MONTREAL LONGSHOREMEN

WON'T COME TO ST. JOHN.

Their Union Will Assist the Local Men---

Strike Began Here Last Night---Both Sides Hold Firm.

(Special to the Star.) MONTREAL, Nov. 21.—A strong fight will be put up by the Montreal officials of the Longshoremen's Union against the steamship lines receiving assistance from workmen of Montreal in their fight with St. John. As the local union is strongly organized, George Pelouin, business agent of the local association claims no Montrealers will go to St. John. The few men capable who are not members, are so small a number and of such unsteady habits that they would prove of small use in the fight, even if they were persuaded to go.

"The St. John men were with us on our fight a couple of years ago," said Pelouin, "and we will not be ungrateful. We will stand by them until the last."

The Allan Line Parisian arrived last evening and docked at the old Allan line berth. She met rough weather on her run out from Liverpool.

To St. John she brought two saloon, seventeen second and eleven steerage passengers. Most of the latter were Poles and Jews enroute to the Northwest. Among the passengers was T. H. Toynbee, a noted football player of the Surrey Rugby Club.

At Halifax the Parisian landed 150 tons of general cargo and had on board about 1,000 tons for this port.

When the big liner docked there were five crews of men in readiness to handle her cargo. The men were represented by business agent John Killen, of the Longshoremen's Association, who enquired of the steamship representatives if they would pay the new rate thirty-five cents per hour. The answer was that they would not.

The men did not arrive but Hugh Allan did. He was met by Robert Thomson and some of the chief officers of the Allan Line staff here. R. B. Teakles, the local manager, acted as body guard and warder of the press representatives, declining positively to permit an interview saying, that there was absolutely nothing to say till the matter had been more fully considered. The party at once went to the West Side, and at the time of going to press were still there.

The longshoremen were jubilant at the non-arrival of the men, and insist that the only men the steamship men can get in Montreal to come here would be scabs. Another point that they make is that three out of the four boats now in port are paying the 35 cent rate.

Bishop Doane, remarks especially upon the recent dictum of the supreme court justice, W. J. Gwynor, that he is not severed by the state, the church certainly cannot tie that bond again, where it has not been dissolved.

"It is a strong, clear and timely statement from which it seems to me that it is only right for the church to take ground; first, that only the state which dissolves the marriage can rightly or safely deal with the question of re-marriage, and secondly, that if the religious bond is dissolved, the church certainly cannot tie that bond again, where it has not been dissolved."

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Bishop William Crowell Doane, in his annual address today before the convention of the Diocese of Albany, of which he is the head, dealt with subjects of immediate interest to the diocese and the ethical preaching called for by the times.

The bishop's remarks on divorce had special reference to the adoption by the general synod of the church the following canon: "No clergyman within the jurisdiction of the Church of England in Canada shall solemnize a marriage between persons either of whom shall have been divorced from one who is living at the time."

"I could have wished," said the bishop, "that we upon whom the pressure of the danger and the pressure of the duty are so much more strongly than upon the Canadian church, could have led in this movement. But I have great hope that we shall follow at our next convention."

"The Proximus Ucalogus ardet" weighed a great deal with them, because the constant immigration into Canada from our western states, caused by the divorcee, made it real to them the danger of contagion. Surely it becomes us, in the face of our sorrow, not to apply this one-sided standard of reform, to impose upon other religious bodies. It is high time for us to make impossible the proposal, by using it under circumstances that fairly and candidly its essential language.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 21.—At the morning session of the American Federation of Labor, Frank E. Foster, of Boston, secretary on the committee on Pres. Goemper's report, read a supplementary report. The eight hour day for union printers was endorsed, and the executive committee, in giving the printers moral aid and financial support, was commended. The council was instructed to continue their aid to the printers if it is necessary after January 1, 1906.

The committee reported that the eight hour day for printers is in force in 268 cities and towns in the United States and Canada. An assessment of four cents a member was ordered by the convention to aid the printers in their contest. This assessment is expected to yield about $80,000.

The one cent assessment made by the International Typographical Union has been endorsed by that body by a vote of 25,848 to 6,324. Delegate Johnson of Chicago made a severe attack on the Industrial Workers of the World, characterizing them as enemies of free speech and free government. He resented the imputation that the American Federation of Labor was the American federation of "grafters," as the Industrial Workers of the World called the federation.

Delegate Goldstein, of Boston, condemned the Socialists for their inconsistency and ill-timed attack on the Federation of Labor and its officers.

V. L. Bogger, of Milwaukee, replied to the two addresses in a witty speech and said the Socialists, who "numbered about 10,000,000 in this country, were the night watchers of the American Federation of Labor."

Max S. Hayes, of Cleveland, Ohio, one of the champions of Socialism, followed with a hot speech, defending the Socialist party.

BRUSSELS STREET WOMAN, DESPONDENT, HANGS HERSELF.

