

THE STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B. TUESDAY, JUNE 15 1909

THREE

Classified Advertisements.

BUSINESS CARDS

JOHN M. CHRISTIE, Painter and Decorator. House painting done in all its branches. First-class workmanship guaranteed. Estimates furnished, 28 Bonaventure street. Phone 344-111.

DAILY EXPECTED fresh mixed Minuti Screened Coal, clean, no slack. Tel. 41. JAMES S. McQUEEN, agent, 3 Main street.

BYTES TIGHTENED - Different repairs solicited. C. STEWART PATTERSON, 55 Brunelle St.

W. V. HATFIELD, Mason, Plasterer, Builder. Successor to all its branches. 344-111. Union Street. Estimates furnished. Only union men employed. Telephone 144.

S. A. WILLIAMS, CARPENTER and CONTRACTOR, office 100 Prince Wm. Street. Telephone 201. All kinds of work promptly attended to.

J. D. McAVITY, dealer in hard and soft coal. Delivery promptly in the city. 30 Brunelle Street.

WM. L. WILLIAMS, successor to M. A. Finn. Wholesale and Retail Wine and Spirit Merchant, 110 and 112 Prince Wm. St. Established 1870. Write for family price list.

F. C. WESLEY, CO. Artists, Engravers and Electrotypers, 59 Water Street. Tel. John. N. B. Telephone 942.

E. LAW, Watchmaker, 2 Coburg St.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE - Cheap - Two light horses. WALKER BROS., Haymarket Square. Apply evenings, 2nd bell.

FOR SALE - Furniture at 20 Paradise Row. Apply evenings, 2nd bell.

FOR SALE - Heavy single horse. Apply JOHN HICKS, 50 Elmwood St. Tel. Main 2108.

FOR SALE - A good express horse. Apply to JOHN WHITE, Charlotte St.

FOR SALE - Fox terrier pups. Apply to SHORR BROS., STABLE, Union St.

FOR SALE - A vest and pant maker. A. GILMOUR, 58 King St.

CHIRLS WANTED - For finishing pants; also work given outside. Apply to L. COHEN, 212 Union St. Entrance on Sydney.

WANTED - A cook; also dining room girl. HOTEL OTTAWA, King Square.

WANTED - A good plain cook. Apply to MRS. F. P. STARR, 48 Carlisle Street, in the evenings.

WANTED - Either cook or general girl for small family. Apply 39 Duke St.

WANTED - Cook and dish washer for dinner hour. King Dining Room, Canterbury St.

WANTED - Kitchen girl, 45 Elliott Row.

WANTED - Woman or girl for general housework at Westfield during summer and city in winter. Apply Box 800 Star Office.

GIRL WANTED - Apply to 113 Prince Wm. Street.

WANTED - Woman or girl for general housework. Apply 39 Duke St.

WANTED - A girl for general housework in a small family. References required. Apply to MRS. J. E. COWAN, Jr., 304 Douglas Avenue.

WANTED - A good general servant. MRS. W. J. HENNING, 52 Mecklenburg St.

GIRLS WANTED for finishing pants. Apply to L. COHEN, 212 Union Street, entrance on Sydney street.

WANTED - At the Royal Hotel, one kitchen girl and one chambermaid.

WANTED - A housekeeper, no washing or ironing. Apply 49 Moore St.

OPERATORS WANTED - Experienced operators on silk wasters and dresses. Good wages to those who can run a sewing machine, and will teach our work. Steady employment and good pay. Reliable Silk Waist Factory, 40 St. Antoine St., Montreal.

WANTED - Experienced cook immediately. Apply with references to MISS GEORGE McAVITY, 66 Orange St.

ROOMS AND BOARDING

TO LET - One furnished front room. Apply 15 Peters St.

TO RENT - A room, furnished or unfurnished, with use of kitchen. Box 74, Star Office.

ROOMERS WANTED - At 117 Elliott Row. Large, pleasant rooms. 10-6.

PLEASANT ROOMS with board at Armstrong's Crossing, three minutes walk from the train. Information 171 Charlotte St., or Phone 1375-21.

PLEASANT FURNISHED ROOMS - 16 Queen St.

TO RENT with board, one room suitable for married couple, another for young man. Apply 178 Duke Street.

ROOMS - With board at a reasonable rate. 22 Princess St. MRS. CAREY. Also meals given.

