the property and discourage the owners and home-seekers who want to purchase the ground? And can he further explain why Ludgate would not develop into a beautiful and healthy suburban residential section, as the ground is high and commands the view of the country around. Moreover, I don't think there is any law in Canada at present, and I don't think there will be any legislation that will prevent landowners from disposing of their property. We are not holding this site for any particular individual. We want the wage-earners to provide themselves with homes and land enough to help solve the problem of the high cost of living, where they won't be squeezed into an 8 x 10 and at a moderate price. A Sharpening of Swords, Instead of Peace. A stiffening of the resolve to fight on to victory or the bitter end, would seem to be the chief result of President Wilson's efforts to hasten the end of the war in Europe. This conclusion is reached after reading the Entente Allies' reply to President Wilson's proposal for peace negotiations, although in some quarters it may be felt that there is still a loophole for a continuance of peace discussion. Lloyd George, the British Premier, supplements the stiffness of the Allies' answer by saying in his Guildhall speech that "The Allies are still convinced that even war is better than peace at the price of Prussian domination over Europe," and that before anyone can "attempt to rebuild the temple of peace, they must see that the foundations are solid." IN THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 20th, the leading article deals with the Entente Allies' response to President Wilson's request to the warring Powers, and in the form of quotations from statesmen and leading newspapers gives an all-sided presentation of public opinion on the subject. "The Digest" a First Aid to the Doubtful The world is now going through a period of momentous changes under conditions that tend almost invariably to make every man and woman a partizan on one side or the other in the great struggle being grimly fought out between autocratic and democratic ideals. With the destiny of our whole social and governmental system hanging in the balance we are so deafened by the clamor of the advocates of these two conflicting parties that we find it hard to know which to follow, or what are the actual rights and wrongs of the questions involved—Here THE LITERARY DIGEST comes to our aid with its cool and sane discussions of these world-shaking events along absolutely impartial lines, quoting from all sorts of periodicals without a shadow of bias. Reading it, we are enabled to recover our bearings, to judge values accurately, to rise above personal and political view-points, and to know things as they are.
