RAINBOW IN TRIM FOR MANY WORK

Cruiser for Canada Completes Refitting and Tests Million and Half of Dollars Required for Church in British Columbia in Next Fifteen Years—Canadian Land Values Have Rapidly Shot Up—The Hague Argument

London, June 24.—The cruiser Rainbow, of the Canadian navy, has completed refitting and carried out satisfactory gun and steam trials at Portsmouth. At the inaugural meeting of the British Columbia Church Aid Society, today, the Bishop of St. James said the sum required was $2,500,000, which spread over fifteen years, would make the church secure. At a meeting of the Canada Company, today, it was stated that the price of land sold showed an advance of 26 3/4 per cent. over the 1894 valuation. Mr. J. Bryan called for Canada today at the S. S. Royal George. At Henley boisterous weather with rain prevailed this morning, but the Winnipeg crew had their usual spin. They did not attempt a racing pace but covered the distance in a little more than eight minutes. The Canadian Associated Press is informed that of the Molson's Bank issue, 24 per cent. has been subscribed by the public, including the firm underwriting. In the commons today the postmaster-general said that imperial penny postage would be increased to 4,000,000, which would be increased to 4,500,000 if the penny post were extended to European countries. The Hague, June 24.—Continuing his argument for the United States in the Newfoundland fisheries matter today, Ex-Senator Turner said that Britain had admitted the French right to fish on the Newfoundland banks, and that this was analogous to American rights and was in the nature of "servitudes." The sea where the French exercised their right was not merely territorial waters of Newfoundland, but part of the high sea. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick asked if the right to fish was a "servitude" as understood in Roman law. Mr. Turner replied that the analogy between "servitudes" in civil law, and international law should not be strained to excess. Mr. Lammach observed that "servitudes" in civil law should meet the requirements of the estate, not those of the proprietors of the estate. Mr. Turner replied that international servitude was constituted for the benefit of a territory which belonged to a sovereign. He quoted a number of writers to show that international servitude implied entire liberty for the state which received it in the exercise of its right. Professor Von Holtzendorf considered, said Mr. Turner, fishing rights in territorial waters ought to be considered as "servitudes" when the duration of the right was not limited. In the case of fishing rights Newfoundland was not subjected to British or colonial legislation. It had been established for always, therefore in the present case "servitudes" existed and the treaty of 1818 contained no limitation or restriction of the American right therefore. This right, he held, was not subject to British or colonial legislation. Referring to Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Mr. Turner said that several writers had especially quoted the American fishing right as an example of international "servitude." He would read from these passages in the course of his argument.

VANDERBILT PUTS UP MONEY TO HELP AVIATORS ALONG

New York, June 23.—William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., has entered the field of aviation, though not as yet an owner of an aeroplane, but with several associates he has offered to provide a suitable field for flying near the Long Island Motor Park. Although the plans are as yet unsettled, he made his appearance at the present aviation course near Mineola and, after consultation with Clifford Harmon and Captain T. S. Baldwin, an informal statement was given out. It is planned to fence in part of the land adjoining the grand stand of the Motor Parkway, so that that stand or another will be available. Mr. Vanderbilt and his associates, whose identity was not disclosed, are willing to put $20,000 into the plan. With the enclosure erected in and proper arrangements made for the spectators an admission fee will be charged. One-half of the gate receipts will go to the aviators who perform and the rest will be paid to the men who build the field until the $20,000 has been collected. All the proceeds then will go to the aviators, who at present are not receiving anything. Mr. Vanderbilt says that there is no basis for the stories that the championship flight is "fixed." "I'm holding $75,000 of stock money," he said, "and $50,000 more is to be placed in my hands twenty-four hours before the flight."