DESIRABLE FRONT ROOM - TO LET in private family. Apply 308 Union St.

ROOMS AND BOARD - 100 Princess Street. 2-5-11.

Pleasant rooms and good table board at 12 Prince Wm. street, near King. Electric light and telephone.

FURNISHED ROOMS - 21 Richmond St. 15-5-1 m.o.

TO LET - Large front room, with board. 15 Orange Street. 23-1-11.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST - A gold watch and fob, via Bonaventure, Richmond, Waterloo, 22nd, Coburg and Carleton St. Finder will be rewarded by leaving at 215 Brunelle St.

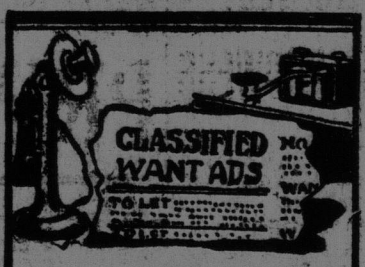

LOST - Two small tins, tied with blue ribbon. Finder will please return to LEO NIELSEN and CO., 75 Germain St.

LOST - An envelope marked "Mr. Ellis" containing money. Finder will kindly return same to HARRY AND PETERS, and be rewarded. 14-6-1

Every reader of this paper becomes a possible "finder" of your lost article when you use one of the "lost" ads.

The young man whose early education has been limited can improve himself by study in the evenings. A "want" ad. will get a good teacher.

1 Cent a Word, 6 insertions for the price of 4

The Telegraph will reach you manfully. If you are sure just where he is, the telephone will find it quicker. But if it is good help you want, and do not know where to find it, our Want Ads are quicker than that.

SITUATIONS VACANT - FEMALE

WANTED - Bright sales girl. Apply to J. COHEN, 212 Union St. Entrance on Sydney.

WANTED - A maid for general housework. Apply at 97 Union St.

WANTED - A few good machine sewers and learners on silk wasters. Paid while learning. Apply 107 Prince Wm. street, second floor.

WANTED - A vest and pant maker. A. GILMOUR, 58 King St.

CHIRLS WANTED - For finishing pants; also work given outside. Apply to L. COHEN, 212 Union St. Entrance on Sydney.

WANTED - A cook; also dining room girl. HOTEL OTTAWA, King Square.

WANTED - A good plain cook. Apply to MRS. F. P. STARR, 48 Carlisle Street, in the evenings.

TO LET

TO LET - From 30th June next, semi-detached house, seven rooms and bath. Modern plumbing and electric light. Seen Tuesdays and Thursdays. 2 to 5. Apply to E. B. TAPLEY, 266 Rockland Road.

TO LET - Small summer cottage in Rothsay Park. P. O. Box 11, City.

TO LET - Small flat of five rooms. Centrally located. Apply to Box 715, Star Office.

COITAGE AND BARN TO RENT at Red Head. For particulars apply to Mr. J. A. COHEN, 212 Union St. Entrance on Sydney.

WANTED - Family of two or three to occupy 6 or 7 rooms in self-contained furnished house, central. Address Box 715, Star Office.

TO LET - Sunny flat, 3 rooms, corner Douglas Avenue and Main St. Possession immediately. Apply to T. L. PHILLIPS.

FLAT TO LET - From July 1st, 6 rooms and bath room, 41 Elmwood St. Apply Arnold's Department Store.

TO LET - One flat, 6 rooms, 15 Brimley St. 1 flat, 4 rooms, 334 Charlotte St. Apply to E. V. GODFREY, 28 Fugate Building.

TO LET - Flat 114 Douglas Avenue.

FLAT 158 Britannia street, Mrs. Thompson.

TO LET - Barn on King St. east, back St. Apply to ST. JOHN HICKS, CO., Telephone 1124.

TO LET - A self-contained house, 109 Hazen street. Apply at 111 Hazen St.

TO LET - New, well-furnished flats on Wright street, hot and cold water, set tubs, hot water heating. Ready about April 15th. Rev. M. S. Traflet, 59 Wright street.

TO LET - Steeply heated room, central. Apply Box 625, Star Office.

TO LET - Two flats, 1 room each. Seen Tuesday and Friday afternoons. 270 Britannia St.

TO LET - Self-contained flat, eight rooms, 550 Haymarket Square. 2-5-11.

