

SITUATION AT WASHINGTON NEARS CRISIS

Speaker Cannon, Shorn Of Power, Heaps Calumny On Those Who Saved Him From Utter Humiliation,

FIGHT PROMISED ALL ALONG THE LINE

Washington, D. C., Mar. 20.—The Titanic struggle over the Speakership of the house of representatives, which reached its climax late yesterday in the destruction of the Speaker's power in the committee on rules, was leaving Mr. Cannon the speakership itself may have marked no such the ending of a three days' "battle" as the commencement of a great political war.

Hardly anybody here thinks that the condition of affairs after the momentous battle represents any satisfactory conclusion. The Speaker and his friends appear to interpret the refusal of the house to depose him as justifying them in claiming to have wrested victory from defeat, endorsement from repudiation. Not a few of the insurgents who voted for Mr. Cannon's retention are wondering today if they would have a political blunder whether their anti-Cannon constituents will not, instead, hold their retaining him in the speakership to have nullified their vote to eliminate him from the rules committee.

Returned to Fold. The Republicans regularly complacently claim that the insurgents who voted for the Speaker, returned to the party fold. The Democrats taunt these insurgents with having been recreant to the logic of their insurgency. Nobody seems entirely happy about the outcome. Even in the senate, the regulars are apprehensive lest the insurgent confederation may be about to spread to that body, so that the insurgent senators are wondering whether they have made the most of their opportunities.

Speaker Cannon's defiant speech last night before the Illinois Republican Association in which he contemptuously denounced the insurgent members of the house who stood by him in the final test as "cowardly members of congress without the courage of their convictions" has cut their quick throats who responded with their votes to what they say they believed to be their duty to the party and to the country and saved him from utter humiliation.

Today the feeling among these insurgents was one of bitterest resentment over the attitude assumed towards them.

"If this is to be the manner of our treatment for saving the Republican party," said one of them today, "his battle just ended will be followed by another beside which the first one will be but a skirmish."

War to Finish.

"I can speak for no one but myself, but if this is to be our reception, I am done. We were not cowards. We, of the insurgents, who cast our votes yesterday against unseating Cannon, were the bravest men in that house. It took consummate courage and it will probably cost me my seat in congress. But if we are to be met with calumny because we sacrificed ourselves to save the house of representatives from chaos and disgrace and to prevent the ruin of the Republican party, then I am in favor of carrying this war to the finish."

This member said he had talked with one or two others of the insurgent leaders who voted to save Cannon and that they were in a similar frame of mind.

"When I read in the papers this morning the speech which Speaker Cannon delivered before the Illinois Association last night, my blood boiled with indignation," continued this insurgent.

"There has not yet been called any meeting of the insurgents to consider what their future course should be, but undoubtedly one will be held within a day or two."

The next conflict will come, on the selection of the new rules committee provided for in the Norris resolution. The committee is to be elected by the house, instead of being appointed by the speaker, as hitherto.

Neither the regular Republicans nor the Democrats have, as yet, made any arrangements for a party caucus, but both caucuses will be held within the next three or four days.

Representative Tawney, one of the leaders on the Republican side, said today that no conference had been held to date on the subject, but undoubtedly one would occur perhaps tomorrow.

HUGE CEREAL MILLING MERGER ANNOUNCED

Canadian Cereal And Milling Company, Recently Formed, Embraces Eight Large Companies.

Lindsay, Ont., March 20.—A huge cereal milling merger has been formed, embracing eight large companies. It will be called the Canadian Cereal and Milling Company, with head office

TARIFF CRISIS IS STILL ACUTE

No Definite Decision Reached In Impending Struggle As a Result of Yesterday's Conference Between President Taft and Mr. Fielding At Albany But Washington In Not Without Hope

Albany, N. Y., March 20.—The president and Mr. Fielding were in conference on the tariff today for several hours. No conclusion was reached, but the situation remains that of friendly negotiations.

Eleven days remain for friendly negotiations, before the maximum rates of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law automatically go into effect against those countries which are regarded by the president as "unduly discriminatory," against the United States. The law is arbitrary as to its application, but the president is given judicial powers in reaching a conclusion as to what constitutes "unduly discriminatory."

