THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN

ST: JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 10, 190

committed to five years more of such administration as we have had since 1896. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will probably have a majority of forty-five members in the house which was elect-

The fact that this majority comes wholly from Quebec does not make it the less effective. If the people of that province choose to send a practically unanimous delegation to keep Sir Wilrights, just as the people in the other provinces would do if they sent a unanimous delegation authorized to support another leader. The other provinces have not done so, and therefore the people of Quebec control the

In discussing the prospects of the election the Sun conceded a targe Quebec majority to the government. At the same time it was claimed that a great overturn had taken place in Ontario, and that the government would be strongly condemned in the premier province. These things have come to pass. Ontario has spoken strongly against the government, givnot less than twenty. This is a great change from the government majority of twelve, which the premier and Mr. Tarte expected to retain. But Mr. Tarte and the premier, to mention them in the order of their importance and influence, were not too sanguine in their claims on Quebec. They have swept the province like a whirlwind. Perhaps seven or eight seats have been carried by conservatives, and three of these probably owe their return to the English vote. Of the French conservative leaders, all but Mr. Casgrain have gone down before the storm. Outside of Quebec most of the constituencies which have a considerable French population have felt the movement. Kent, Westmorland, Restigouche, Gloucester, West Prince and Richmond are among the seats lost in the eastern provinces. In Eastern Ontario near the Quebec boundary two or more seats have been gained by the government. It will be seen that the Sun was quite correct when it said that Sir Wilfrid's only chance of an extension of his term of office lay in the French-Canadian vote. We point this out not in a spirit of fault finding, but as a mere historic fact. Much as good citizens must deprecate the way in which Mr. Tarte appealed to the Quebec people, we must recognize the equal right of all classes of electors to decide who shall govern the country. It seems to be a fact that the Laurier government has no majority outside the province of Quebec. It has a majority twelve to afteen in the maritime provinces. It is beaten by nearly double that majority in Ontario. It is beaten in Manitoba, and probably in the Northwest and British Columbia. Neverthe less it is safe behind a majority not much less than it had in the last house.

In the maritime provinces the ministers have a two-thirds najority. In New Brunswick Mr. Blair has captured Westmorland, Kent, Restigouche Gloucester and York, and has lost Kings and Queens-Sunbury. In Nova Scotia the government has captured four seats, and has lost one, with three still in doubt. In Prince Edward Island one seat has been gained by the government, while one has been lost and one is doubtful.

In the matter of individual gains and losses the government has fared much one year for 75 cents cash in advance.

THE STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE STATE OF THE S

better than the opposition. Every minister has been elected, and amons the defeated are only four or five who elong to the first rank. On the opfallen with his face to the foe. Mr. Foster has failed in his plucky attempt to capture St. John from the enemy Hugh John Macdonald, who attacked quished, Dr. Montague, Sir Adolphe Caron, Mr. Bergeron, Mr. Taillon and perhaps Mr. Davin are defeated.

Sir Charles Tupper has met with his first defeat in nearly lifty years campaigning. Mr. Foster is beaten for the first time in his life. Mr. Foster is yet a comparatively young man, and his defeat inflicts no great injury on him. He may safely reckon on many more years of active public service. Sir Charles Tupper has reached an age when he cannot hope to undertake many more campaigns, though he has fought this one with all the arder and the country that he has been retired from parliament at a time when his wisdom and experience It will not be forgotten that in a great crisis of his country's history Sir Charles Tupper backed by the loyal sentiment of the people, was able to dictate a course which went far to save this part of the Empire from disgrace. We cannot believe that this is quite the end of his public career, long and eminent as that has been. But whether it should be so or not, Sir Charles Tupper will be remembered with gratitude by this country when the ministers who now enjoy their triumph shall be forgotten.

It is hardly necessary for the Sun to express the opinion that the people of the St. John constituencies have made a mistake in electing Mr. Blair and Colonel Tucker. On the ground of personal merit, and of capacity for useful public service, their opponents were more worthy of choice. As representatives of more correct principles of pub-He conduct, and of a wiser and more patriotic Canadian policy the liberal conoservative candidates should have been preferred. Moreover, we greatly fear that the electors by endorsing Mr. Blair's line of action in regard to the winter port have done the city great damage. As to the methods by which Mr. Blair obtained his large majority something may be said later.

The defeat of Mr. Powell and Mr. McInerney removes from parliament for the time two of our most brilliant spicuous but greatly respected representative. On the other hand we have to welcome to the larger arena of federal politics the member elect for Kings, who takes the place fately occupied by Colonel Domville. Mr. Wilmot has been in parliament before, and the large majority by which he defeats Mr. White speaks well for his personal popularity, and for the people of the double riding who declined to ratify the last transfer which Mr. Blair made of the constituency. Mr. Hale, Mr. Ganong and Mr. Robinson have held their own. Mr. Weldon has greatly reduced Dr. Lewis' majority. Mr. Blair's latest York deal almost failed. Dr. McLeod's campaign is one of the most notable ever carried through in this province, and offers a warning to future bargainers in that neighborhood.

