Latest Gossip on the Political Situation -Comments of the London Press.

London, June 10 .- Perplexity is the keynote of this morning's editorials on' the outcome of yesterday's extraordinary debate, and much ironical comment made on the figure of "each for himself" that the cabinet cuts. The Morning Post describes the situation as a "spot barred" debate in which every one play- buried in snow, overtook Nils M. Roos, a ed the "spot stroke," and says the debate has not cleared the air, but shows that the air wants clearing.

This idea permeates the comments in by E. M.