TO LET - A self-contained flat, 50 1/2 Holt Row, with 2 rooms and bath. Can be seen Tuesday and Thursdays. Apply to R. N. DEAN, Contractor and Builder, 7-11-11. Tel. 712.

FULL SET

$4.00

We have a scientific formula which renders the extraction of teeth absolutely without pain. We fit teeth with out plates and, if you desire, we can, by a new method, do this work with such respect to the use of gold crowns or unsightly gold bands about the necks of the teeth. No cutting off the natural teeth or painful grinding.

Gold Crowns..... $3 and $5
Bridge Work..... $3 and $5
Teeth Without Plates..... $3 and $5
Gold Filling..... $1 and $2
Other Filling..... 50c.

The King Dental Parlors, Cor. Charlotte and South Market Streets.

MANCHESTER, Vt. June 14 - Michele Telesio, an Italian, recently indicted for the murder of a fellow-countryman, was sent to the state insane hospital at Waterbury for observation as to his sanity, when he was brought into the county court before Judge Waterman today. No date was set for his trial.

BUFFALO, N. Y. June 14 - Miss Jane Adams of Hull House, Chicago, is the president of the National Conference of Charities and Correction, 1909. The election was unanimous. This is the first time in the history of the conference, covering thirty-six years, that a woman has been elected.

SEALED TENDERS

addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Highway Approaches, Metropoli Bridge," will be received at this office until 4:30 p. m. on Friday, July 9, 1909, for the construction of approaches to the Highway Bridge across the Restigouche River at Metapedia, County of Bonaventure, P. Q.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the offices of E. T. P. Shewen, Esq., Resident Engineer, St. John, N. B. C. W. Doherty, Esq., Resident Engineer, Halifax, N. S., J. L. Michaud, Esq., Resident Engineer, Merchants Bank Building, Montreal, Que., and at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Intercolonial Railway, Montreal, N. B.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures. The nature of the work and the place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Tenders must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works for five hundred ($500.00) dollars. The cheque will be forfeited if the person tendering fails to enter into a contract when called upon to do so or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tenderer is not accepted the cheque will be returned. The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By Order,
NAPOLEON TESSIER,
Secretary,
Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, June 10, 1909.

Newspapers will not be paid for this advertisement if they insert it without authority from the Department.

FRYE'S TOES HURT HIM

THOUGH THEY'RE BURIED

NEW YORK, June 15 - Ernest Frye, 250 W. 56th St., who lost a leg in an automobile accident two weeks ago, is suffering a relapse at the hospital. For a time he seemed to be recovering but one day he complained that his toes on the amputated leg hurt him. The doctors tried to use of gold crowns but this was impossible, and all imaginary.

Frye may be imaginary. All right," said Frye, but I know when my toes hurt me, better than anybody else will feel better.

Frye thinks that if the buried leg was exhumed and the toes treated he will feel better.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

From ST. JOHN, N. B. to Seattle, Victoria, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles.

Direct $116.95
Going G.P.R. $116.95
Return Direct

For Full Information Write W. B. Howard, D. A. C. P. R., St. John, N. B.

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY

ON AND AFTER SUNDAY, Jan. 10th, 1909, trains will run daily (Sunday excepted), as follows:

TRAINS LEAVE ST. JOHN.

No. 6 - Mixed for Moncton (leaves Island Yard)..... 6.30
No. 2 - Express for Halifax, Campbellton, Point du Chene, and Pictou..... 7.00
No. 25 - Express for P. du Chene, Halifax and Pictou..... 12.10
No. 4 - Mixed for Moncton..... 12.15
No. 8 - Express for Sussex..... 12.15
No. 13 - Suburban for Hanington..... 12.15
No. 134 - Express for Quebec and Montreal, also P. du Chene..... 12.30
No. 10 - Express for Moncton, St. Catharines and Toronto..... 12.30

TRAINS ARRIVE AT ST. JOHN.

No. 9 - From Halifax and Moncton..... 6.30
No. 15 - Suburban Express from Hampton..... 7.50
No. 1 - Express from Sussex..... 9.00
No. 13 - Express from Montreal, Quebec and P. du Chene..... 12.45
No. 4 - Mixed from Moncton..... 12.45
No. 25 - Express from P. du Chene, Halifax and Pictou..... 12.45
No. 2 - Express from Hanington..... 12.45
No. 134 - Express from Quebec and Montreal, also P. du Chene..... 12.45
No. 10 - Express from Moncton, St. Catharines and Toronto..... 12.45

ALAN WHITMAN'S BIG

LIFE SAVING STUNT

Thrilling Act on a Tower of Queensboro Bridge.

