FATHER RYAN'S APPOINTMENT

In referring to the appointment of Rev. J. J. Ryan of St. Mary's, N. B., to Woodstock, as reported in Saturday's Times, the Fredericton Gleason says that Father Ryan made the announcement to his congregation on last Sunday. The Gleason says:

The announcement of Rev. Father Ryan's appointment came as a great surprise to his parishioners, the reverend father having only received word of his impending transfer to Woodstock on Saturday. Rev. Father Ryan's departure from St. Mary's will be deeply regretted by his parishioners as well as the large circle of friends he has made in this city and York county, where he is so well and favorably known. He is recognized as one of the most brilliant of the Catholic clergy in New Brunswick, and is extremely popular with the members of his parish. Since taking up his work as priest of St. Mary's parish, he has been an untiring worker, and great credit is due him for the ability he has displayed in carrying on the work of the church, aside from the executive ability that has been shown by Rev. Father Ryan in the management of the affairs of the parish, he is also recognized as an able preacher. He will probably have to take up his new duties at Woodstock within the course of a couple of weeks. His successor at St. Mary's has not been appointed.

The departure of Rev. Father Ryan means the removal of his mother to Woodstock. Her loss will be keenly felt in the parish of St. Mary's where she has been so prominent in the work of the church, rendering valuable assistance to her son.

"Selling Blue Sky"

"I have no patience with the men who try to sell me blue sky," said a large food product advertiser.

"I know when I buy newspaper advertising I buy something definite."

Manufacturers who seek definite facts about advertising are invited to address the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.

Newspapers have no "blue sky" to sell.

He said he recently received an additional strip and is now a full fledged corporal.

Gunner Thomas James told his mother he had received word that two of his cousins, John James and Fred Grenier, had been killed. He said that he had fought hard to avenge their death and would continue to do so. He promised to send her an unique souvenir in the form of a ring made out of a piece of German shell. With regard to himself, he was well and hoped for the best. He closed with a hope that the war would soon be over and that he would return safely to his loved ones.

NOVEMBER BRIDES

Girvan-Campbell

St. David's Presbyterian church was the scene of an interesting ceremony at four o'clock this afternoon when Frederick William Girvan, of the staff of the North American Life Insurance Company, was united in marriage to Miss Hazel St. Claire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Campbell, who reside in the city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. MacKeggin, minister of the church, with the full choir assisting in the musical portion of the service. The wedding march, as the bridal party entered and left the church, were played on the organ by Mrs. I. F. Archibald and during the service a quartette consisting of Miss Thompson, Mrs. Leggett, Mrs. G. W. Campbell, and Master Gordon Girvan, niece and nephew of the bridegroom, sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very lovely in a beautiful bridal gown of duchesse satin with Spanish lace and pearls and carried with wing cap, orange blossoms and pearl trimmings. She was attended by little Miss Lois Girvan and Master Gordon Girvan, niece and nephew of the bridegroom, as flower girl and page. The flower girl wore a dainty pink silk vest with white cap, orange blossoms and pearl trimmings. The page wore a Tweed suit of white corduroy with pink collar and cuffs. Between them they carried a large basket of pink and white flowers.

After the ceremony, a wedding luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents in Leinster street. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom were present. For the occasion the drawing rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and carnations. The bride carried a large basket of pink and white flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Girvan will leave on the Quebec express this evening for a wedding trip and on their return will reside at 265 Charlotte street. Both of the young people are very popular and the esteem in which they are held by many friends was shown in the great array of wedding presents which they received.

Bowen-Fisher

In the cathedral this morning, Rev. William Duke, celebrant at nuptial mass, united in marriage Miss Margaret Fisher and Harry Bowen. The bride, who was given away by her brother, William, looked charming in a costume of E. Jean blue, with blue velvet hat with old gold trimmings, and carrying a white prayer book. She was attended by Miss Mary McEwan, who wore a very pretty sand-colored suit, with black velvet hat and pink trimmings. Joseph Bowen, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, 2 Charlotte street. Mr. and Mrs. Bowen will reside in Duke street. The popular young people were the recipients of a large number of beautiful presents in silver, cut glass and furniture. Among them were a silver service from the firm of Scott Bros., where the bride was employed as stenographer, and a parlor chair from the members of the staff. The groom received a very pretty set of pictures from his fellow employees on the staff of the Union Club. The groom's present to the bride was a necklace, to the bridesmaid a pearl bracelet, and to the groomsmen a fountain pen.

Gray-Mahony

A wedding of popular interest will be solemnized this afternoon at 5:45 o'clock in Fortland Methodist church, when Rev. W. H. Barreclough, pastor of Centenary Methodist church, will unite in marriage Miss Sabra Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mahony, to W. George Gray, both of North End. The bride, who will be unattended, will wear a blue tailored costume with black velvet hat trimmed with black and gold. She will carry a handsome set of black fox furs, the gift of her father, and carry a sheaf bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The wedding march will be played by W. Stanley Fisher, and J. Herbert Crockett, E. J. Stetson and Joseph S. Gray will act as ushers. Mrs. Mahony, mother of the bride, will wear black silk, seal coat with black picture hat. The church will be decorated with palms and cut flowers. Many costly and valuable wedding remembrances have been received, including a check from the bride's parents, and a mahogany case of silver from W. J. Hamilton, brother-in-law of the groom. The groom's present to the bride was a cameo brooch set in gold. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Gray will leave on the Boston train on a honeymoon trip through New England cities to New York and other centres, and on their return will reside in Douglas avenue. Many friends, with whom they are particularly popular, will extend best wishes for happiness.
