

THE DOOM OF ATTILA.

(A. M. Belding.)

"What profit to my kingdom do you bring?"
Thus to a wise man spoke an ancient king,
In China, long before the Christian school
Proclaimed obedience to the Golden Rule.
"But why of profit speak?" the sage replied,
"When righteousness, O king, should be your guide?"
"This and benevolence I give to you
"As principles, and he who holds them true
"Shall reign in peace, beloved, his kingdom best;
"His people quick to do their lord's behest.
"But if the king seek profit there is strife,
"He lives who has the power to hold his life;
"Night rules, and murder justifies itself
"By what it brings in victory and pill.
"Choose then the better part, let righteousness
"Your reign distinguish and your people bless."

Time heaped the dust of centuries above
The tomb of king and counselor, but lo!
Remained the wise man's dream, while profit swayed
The counsels of the kingdoms men had made.
Then one came out of Nazareth, who cried:
"What shall it profit thee, O man of pride,
"To gain the world, if thou shouldst lose thy soul?"
Because their rulers he would not extol
They called him to the cross, and mocked him there,
Whose love forgave them, and whose fervent prayer
Was that the reign of love at last might come,
With peace and joy for every heart and home.

On sped the centuries, and man explored
New realms, but still the shadow of the sword
Attended his pathway; till Mohammed came,
The fighting kings of Europe challenged fame,
And even their whose banners bore the cross
Deemed war a virtue, and the gain or loss
On the sanguine field the highest test
Of fitness for the mansions of the blest.

But down the ages mild the clash of strife
Came still the query of the higher life—
What shall it profit thee? And lo! it still
Rang out the old command—Thou shalt not kill!
Along the paths of science nations drew
Together, and the bonds of kinship grew
America loomed up beyond the sea;
The bondmen loosed their shackles and were free;
The heart of man grew tender toward the weak;
And wise men from their lofty mountain peak
Beheld afar the shining hosts of Peace,
Triumphant marching to the world's release.

The dream! The dream! The vision fades again,
And woe and mothers weep above the slain;
The devil's lust for profit loosed the sword,
And laughed to scorn a nation's plighted word;
Laughed down the wind the rights of weaker states,
And fanned to fury all the ancient hates
That swayed the kingdoms for a thousand years,
And dragged earth with blood and bitter tears.

O Emperor! What shall it profit thee
To seek dominion over land and sea?
The fate of Attila, who bet to die,
And in the voiceless tomb unheeded lie—
The doom of ancient and of modern Hun,
In every age and land beneath the sun.
The arm of might may not for long prevail;
In vain the sword, the bomb, the iron hail—
For, though a nation perish in the fight,
They win at last who battle for the right.
Though millions die to gain a Kaiser's nod,
The dream persists, the vision is of God.

New Brunswickers Not Yet In France

That the New Brunswickers in the infantry battalion of the First Canadian Division, including the St. John men, did not go to France with the Canadian division but have been held at Tidworth training camp as a reserve for the non-Highlander portion of the 3rd brigade is indicated in William Blayney's weekly article in Canada, an illustrated English weekly, written on Feb. 9, two days after the Canadian forces are supposed to have left England.

The reinforcements of 500 men from Canada for Princess Patricia's Light Infantry have been attached to the 12th, which is Lieut. Col. H. F. McLeod's battalion, and includes all New Brunswick infantry soldiers.

This article also contains the interesting announcement that the Canadian division, which presumably has gone to the front, has been reduced to the strength of a British division, and that the junior major, assistant adjutant, signalling officer and transport officer on the strength of each battalion have been struck off the strength and added to the training depot at Tidworth.

ALLIES MAY ACT TOGETHER IN BLOCKADE MATTER

Almost coincident with the unofficial reports that Austria proposes to follow the example of her ally by making war on merchant ships in the Adriatic, came the announcement by Premier Asquith, in the British house of commons, that the much-discussed plan of Great Britain, though still tentative, was much broader in scope than had been previously suggested, in that it was a matter for the consideration of all the Allies, concerning which a joint note from the Allies might be sent to Germany.

The statement was likewise made in the house of commons that the British government might deem it necessary to alter its decision whereby cotton, up to the present, has not been classed as contraband.

Nervous Prostration and Heart Troubles.

Nervous Prostration, or Neurasthenia, is one of the worst forms of nerve trouble and brings about a general weakness of the whole nervous system. The symptoms presenting themselves are headache, a feeling of depression, disturbed and restless, unrefreshing sleep, often troubled with dreams, fright when in crowded places, dread of being alone, horror of society, faint at travelling, muscular weakness, sense of fatigue upon effort, etc.

When the nerves become affected in this way the heart generally becomes affected too.

All are curable if taken in time.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just what you require at this time. They strengthen the nerves and build up the whole system.

Mrs. John Hewson, Caledonia, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know the great benefit your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. I suffered for four years with heart trouble and nervous prostration. I was so bad I could not go up stairs without sitting down at the top before I could go to my room. I could not sleep nor could I eat on my left side, for it would seem as if my heart would stop. I thought my time had come. I was doctoring with the doctor, but nothing helped me. I took eight boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and am enjoying good health."

Price, 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Today and tomorrow are the closing days of the exhibit of patriotic pictures in the Art Club. Tea was served under the direction of Mrs. G. A. Kuhring and Mrs. H. A. Powell yesterday, while today the Loyalist Chapter, D. of E. will have charge.

Capt. W. H. Belyea, ex-mayor of New-castle, N. B., was honored by his fellow citizens there on Saturday night, when they presented a valuable gold watch and chain to him. He is going abroad with the 26th Battalion.

