MRS. JOHN LANDRY INJURED BY A RUNAWAY AUTO

Mother of Little Girl Who Was Killed by Motor Car
Near Haymarket Square.

Crushed under the weight of a section of the iron railing which surrounds the Centennial school, which was knocked down by a runaway motor truck, Mrs. John Landry of 264 Waterloo street, was painfully injured this morning between eight and nine o'clock. Although her external injuries are slight, she suffered greatly and it is feared that she may be hurt internally.

A motor truck belonging to the James Robertson Co. was being unloaded in an alley between the Centennial school and the Brussels street church. For some unknown reason the car started with nobody aboard, and, gathering momentum as it travelled down the grade towards the street, struck the iron railing, tearing away a large section of it as well as the corner post which supported it.

Mrs. Landry was passing at the time and the dislodged railing knocked her down and pinned her to the sidewalk, lying across her abdomen. The truck wheels were stopped by the broken fence and came to stop, part of its heavy weight resting on a piece.

The truck was quickly removed and the iron railing lifted from the prostrate woman, and she was removed to her home where she was attended by Dr. S. H. Calnek and Dr. C. M. Kelly. She will be taken to the St. John Infirmary this afternoon.

Daughter Was Accident Victim.
Mrs. Landry's little daughter, Jean Verdan, was killed when she was struck by a motor car near Haymarket square a year ago last May. Her husband, John Landry, is employed with the Brussels street branch of the 2 Barkers, Ltd.

News of the accident was received with deep regret by Mrs. Landry's friends this morning, and there was a general expression of hope that her injuries should not prove serious.

ACTIVE YEAR OF WOMEN'S COUNCIL

Annual Meeting Held This Afternoon

Comprehensive Review of the Twelve Months Contained in the Report of Miss Etta Millican, Secretary.

The annual meeting of the Local Council of Women was held this afternoon with the president, Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, in the chair. Reports were received from various committees. The president delivered an address dealing with the activities of the council during the year and the progress made. The recording secretary gave her report and the report of the corresponding secretary, Miss Etta L. Millican, was also received. The election of officers was being held this afternoon. Miss Millican reported as follows:

Secretary's Report.
The secretary, Miss Etta Millican, submitted an excellent report, which was at once an appreciation of the work accomplished and an inspiration to continued and greater effort.

She told of the progressive spirit in which the council had extended its energies into civil, social, moral and educational work. The year was a red letter one, in that during it the local council had entertained the National Council in its annual meeting. A life membership campaign had been arranged to raise funds for the national meeting, and among the thirty-three life memberships presented was one conferred by the president, Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, on the corresponding secretary, Miss Etta Millican; one given by Mrs. Archibald in admiration of the work of the honorary vice-president, Miss Grace W. Leavitt, and one presented by the council to Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin for courtesy extended. Mrs. C. J. Osman of Hillsboro, Albert county, president of the Women's Institutes' advisory board, also was welcomed as a life member. An attractive programme gave large addition to the funds of the national meetings, as did an afternoon concert in the Imperial theatre in July. The city generally gave $500 to the expense fund, making the grant partly in recognition of the work of the women of the city in war time and as a tribute to the work of the president. The council was grateful for the grant and proud that it was able to return it as not being required.

During the year the Victorian Order of Nurses purchased and moved into a new home in which a training school and a well baby clinic had been established. A new home for the nurses of the general public hospital was being built and many societies and individuals had assisted the Women's Hospital Aid in its task of furnishing the home. The council told special interest in the child welfare exhibit at the St. John exhibition, in which it gave valuable aid and had under consideration the establishment of a milk fund for the needy mothers and children in the city. "Roe-bud Day" in aid of the Children's Aid home had been postponed to give place to tag days for the Hospital Aid. Daughters of Isael and the Free Kindergarten Association.

A substantial sanitary drinking fountain for animals had been erected in Union square as the council's tribute to the part played by dumb animals in the war. At a social evening in January, echoes of the national and international meetings were heard, and Miss Carmichael of New Glasgow gave a clear and delightful account of the international meeting. Mrs. E. A. Young, Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond and Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson also gave their impressions of the national meeting.

My Own Particular Chair

"A chair that is comfortable, a chair to cheer, a chair with distinctive personality—it is exactly what I wanted, and I found it nowhere in St. John except at Everett's."

"This chair was bought for me individually, and the price. Why, the price was even less than the dreary old, clumsy, dumb-looking leather abominations. This is more than a chair; it is a relief."

No, reader, this is not overdrawn. This is exactly what she said, besides a lot more in the same vein which it is unnecessary for us to print here. St. John has a quality furniture store, so that it is unnecessary for you either to go away from your own home city or buy ordinary furniture which you do not want.