Many explanations will be given of the success of the government at the polls, and of the defeat of leading conservatives. That of Mr. Lawrence A. Wilson of the licensed victuallers' association is already before us. We commend this note of triumph to the attention of thoughtful readers

Latest Returns Give the Liberals, a Majority of Forty, Not Counting Independents.

Four Elections to be Held and Several Seats in Doubt-Hackett in P. E. Island Only One Vote Behind.

(From Thursday's Daily Sun.)
AT VICTORIA RINK.

Victoria rink was thronged with liberal conservative electors last night. many going there just as soon as the polls closed. The returns did not arrive as quickly as the crawd desired but it was all too soon apparent that the government candidates had carried energy of youth. It is a misfortune to the two constituencies. An immense blackboard was used to give the results at the various polling places. On a platform erected for the occasion a gated, and the voting was announced as they reached the rink. Among the gentlemen who had to do with these annancements, as well as the giving of information relative to outside constituencies, were J. D. Hazen, M. P. P., Ald Bexter, E. R. Chapman, Ald. Macrae and L. P. D. Tilley. The crowd cheered enthusiastically when good news was given them.

> The returns from all ever Canada were received at the rink over a wire mut in by the C. P. R. Telegraph Company. J. M. Barnes operated the ticker. Hon. Mr. Foster. Dr. Stockton and several prominent gentlemen were in attendance, and the returns as they came in were given to the hundreds who were outside the telegraph office. About 9 o'clock Dr. Stockton was introduced to the electors by Col. Armstrong, the president of the Liberal Conservative Association, Dr. Stockton was cheered over and over again He said it appeared the opposition candidates had been defeated in St. John. He did not feel discouraged over the result of the fight. While the liberals had gained in Quebec, the liberal conservatives had captured seats in Ontario and the west. Men were never defeated when they advocated a just cause. The liberal conservatives were in the right, and the day was not far distant when the flag of that party would wave throughout the country. Where was the intelligent and respectable vote today? It was with the liberal conservatives. (Applaise.) What influence was it that gave votes to the Cries of "Rum and money." Dr. Stockton-Was it the righteousness of their cause that won? Was it in the interest of St. John that they liberal conservatives had fought fairly H. A. McKeown, after which a and honestly. The other side resorted to misrepresentation and abuse. It was unfair that the race cry was raised. Canadians should be a united people, and those who raised such cries were unworthy to rule. That cry had its effect in putting us in the minority. The platform of the liberal conservatives was the same throughout Canada. This was only a temporary set back. Dr. Stockton then referred to Mr. Wilmot's victory in Sunbury-Queens. Dr. Stockton said he had never been supported by a nobler l.cdy of men, and he thanked them one and all. (Applause.)

Hon. Mr. Foster then spoke. was given a very warm reception. The news was not cheerful, but it must be borne in mind that this did not deal the death warrant to the party. He to St. Andrew's rink for further inregretted the defeat of Sir Charles oformation, but found the place closed Tupper and his colleague more than and dark, so well satisfied with the rethe loss of Hugh John Macdonald or sult they separated to their respective his own defeat for reasons easily homes to dream of a harbor full of understood. The losses sustained in New Brunswick were not only losses to the liberal conservative party but to public and parliamentary life as well. When the people of Kent county turned down a man of Mr. McInerney's ability and put in his place a man like LeBlanc, which of course they had a right to do they deprived Canadian public life of one of its brightest ornaments and put in his place a man who could not be compared with Kent's late representative. (Applause). When in Westmorland county Mr. Powell was set aside and Mr. Emmerson put in his place Canada suffered an immeasurable loss. (Applause). We have gone down in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Quebec, but in Ontario and the west there seemed to be gains. The liberal conservatives had lost through the appeal that was made in Quebec. The race cry had had its effect. The people present had heard the liberal conservatives speak throughout the campaign, and they never heard this cry raised. It would have been a just retaliation when it was done in Quebec, but it would have been intensely injurious and a bad thing to do in Canada. Let the cry burn itself out in Quebec, as it would do. Let us not foment the same in this province (Applause). In time we would reap our reward as consistent men. In 37 eats in Ontario already heard from there had been 11 liberal onservative gains. (Applause). Do not let us lose heart; we still lived. He sympathized with the men of St. John who worked so hard in the interest of the liberal conservative ticket. The liberal conervatives have depended on argument and did not appeal to prejudice. Our cause was strong here. He realized from the start the odds it had against them. He thanked the liberal conservatives for the support given him and Dr. Stockton. The liberal conservatives were in power for 18 years, so they should not be too greedy. Public life would be different as a resul of the defeat of some of the liberal at St. Andrew's rink, and here a crowd began to assemble shortly after the closing of the polls at five o'clock. As soon as the figures received insured the election of the liberal candidates in this constituency, the crowd grew in numbers and enthusiasm, and when Messrs. Blair and Tucker arrived shortly afetr six o'clock they received a rousing reception. Amid intense enthusiasm brief speeches of congratulation and thanks were made by the winning candidates and H. A. Mc-Keown, E. H. McAlpine and others. During the intermissions the results from the various districts and from the polls outside were announced, each liberal victory being greeted with vociferous applause, while figures in the contempt. When Fowler's victory over Domville in Kings county was an nounced, a voice from the crowd yelled, 'Don't read that kind," and the official announcer took the hint, and thereafter only the notices favoring the liberal interest received the attention of the