THEY LIKE DEPUTY ON THE ISLAND

Mr. Campbell Made Fine Impression on Tour of Government Road—Some Things Asked For

Charlottetown, P. E. I., June 24.—(Special.)—A. W. Campbell, deputy minister of railways and other members of the railway board, completed their tour of the island railway last night and will leave today for Pictou, thence going over the I. C. R. to Montreal. The board members will reach Ottawa on July 1, and confer with Hon. Mr. Graham before the latter's departure for the west. Last night the board heard business men of Charlottetown unanimously demand improvement in the local train service, particularly respecting the time table from Summerside to Charlottetown. The meeting was held under auspices of the board of trade, and was large and representative. Chairman Campbell heard the case sympathetically, promising improvement. A delegate at Summerside on the previous day asked for reduction in the transportation rate, and local improvements. This was the first visit of the deputy minister to the island, and he made a most favorable impression by his courteous manner and his personality.

START ON EIGHT WEEKS HOLIDAYS

Pleasant Exercises at Closing of City Schools Today

High School, St. Vincent's and Others Thronged With Visitors—Happy Addresses are Heard and Bright Programmes by the Pupils Enjoyed—Alumnae Society Gatherings Tonight

School is over and vacation days have arrived. Today books were taken home and the scholars will be able to amuse themselves for the next eight weeks in any way they wish. For many, it is the end of their school experience and they will now start out in the stern realities of the business world. The larger number, however, will return to their studies with renewed vigor at the end of the holiday period, on Monday, August 29. In nearly all the school buildings this morning there were closing exercises of an interesting nature. High School, as usual, was crowded to the doors with the parents and friends of the children and a very fine programme was carried out. The class motto "Nulla Dies Sine Linea" (No a day without a line), was fixed above the platform in the assembly hall, on the figure 20, denoting the year of the graduating class. Principal W. J. S. Myles, presided and there were also seated on the platform in addition to the graduates, class R. B. Emerson and T. H. Bollock, of the school board, Mayor Frink, Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent of schools; Rev. H. A. Cady and Rev. J. H. A. Anderson. The selections by the High School or choir under the direction of W. C. Bowen, were greatly enjoyed and the essays given by the scholars and the scene from "Father," were also very pleasing and evoked generous applause. Miss Innes Ogilvy, the valedictorian, in the course of her address, referred to the lack of certain departments in the school, such as music, drawing and an up-to-date laboratory. She pointed to the pleasure it would be to the class to look back on their school days and spoke of the trouble they had given the teachers, who had been very patient with them. She touched also on the helpful influence of the teachers and of the noble future vocations of the graduates. There was a cheering word for the boys who had been unsuccessful in winning the interscholastic sports and the boys expressed their regret that they would at least win the baseball championship. Dr. Bridges then presented the diploma to the graduating class and spoke of the excellent progress of the pupils and of the high order of the declaration delivered by Miss Mollie Lingley. He complimented the students on their healthful appearance and their hard studies. He said the class motto was an excellent one, as it teaches industry. This class has had a most interesting and instructive year. G. Turner, valedictorian, said that the motto also taught modesty of the student of today. Rev. Mr. Cady, in addressing the class, referred to the Champlain statue to be unveiled tonight. He said some people might think the outstretched arm was pointing to the west, but he thought it pointed to the future. He told an interesting story of his experience in the Yukon, how when Earl Grey had been leaving there he was given a send-off by the members of the Arctic Club, which motto was "Push on," the cry with which the northmen used to urge on their teams of dogs. He thought this would be an excellent motto for the scholars through life. He urged them to have a grand ideal. It was better to hitch their wagon to a star than to a lamp post. He dealt with three things that indicated genius, aspiration, inspiration and perspiration. The future of the land rested much in what they did and said. In closing he recited Henry Newhall's poem, "Play the Game." Principal Myles, referring to the valedictorian's remark on the need of an up-to-date laboratory, said