Every mother should realize that the skin of her baby is so tender that the secretions of the body often lead to rashes, eruptions, etc., all of which may be removed by Zam-Buk. Scores of restless, crying babies, upon examination are found to be suffering from some form of skin irritation or "heat." Don't let the little one suffer when Zam-Buk will cure!

Mrs. L. Hood, of 475 Alexander Avenue, Winnipeg, says: "Some nasty sores broke out around my baby's mouth, and despite all the preparations used, they refused to heal. I took him to St. Boniface hospital and he remained there for two weeks. At the end of that time he was no better and was again taken home. I was then advised to try Zam-Buk, and obtained a supply. The effect of the first few applications was very gratifying, and I continued with the use of the balm. A little perseverance resulted in a complete cure."

Zam-Buk cures eczema, rashes, ringworm, chapped hands, scurvy, heat rashes, cuts, burns, ulcers, discharging sores, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel
Like Lead or Badly
Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have headache, neuralgia, backache, kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clear. The moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then be active and normal. It is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who he believes have kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

Brunswick Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, yesterday afternoon voted $100 for the patriotic fund, $100 to be sent to Dr. Murray MacLaren for the benefit of friendless soldiers, and also organized a sewing circle to prepare a box of necessary articles to be sent for use in Dr. MacLaren's hospital.

The meeting was largely attended. The secretary read a letter from the Canadian Red Cross Society acknowledging the receipt of $100 from the chapter and stating that the donation had been used to purchase an operating table for the Duchess of Connaught's Canadian hospital.

The sewing circle was organized for the purpose of preparing a box of necessary articles for the hospital and will begin work at once. Mrs. Fred Lewis was selected as convener. The regent, Mrs. J. B. Travers, was elected councillor for the national executive.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Rose Drug Company for donating the profit in soda sales last Saturday.

ELECTION IS REFERRED TO IN COMMONS

Matter of Votes For Soldiers if There is Appeal to People--Some War Matters

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—The approach of an election seems to be felt at Ottawa, according to remarks from both sides of the house. The opinion was voiced yesterday by Liberal members that it should not be brought on during the war and Hon. Robert Rogers expressed a hope "that it would not be necessary" although it is known that he is hastening all his preparations for a general election.

A motion to provide that all soldiers at home or abroad should be allowed to vote, if there is an election, was referred to a special committee.

Hon. Charles Murphy was added to the committee to investigate the soldiers' boots, in place of Hon. Mr. Lemieux, who is ill.

Hon. George P. Graham questioned the government in regard to a despatch from England stating that wagons, harness, Ross rifles and other supplies had been abandoned at Salisbury Plain.

A resolution providing that the representation of P. E. I. in the house should not be reduced below six, the number fixed at Confederation, was voted down.

In reply to questions about war supplies Hon. Mr. Hughes informed the house that 62,388 rations had been bought at prices from $4.85 to $9 a dozen, 120 pairs of overcoats had been purchased for from $1.70 to $1.96 a pair and that the cost of rations in the Winnipeg barracks was given as 27.74 cents per day per man.

The announcement was made that F. P. Gattelus, general manager of the I. C. R., was naturalized as a British citizen on Feb. 23, 1912.

The prime minister replied that the Princess Patricia had been supplied with the British rifles because they had been brigaded with a British division. He also informed by the minister of militia that the long Ross rifle was found unsuitable for cavalry, not because of any defect therein, but because of the difficulty of handling it on horseback.

Sir Robert stated that the motor transports, he understood, had been subjected to very severe usage at Salisbury, and it was desirable that new motor transports should be sent to the front. He had no detailed information as to the transports, and did not know of alleged abandonment of wagons and harness.

Andrew Broder, M. P. for Dundas, intends to introduce a bill providing for the disenfranchisement of civil servants, not only in dominion voting, but as regards provincial and municipal elections. His bill is designed to eliminate politics from the civil service.

The minister of marine, in reply to Mr. Sinclair, said that six fisheries protection cruisers were active as conditions would permit, to prevent steam trawling in Canadian waters since 1914. The department has been in correspondence with the United States bureau of fisheries with a view to finalizing the effects of steam trawling would be completed. Pending the American report it would be inadvisable to consider the question of an international arrangement with regard to steam trawling.

The mayor said that it must be admitted the meeting was called for the purpose of receiving information and this information was not available.

He believed, however, that Commissioner Potts was entitled to the information and he must have it even if a special man had to be engaged.

Mr. Sharp said he would give another man every facility in going through the field books and assist him when necessary. The council adopted the report of the committee and adjourned until Thursday afternoon.

After the meeting Mayor Frink asked Stanley K. Smith, of The Telegraph staff, to undertake the work of compiling the information.

Veterans Have Poor Prospects.

Within the last few days the National League clubs have handed uncanceled releases to Reubach, Devore, R. Miller, Bill Sweeney, Leach, Stack and C. Smith.

A year ago all of these men were drawing liberal salaries and seemed sure of re-engagement. But things are different now. The club owners in both major leagues are compelled to reduce expenses and many high salaried veterans are nearing the end of the rope. Young men who will take small salaries for the chance to distinguish themselves on the ball field will soon be crowding the old fellows to the wall. Furthermore, the vets probably will find it hard to obtain berths in the minor leagues, which are cutting pay rolls to the bone.

"To clear cold out of your nostrils and to be able in a minute or two to breathe freely again, I can't tell of anything being better than Catarhozone," writes J. H. Galvin, of Port Limerick, C. R. "For any sort of Catarrh, throat trouble, Bronchitis, Catarhozone is a specific. I know scores of people who use Catarhozone and all speak wonders of its merits."