Her Daughter Found the Body Swinging by the Neck From a Nail in the Kitchen Wall This Morning.

Dependent on account of ill-health, Mrs. Sarah B. Henderson, aged 57 years, committed suicide this morning by hanging herself to a picture nail in the kitchen at her home, 325-1-2 Brussels street.

The woman who this morning brought her life to such a sudden termination has been a widow for about ten years. She has three daughters, two of whom are unmarried, and reside in this city, one living at home with her brother. The third is Mrs. Geo. E. Logue, of Shannon Settlement, Queens Co.

The dead woman has been despondent and down hearted for the last month. Her daughter and friends have vainly tried to cheer her up. Dr. Morris, of Fairville, who has been attending her, attributed her melancholy to the fact that her system was run down.

The daughter left the house about ten o'clock on some business, which occupied about an hour's time. She arrived back at the house about ten minutes to eleven, and had walked into the kitchen, which is a very small room, before she saw her mother's dead body hanging by the wall.

Miss Henderson was greatly overcome, but managed to call her neighbors, which she did, Mrs. Calder, who together with her took down the dead woman.

The house where the tragedy took place is a tenement house, and the Henderson family lived on the fourth and top story. As might be imagined, in a few moments word of the tragedy had passed through the house, and there was much excitement.

The woman's body was found hung from a large picture nail near the ceiling, by a thin hemp cord which had come off a bundle of kindlings. Her face was to the wall and her feet just touched the chair, which she had used in carrying out her terrible design. When taken down the body was still warm.

Immediately medical assistance was summoned, but Drs. Baxter and Macdonald upon their arrival pronounced the woman dead. The police at once summoned Coroner Berryman, who was not long in arriving, and he gave permission to Undertaker Brennan to prepare the body.

The suicide was undoubtedly due to melancholia is the opinion of the neighbors. The woman has made previous attempts to carry out the plan which this time met with success. She was also for a while treated at the provincial asylum.

Her two daughters were this morning very much overcome. They say they can give no reason except ill-health for her deed of self-destruction.

MORE SMALLPOX IN YORK COUNTY.

Provincial Board of Health Investigating—House Burned at Taxes River—Boom Company Lost Money.

(Special to the Star.) MONTREAL, N. B., Nov. 21.—The Provincial Board of Health is investigating cases of disease similar to the smallpox prevalent at Fredericton, Junction and Tracy Station. The local doctors say that they are not sure whether the cases are northern or southern or a mild type of smallpox.

Andrew McAllister's house at Taxes River was burned to the ground Sunday morning at an early hour. There was no insurance.

Lisotte vs. Temiscouata Railway Co. The same question was involved and Mr. Laforest supported the appeal on similar ground, Mr. Stevens contra.

In this case the court also takes time to consider.

This concluded the morning business of the court.

AMERICAN LEAGUE LEADERS QUARREL.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—A serious breach between President Ben Johnson, of the American League, and Charles Comiskey, president of the Chicago club in that organization, is threatened at the annual meeting of the American League, which will be held on Wednesday. Last night President Comiskey came out with a statement that the American League cannot any longer keep pace with the National League, while President Johnson is retained at the head of the league.

While Comiskey does not promise to bring any direct charges against Johnson, at the meeting, he declares openly that the American League is on the verge of dissolution if President Johnson shall remain at its head. Comiskey's direct accusation is that Johnson is conniving with President Herman, of the Cincinnati National League club, chairman of the National Baseball Commission, to consolidate the American and National Leagues. "That would mean the swallowing up of our organization by the National League."

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The Inter-ocean today says: Arrangements have been made with justices and detectives to issue and serve 500 warrants on legion keepers who keep their places open next Sunday. While no one could be found who would stand sponsor in this crusade it is reported that clergy men who have been leaders in the reform movement were to take the initiative in the new law. Ministers have repeatedly urged Mayor Dunn to enforce the Sunday closing law and are said to have formed an alliance and seek to bring about their desired reforms without his aid.

CATTLE KILLING CASES BEFORE SUPREME COURT.

(THIS SUP OF JUDGES) FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 21.—This morning Mr. Justice Landry took his seat on the supreme court bench. The county court justice paper was taken up. The first case called was that of Dudge (plaintiff appellant) and Temiscouata Railway Company (defendant) respondent.

Mr. Laforest supported appeal from the order of Judge Carleton granting a non-suit after a verdict in an action against the defendant company for killing a cow and injuring another. J. M. Stevens, K. C. contra, argued that there was no evidence of negligence and that all that the plaintiff had proved was that the cattle were killed.

Mr. Laforest contended that the company was bound to fence its road against adjoining owners. The court considered.

Lisotte vs. Temiscouata Railway Co. The same question was involved and Mr. Laforest supported the appeal on similar ground, Mr. Stevens contra.

In this case the court also takes time to consider.

This concluded the morning business of the court.