he had been informed by the chairman of the school board that an appropriation arranged for it would be forthcoming this year. He also alluded to the need of an additional teacher who could take charge of the class when he had to go to the laboratory with the pupils in that work. He complimented the scholars for their good work during the year and then presented the honor certificates to those entitled to them. Mayor Frink delivered a witty and inspiring address. He spoke of the school work just ending and of the genuine hard work just beginning. He alluded to the fact that he had seen in one of the newspapers the announcement that a former college mate of his had been knighted. He had given this young man a hard run for the gold medal at school and he was laughingly said he believed that he was as good a man as he was yet. He urged them to strive for the highest positions in the life they were about to enter. Dr. Bridges then presented certificates to the ten graduates from Grade XII and complimented them on the excellence of their work. Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, addressing these pupils, said they were only beginning life. This was the second time they had graduated. He dwelt on the need of having high ideals and living up to them. In closing he wished them every success. The proceedings closed with the singing of God Save the King. The averages of the honor pupils, 75 per cent or upwards, are: Mollie Lingley, Innes Ogilvy, 88.10; Walter Brown, 82.80; Mary Carter, 82.31; Beaulac Marcus, 81.81; Mary Ross, 78.03; Otha Bender, 77.90; Hazel Myles, 77.85; Gladys Fowler, 75.38. St. Vincent's In St. Vincent's school, Cliff street, this morning the attendance at the closing exercises was very large, and all thoroughly enjoyed the programme. Sister Frances, principal of the school, presided. Among those present were Revs. W. F. Chapman, V. G. A. J. Duke, G. S. B. Wm. Duke, A. W. Meahan, and M. O'Brien; M. D. Coll and Mrs. James Devere of the board of school trustees. During the term just closed, St. Vincent's school numbered eighty pupils, of whom the following composed the graduating class:—Mary Bridges, Beatrice Gosnell, Mary Muriel Catherine Corkey, Mary Agnes Gertrude Dolan, Mary Lavonia Kilborn, Helen Madeline Ryan, Mary Gretchen Turner, Frances Reed, Mary Margaret Nugent, Mary Ellen Keefe, Agatha Mona Kelly. These young ladies received their diplomas from Supt. H. S. Bridges, who congratulated them on the excellent showing they had made. A chorus by several of the girls was then sung, and heartily applauded. Miss R. McIntyre, acted as accompanist. In the role of the class prophet, Miss Marie G. Dolan mapped out the futures of her companions in the class in an interesting and entertaining manner. A pleasing feature of the closing was "The Parwell of the Muses," with the following characters: Iris F. Reed Thalia M. Corkery Cleo M. Nugent Melpomene F. Reed Euterpe M. Kilborn Terpsichore Helen Ryan Polyhymnia R. McIntyre Erato A. Kelly Calliope G. Turner Urania B. Gosnell Juno E. Keefe Fame M. Dolan Minerva A. Ransay. The valedictory was delivered by Miss Gosnell, in a manner which showed her to be an essayist of distinction. The valedictory was nicely composed, and well delivered. In the absence of His Lordship Bishop Casey, Very Rev. W. F. Chapman presented to Miss M. V. Caples, of the class of '10, the Erasmus gold medal. He congratulated her upon having won it, and said he hoped that she would acquit herself in the outside world in the same creditable manner she had in her studies. Rev. A. J. Duke, rector of St. Peter's, delivered a short address to the graduates, in which he prayed that God would bless them as they were entering the new field, where, he hoped, they would be as successful as they had been in school. He was proud, he said, of the fact that three of the foremost graduates were young ladies from the North End. The exercises were brought to a close with the singing of the National anthem. In White's restaurant this evening, the members of the graduating class of St. Vincent's will be entertained by the alumnae at a dinner and reception. The president of the alumnae, Miss E. T. Reed, will occupy the chair. An interesting programme of toasts, speeches and musical and literary numbers will be given by Misses Florence and Katherine O'Neill, Helen Harrington, Kathleen O'Malley, Agnes Scully and Mrs. James McMurray. St. Vincent's orchestra will provide music. Albert School, Carleton The closing exercises of the Albert school this morning were witnessed by a large number of visitors. The pupils of the primary department presented a very pleasing programme commencing at 10 o'clock, while those of the advanced department assembled at 11 o'clock. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. (Continued on page 3, fifth column.)