Caught Fainting Man as He Fell From Flagpole and Saved Him a Tumble of 385 Feet into the East River

Bicycle Policeman Alan Whitman, the strong man of the department, did a stunt yesterday afternoon on the new Queensboro Bridge that those who saw will never forget and the feat is vouched for by a large crowd who witnessed the bike cop's job.

Thomas Jones of 109 Fourth avenue, and Charles Schooner, who are employees of a novelty and flag company, which has the contract for decorating the bridge for the celebration of its opening, went over to the flagpole yesterday, stringing lines of flags from the various towers. Both men are steeplejacks.

They began at what is known as the centre tower, which looms over the east channel of the East River, with the top of the tower 385 feet above the water.

Jones went up the north tower of the bridge and Schooner the south. The men used their little steel ladders and pulled themselves up. They had rigged their ropes and pulleys and were preparing to pass a line from one to the other to string flags across to their respective towers when Schooner saw Jones suddenly go limp in his seat at the top of the tower. Schooner did not wait for him to fall forward against it and bang there.

"What's wrong?" asked Schooner. "I'm gradually going," was the Jones could call back.

Schooner did not wait for him to fall forward against it and bang there.

Down by the roadway below the towers Whitman was walking along with his wheel. He looked up when he saw Jones' bicycle and then he spotted Jones, who sagged forward in his seat like a lifeless man. Whitman saw Jones' bicycle and then he spotted Jones, who sagged forward in his seat like a lifeless man. Whitman saw Jones' bicycle and then he spotted Jones, who sagged forward in his seat like a lifeless man.

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND

(By Harold Carter.)

What, me? said Nathanson. "Why, last night those paring-singers Brethren poured my stock of brandy into the street and wrecked the shop. I can't help you. But I will tell you what I will do," he added. And he unfolded his scheme into the Dutchman's ear.

The Plymouth Brethren were proud of their new Dutch convert. It was not many weeks before Van Meyer and the Rev. Abel Jones were known companions. Van Meyer saved from the devices of Satan, Van Meyer swore drinking. Van Meyer cutting Nathanson, his old enemy; in the street ostentatiously, Van Meyer in soberest black leading the congregation in psalms, was an increasing joy.

But on that wonderful day of rejoicing when Van Meyer made public confession of his sins in the little chapel, every heart went out to him. He hinted darkly at his wickedness, his determination to lead an upright life for the future. His private confession he reserved to the Rev. Abel Jones afterward.

"Better," he began, "I may as well cut with it. You know I've seemed kind of affectionate toward old Bill and wouldn't let him be sold, seeing as he's no use for feathers."

The pastor nodded. Then Van Meyer bent down and whispered in the pastor's ear, causing that gentleman to start violently.

"Not a word of this, not a word," said the Dutchman, as he hurried away.

But before nightfall each of the congregation knew, and thought himself, the sole depository of the fact that the Bill, the old ostrich, was a walking diamond mine. In other words, that he had been trained to swallow diamonds which Nathanson bought from native thieves, and that several thousand pounds worth resided in the interior of his crop.

Also that Van Meyer, moved by remorse, was about to sell the bird at auction for what it would fetch, giving the proceeds to the chapel, leaving the diamonds, which, as tainted wealth, could not be donated, to remain undiscovered forever.

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest."

Kimberley has seen extravagant bids, but never such as were offered for that ostrich in the market place the next morning. The bidders were not of the Brethren, though members of the flock might have been seen hovering gratefully upon the outskirts of the throng. Bill finally fell to a man representing an unknown syndicate, who who paid $750 for him, a cold, hard cash.

Van Meyer, in boots and spurs, sat upon his horse in front of Nathanson's store. Suddenly the roar of a mob came faintly from the market place.

Nathanson rose.

"By-by, old Bill," he said, gripping his friend's hand. "Hide for your life over the boundary."

And as his friend disappeared in a cloud of dust he chuckled and slapped his thighs.

"Eight hundred and fifty pounds," he mused. "Which pays for the brandy they wasted and leaves a little something over for interest