When it was announced that Mr. Blair would retire to his hotel and that a barouche was at the door, the assembled multitude rushed out, disconnected the horses from the carriage and mounting Blair on their shoulders, carried him triumphantly to the conveyance, and dragged him to the hotel accompanied all the way by hundreds of howling, cheering, singing enthusiasts. Along Charlotte and down King the street cars practically suspende traffic, and the mob took possession of the street from curb to curb. At the Royal, where the victorious minister dismounted, the crush was fearful, and it was with great difficulty that his supporters, bearing him aloft on their shoulders, could force an entrance.

After Mr. Blair had entered, the crowd remained outside and called for "Blair," "Blair," until at last the minister of railways, exhausted though he must have been with the arduous effort of the culminating day of a great campaign, was compelled to appear on the balcony in front of the hotel and briefly address them again. He thanked them heartily for their magnificent support, and assured them that they had made no mistake in electing him as their representative. He said that in the future the interests of St. John would receive his greatest efforts and his best attention. Brief speeches of glorification at the result were also delivered by E. H. McAlpine and Hon. large part of the assembly dispersed to their separate homes. Many, however, returned to St. Andrew's rink to ascertain further the results of the day's balloting. About nine o'clock a detachment from the City Cornet band entered the rink and played a few selections, after which, accompanied by the great majority of those present, they marched to the Royal hotel and serenaded the victorious candidate. They played for some time, and another vast crowd, packing King street from side to side, assembled and cheered and howled wita unquenchable enthusiasm, but Mr. Blair had evidently had enough of speaking for that night, for he refused to present himself, and shortly the crowd melted away. Some went back steamers absorbing grain and miscellaneous cargoes from Blair's elevator and the I. C. R. terminals on the east side. In the crowds assembled around the hotels and the various places where the results of the election were being announced, the presence of any prominent conservative was strangely ad conspicuously lacking. Almost everyone visible was patting himself or somebody else on the back and seemed to be highly delighted with something. Of course all the places where artificial enthusiasm could be procured were absolutely closed, so the genuineness of the feeling exhibited could not be doubted for an instant. But taken altogether their exuberance was by no means extraordinary considering the occasion that had called it forth, and the few downcast conservatives who loitered inconspicuously on the outskirts of the crowd only wished they had the same chance to show what they could have done in the way of

SIR CHARLES UNDAUNTED.

HALIFAX, Nov. 7 .- Sir Charles Tupper arrived in the city at an early hour yesterday morning from Cape Breton and spent today in Halifax. The Herald called upon him at 11 o'clock last night at the residence of Senator Mac-Kean, and found him the most joyful man in the company of half a dozen. He was by no means cast down. He had done his best for his party and for his country, and naturally he enjoyed the happiness of the consciousness of well-doing, if not the pleasure of success. He is in splendid health. Sir Charles leaves this morning en route for British Columbia, where he intends to assist the conservative candidates in Yale-Caribou and Burrard. He expects to be accompanied in his trans continental journey by Sir Hibbert Tupper, but if that gentleman decides to remain in Picton till declaration, two or three days hence, he will go alone and await him in Winnipeg where Lady Tupper is stopping. Sir Charles preferred to say nothing for publication, but consented to give the following statement: With reference to the county of Cape Breton, I am rather relieved than otherwise at the result in that county. It ought not to surprise anyone, when it is remember-

I had a majority of a little over 800, Dr. Kendall, my opponent, was elected two years ago in the same county to the local house by more than one thousand majority. I nave been unable to give any personal attention to the county, with the exception of spending practically three or four days in it, owing to my duties in other parts of the dominion; and I should have adopted the course I did had I been quite sure it would have resulted in my defeat, as I was bound to consider the interests of the party at large rather than my personal interests. than my personal interests.
"We have not sufficient data to spea of the general result, but I shall awa the definite information with the con sciousness that I have since the defe of my government and my election the liberal conservative party as i leader, done all that lay in my pow to ensure its success." (Special to the Sun.) OTTAWA, Nov. 8 .- From present appearances McKellar, the liberal candidate in Carleton, has lost his deposit. It is said that Sir Charles Tupper

FREDERICTON, Nov. 8.-The battle s over and Fredericton has settled down from the excitement of yesterday. Never before in the history of this county has such a close contest been fought or such general interest awakened.

Mr. Gibson won, but what a hollow victory? Backed by two governments and the lumber king of New Brunswick, and with stacks of the resources of civilization at his command, he has come out of the fight with a bare sixty-seven of a majority. Previous to the election Mr. Gibson's supporters had confidently asserted that their man would be elected with a majority of (Continued on page Five.