There are 31 counts in an indictment relating to offences committed before Jan. 1, and 5 counts in an indictment covering offences that happened since Jan. 1, when the criminal code went into effect, making the offence a felony instead of a misdemeanor, as under the old law. "CRAZY" MAY BE PLEA FOR CHARLTON

Murderer of Wife Is Taking Matters Coolly—Legal Battle Seems in the Air

New York, June 24.—Apparently unconcerned over his desperate plight, Porter Charlton, the young bank clerk, who confessed murderer of his wife, the Lake Como murder victim, spent a comparatively restful night in his cell in the Hoboken jail, and calmly awaited his arrangements. Obedient to the advice of his attorney, R. Floyd Clark, he has stopped talking about himself and his affairs and it was only to his anxious father, Judge Paul Charlton, of Washington, who, with careworn lines on his face, was early on the scene, and his legal advisers, that Charlton had anything to say. His comfort during the night was materially increased by the kindness of the jail officials, who, when the boy expressed a desire to take a bath, permitted Charlton to indulge in an unattended luxury for prisoners. It was understood before the assignment today that when Charlton was brought into court an adjournment for twenty-four hours at least would be asked to enable a better preparation to be made for Charlton's defense. It was understood that former state senator William D. Edwards had been retained in Charlton's defense, while on the other side, were found Italian officials who were expected to ask Charlton's extradition to Italy. Here from Washington to appear in the case was the Marquis Di Montigliari, charge D'Affaires of the Italian Embassy, who had with him the Italian Vice Consul in New York, Gustav Di Rosa. It was expected that opposition to Charlton's extradition would largely hinge on the young man's physical and mental condition. A tuberculosis boy, whose actions point to an unsound mind, was the way the premier was characterized by his father. Proof of such a state of affairs, was thought in some quarters, might influence the Italian Government to forego an extradition demand. An early application for the examination of Charlton by alienists is indicated. Police Surgeon Wm. J. Arlitz, of Hoboken, made an examination of Charlton this morning and said: "I see signs of insanity, but I do not care to discuss it any further. I have been engaged by Judge Charlton to act as one of the alienists of the defense."

FIGURES THAT TELL STORIES

OUR BUTTER OPPORTUNITY GREAT BRITAIN imported 496,383,390 lbs. of butter valued at $27,425,067 in 1909. Owing to their advantageous location, the countries nearest to the British Isles captured the bulk of the trade as shown. Denmark alone supplied 43 per cent. of the butter imported to England, or 176,402,700 lbs. Russia, with 60,171,200 lbs. comes second, and France, Sweden, Holland, and Germany follow in this order. When the element of distance is considered, the Australasian colonies are no inconsiderable factors in this trade, supplying 16 per cent. of the total quantity. New Zealand alone furnished 27,858,100 lbs. against Holland's 14,856,700 lbs. Canada's exports of butter to Great Britain in 1907 were 5,470,550 lbs., and rose to 4,384,100 lbs. in 1908, but owing to the drought of the past two seasons, and to the decrease in the number of milk cows, as well as to our increasing home consumption, our exports of butter fell off last year. The United States suffered more severely than Canada did, her exports of butter to Great Britain falling from 4,423,200 lbs. in 1908 to 613,900 lbs. in 1909.

JEFFRIES LOOKS WELL TO FLANAGAN

Johnson Man Predicts a Long Draw Out Battle—There's Strain at Reno

Reno, Nev., June 24.—The question as to what effect the sharp change in altitude will have on Jack Johnson is being given much thought by Flanagan. He says he will advise against heavy road work. Boxing, he thinks, will constitute Johnson's main work hereafter. Flanagan says he has been keeping an eye on Jeffries and says he is much impressed with Jeffries' appearance and expects to see him at the Jeffries-Johnson fight. At Moana Springs Jeffries is taking life easy. Not in many years has Reno sheltered so cosmopolitan a gathering as now nightly through its cafes and places of chance. Jeffries, Johnson and the other men in the tents in Sacramento have been sought by merchants of Reno to house visiting parties. It is impossible to get accommodations in Reno, reservations having been made in all the hotels and lodging houses. New York, June 24.—State Senator "Big Tim" Sullivan, stakeholder of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, says that there is no basis for the stories that the championship fight is "fixed." "I'm holding $75,000 of stock money," he said, "and $50,000 more is to be placed in my hands twenty-four hours before the fight."