Up to this time Canada has been regarded by the president's tariff advisers as "unduly discriminatory," and unless concessions are granted by the Dominion government to place the United States on an equal footing with France and thirteen other countries which have been given preferential rates under the Canadian tariff. It seems inevitable that Canada will be the one important country in the world against which the 25 per cent. of the maximum American rates will be applied.

It was not expected that a definite conclusion would be reached at the conferences between the president and Minister Fielding today. The fact, however, that President Taft tonight summoned James W. McDonald, Toronto, to the governor's mansion and thanked him for his part in helping to bring about today's meeting, indicated that progress was made and that the outlook is not quite so dark as it appeared to be a few days ago.

The president was inundated with telegrams again today from various interests throughout the country, expressing the hope that an amicable agreement with Canada might be reached. Only within the last 72 hours New York and New Haven, where, tomorrow, he will attend a meeting of the Yale corporation.

Earl Grey, governor general of Canada, and Minister Fielding, New York, as his personal guest, the two heads of governments, sat up late tonight in the observation parlor of the car en route to New Haven, where, tomorrow, he will attend a meeting of the Yale corporation.

President Taft has challenged Earl Grey to an international game of golf next summer at the Myopia Club, near Beverly. His Excellency was nothing daunted at this and accepted the challenge.

WARD BLEEDS TO NORTH SHORE GILBOURD BROWN

Chatham Anticipates Commercial Depression In Event Of Maximum United States Tariff Being Applied.

Special to The Standard. Chatham, N. B., March 20.—Chatham is beginning to anticipate the effect upon it of the American maximum tariff and there is no doubt if the new rates go into effect this town and the whole North Shore will receive the heaviest jolt in its industrial and commercial history.

For Chatham it means immediately the shutting down of two pulp mills employing 350 hands, and the town's chief backbone as well as curtailment in the fishing industry and the partial paralysis of the lath and shingle industry.

In addition two roasting mills will be closed permanently, if the New Brunswick legislative acts on the MacLachlan motion to prohibit the export of pulpwood from the province. Pulp mills and roasting mills here pay out $6000 weekly in wages when running, so that the loss from this source alone would amount to $350,000 yearly.

Mark Spaulding, manager of the Miramichi Pulp and Paper Co., here, stated today that in the event of a new tariff going into effect his mill would close early in April and there would be no possibility of its resuming operations until the old rates of duty were restored.

Manager Stephenson, of the Dominion Pulp Co., could not be located on the telephone, but it is recognized that this mill will be in the same position. The new tariff which goes into effect April 1st, will add $8 more per ton on all pulp exported to the states, and with this handling Canadian pulp-makers cannot compete with Scandinavian pulp. Four hundred tons of pulp are now made daily in Canada and the demand outside of these paper mills which make their own pulp is only equal to 80 tons per day so a greater number of the Maritime mills will have to close. As a 25 per cent ad valorem duty is put on fish it will affect this industry somewhat, though not to any large extent. Fish dealers have been shipping to the states during the last few days all the fish in their freezers in order to get it over the line before duty comes on.

In Toronto, the companies are: Tilson Co., Tilsonburg; Flaville Milling Co., Lindsay; F. McIntosh and Son, Toronto; James Wilson and Sons, Fergus; Walter Thompson and Sons, London; Woodstock Cereal Company, Woodstock; D. R. Ross and Son, Embury; Martin Bros., Mount Forest; J. D. Flaville, of the Flaville Milling Company of Lindsay, is president.

NEW LAW BILL WELL RECEIVED

Measure Highly Satisfactory To Those It Most Concerns, Declares Mr. W. S. Tompkins In Interview.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

W. S. Tompkins, of Medicine, York county, arrived from St. John on Saturday night and was interviewed at the Barker House today and gave his views on the bill. He said that he was with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Fredericton, N. B., March 20.—Business men and fair-minded people of both sides of politics who are interested in the St. John Valley Railway project are highly commending the bill with words of appreciation of the bill which Premier Hazen introduced in the legislature last week and which is regarded as certain to pass about the building of the railway and which is also regarded as safeguarding the interests of the people of the province.

