Truro, May 31 .- On the docket of the supreme court, which will open in Truro next Tuesday, will be a cause of more than usual interest. It is an appeal case brought by Alfred Creighton Mills, editor of the Times-Guardian newspaper of this town, against Mayor George W.

It appears that for some time a continuance of the publication of what the St. Patrick, Richmond and Brussels streets. mayor and council considered abusive and He investigated and found fire in the slandering matter to themselves as well as the town took place in the Times-Guardian. The Guardian claimed to be championing the interests of the rate-payers and used strong language in its editorial comments on the town officials.

paper, known as the Times-Guardian, pub-lished at uncertain periods, in the town of Truro, has for some time past been publishing a series of falsehoods about town officials and town affairs, which are calculated to do great injury to the town not used. where the character of the editor of the said paper is not known; and whereas, such deliberate and untruthful represen-tations, vilifying and slandering the reputation of our town, our citizens and our officials, have gone abroad doing, we believe, much harm and causing unjust ridi-cule, loss of reputation and tade; and whereas, already unsatisfied libel judg-ments are and have been hanging over the said Times-Guardian editor; said judgments having been obtained through courts for libellous s'ander.

"Therefore, in the judgment of this council it would be a waste of money to pro-ceed against and prosecute the said Guar-dian editor for such slanderous and libellous publications.

"Therefore resolved, that this resolution

trial was before Stipendiary Magistrate
Crowe, who dismissed the defendants, after hearing the evidence. Mills has now appealed to the supreme court and an interesting case is expected. This time the case is against the mayor personally, not only for implication which he is alleged to have had with the resolution, but also for a letter published in the Halfax Herald over his signature, in which he objected to the report of the previous trial given in that paper, and gave his own version of it.

Another cause in the present docket that will attract interest be that brought against the Canadian Pacific Railway by Miss Jessie C. Smith, of this town, for injuries received while travelling in a sleeper of the C. P. R. between Montreal railway authorities are responsible.

Late War News.

Peace Party at Pretoria.

This news gives rise to a suspicion that the citizens' committee at Pretoria may not have been able to carry out their plan for securing the peaceful entry of plan for securing the peaceful entry of Lord Roberts and sparing the city the horrors of a siege. The peace party appeared to be in the ascendant and, as soon as President Kruger and his cabinct left Pretoria to organize a new capital, the citizens' committee persuaded the commandants of the forts to withdraw some mandants of t plan for securing the peaceful entry of with the view of keeping order in the town. If messengers were sent to the British, or if the British, being two hours march from Pretoria on Wednesday, entered it, then or at any time prior to Friday noon, Lord Roberts would certainly have telegraphed this fact. Hence it looks as though there was a Boer force between Pretoria and Johannesburg.

These soldiers falling back toward Pretoria, some of them fresh from the fight with Gen. Ian Hamilton, would have brought a new element into the situation and would probably overrule the peace committee, taking the direction of affairs out of their hands. If this has happened, the British may as the Daily Chronicle out of their hands. If this has happened, the British may, as the Daily Chronicle says, see some 'hard fighting before the British flag flies over Pretoria,' for even if the Boers held only three forts standing close together on the hills south of the town they would be in a position to stand

The Boers, according to a special despatch from Lorenzo Marquez, have reentered northeastern territory of the Free State and are engaged with the Brit-ish near Ventorsburg and Harrismith. It is reported from Amsterdam that the best rooms at Het Haasje, one of the principal hotels there, have been engaged for President Kruger's occupancy from June the Boer flanks.

The Times has the following from Lorenzo Marquez, dated June 1:

"Reports of the most conflicting character are current here, due to the activity of the Boer agents. While one section declares that President Kruger has returned to Pretoria for the purpose of ar-ranging terms of surrender, another as-serts that the British have been repulsed outside of Pretoria. Nothing authentic is known here regarding Mr. Kruger's

An Editor is Bringing a Suit | Establishment of Robert Clerke on St. Patrick Street Gutted -- Two Barns Badly Damaged -- Quick Response to the Alarm and Good Work by the Firemen.

(From Saturday's Daily Telegraph.) Robert Clerke's last factory, in the rear of St. Patrick's street, was gutted by fire shortly after 2 o'clock this morning. At 2.10 o'clock Policeman Totten, patrolling Union street, saw smoke rising from the interior of the block bounded by Union,

He sent in an alarm from box 12, and the brigade turned out quickly. Three editorial comments on the town officials.

After months of this attention by the Times-Guardian the council became exhausted of patience and took action by way of resolution. Following is their finding at a regular meeting:

"Resolved, Whereas a certain newspaper, known as the Times-Guardian, published at the triangle of the triangle of the building and in the interior. These were fed by No. 3 engine, stationed at the corner of Union and St. Patrick streets. Two more streams were sent to the rear from Richmond street, through the Damery property. These property.

The fire had made strong headway, for the factory is an old building. Beside it is a shed, the property of Mr. Charles Reynolds. Adjoining the rear of the fac-tory are two barns, owned by the estate of the late William Damery. These face in a yard which reaches to Richmond street.

The fire soon had the factory badly burned and then caught the Damery barns. Mr. Reynolds' shed had not caught at 3 o'clock and as the conflagration had then diminished—thanks to the good work of the firemen and the copious streams of water-it was not likely it would take Kruger would be contrary to the traditions of international law, a general amnesty being the logical result of peace.

The Southern District is Not Yet Quiet.

Cape Town, May 31.-Gen. Warren with 700 men occupied a strong defensive posi-tion at Fabersput on May 29. At dawn he found that he was surrounded and he was fiercely attacked by 1,000 rebels. The horses were stampeded but the force con-centrated and the Boers were repulsed. A small party in a garden continued to fight tenaciously but evacuated as the charge began, leaving a number of wounded. The British lost 15 killed, including Col.