Ottawa Is More Interested In Blocking The Valley Railway Than Aiding Its Construction

Provincial Secretary In Vigorous Utterance Bares Tactics of Federal Administration In Seeking To Cheat Valley of Long Promised Railway Facilities.

Bill Likely To Reach Decision Stage Today—Lieutenant Governor Signs Judicature Act and Proclamation Bringing It Into Effect Will Be Published At Once—Saturday At Fredericton.

NEED NOT READ HAS SAILED FOR HIS HOME

More News Of Missing Sackville Man Comes To Relieve Anxiety Of Parents And A Host Of Friends.

Sackville, N. B., March 20.—More assurance of the existence in good health of Mr. Herbert W. Read in Buenos Ayres, was received Friday night when his father Mr. H. C. Read, was handed the following brief cablegram, dated Buenos Ayres, March 15: "Comit' signed by his son's name 'Herbert'."

The cablegram was sent in reply to a much longer one from Mr. Read at Montreal on Wednesday to the British Consul at the Argentine Capital. The wording, brief as it was, conveyed a lot of information to the waiting father and mother. It seemed to intimate that all was well and although it did not say anything about his exact condition, it then, in a matter of words, except that he was coming.

If he starts out immediately he should arrive in about six weeks time. It is expected that nothing more is to be done until he arrives or is heard from again.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

TWO KILLED C.P.R. RAILWAY WRECK

Freight Train Plunges From Track To River 150 Feet Below And Two Of Crew Are Dead.

Winnipeg, March 20.—Word has been received here of a railway accident at McNellie Sliding on the Crow's Nest branch of the Canadian Pacific, which resulted in the death of two men and one is probably fatally injured.

As the freight train crew was shunting cars at McNellie Sliding to clear the track the east bound passenger engine and tender detached from the freight jumper the rails and plunged into a quarry which started on Goat River, turning some cars as it fell. One engineer, Jim Carson, head brakeman Campbell and fireman Fred Campbell and Ford Campbell and Ford were killed outright and are still under the engine. Carson has a leg broken and internal injuries. He was brought to the hospital on a hand car and afterwards taken to Cranbrook Hospital. All three belong to Cranbrook.

The alternative to this bill is the admirable part of it. It has been volunteered without any request by the people. We confess it is more than we expected from the provincial government. It assures a means of transportation for the people of the valley even providing the federal government was not sincere in their promises to operate the road if built up to their own requirements of standard as provided for in part two of the bill. The alternative will give people of the valley a modern road with a roadbed and a standard of greater efficiency than some of our continentals, a road that will meet all our requirements and give us a quick way to the west coast of New Brunswick. We are surprised to have this progressive legislative effort called a trolley line and other terms assisting in the development of the valley. The people of the valley are seeking political aggrandizement in preference to their duties as citizens in assisting in the development of their country and when we hear men so express themselves we fear we misinterpret their sincerity in assisting the people of the valley to get a road.

However, this is not the main section of the bill. The main section is in assisting in the development of the requirements laid down through the correspondence from the federal government as we, the people, understand it.

The electric proposition is a second consideration and we believe of forced in good faith to assist the whole people of the valley. Our only criticism is the length of time given on the first proposition and as one of the people with no party affiliation, I do sincerely hope every influence will be brought to bear both by the legislature and the people to rush to a start on the two plans provided for by the bill."

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his reception at home, and that he had sent his letter at a "feeler."

This however is put at a discount by his close friends.

Mrs. Read had said before the receipt of the last message that she would be happy if she could hear from her son by the coming of the cablegram to him. She has heard within two and is doubly happy.

Mr. Read, it is said, has made arrangements for his getting enough money to bring him home and in his cable told him to procure it. As was the first message this brief communication was heard with delight both by his waiting parents and by the town of Sackville. It speaks much for the popularity of young Read that each word of the cable concerning his whereabouts has always been received with the greatest excitement, and delight throughout the county. As fast as former theories are being discarded, new ones are being built up. This last communication and his being heard from so quickly has naturally pulled down a number. The most prevalent of the newly erected theories states that he must have been waiting in Buenos Ayres some time and was becoming doubtful as to his