NO UNFRIENDLY ISSUES WITH THE UNITED STATES SAYS YAMAMOTO

New York Luncheon in His Honor

Many Expressions of International Goodwill--Admiral Evans Said When the Newspapers Stopped Making War a Better Feeling Would Exist All Around.

New York, July 11--Two distinguished Japanese, influential at home and respected abroad took occasion today to declare in no uncertain terms that there were no unfriendly issues between the United States and Japan and to decry the undue importance attributed by some trivial incidents. The champions of peace and friendship between the countries were Admiral Yamamoto and Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, who came over from Washington this morning to attend the reception and luncheon given by the Japanese Society of America in honor of Admiral Yamamoto.

Expressions of international goodwill were also made at the luncheon by Ambassador Aoki, Thomas J. O'Brien, the newly-appointed American ambassador to Japan, Rear-Admiral Coughlin, Rear-Admiral Robley Evans, commander of the Atlantic fleet, and others. Admiral Evans said that when the newspapers of this country stopped making war between Japan and the United States the people would come to their senses and a better feeling would exist all round.

There exists between the two governments no ill feeling of any sort. Talking of possible trouble between the two nations is a mere phantom of wild imagination which ever seems to haunt of irresponsible story makers and trouble hunters. There is not the cause for anxiety in it as it is due to influence of unwarranted press given out by the newspapers.

HAYWOOD DENIES ORCHARD'S STORY

Declares He Had No Part in Murder of Steunenberg

Did Not Know That the Assassination Took Place Till He Saw it in the Papers--Tells of His Arrest and Moyer's, and Their Experiences in the "Bull Pen" -- "Hired Assassin" Had Been a Guest at His Home.

Boise, Idaho, July 11--William D. Haywood took oath today as a witness in his own defense, and in a lengthy narrative of his life and work as a leader of his fellow miners that was interrupted by adjournment, denied guilt of the murder of Frank Steunenberg and the manifold crimes charged against him by Harry Orchard. Haywood was pale and trembled with nervousness when he left the table and for the rest of the afternoon Clarence Darrow's questions his voice was low and somewhat uncertain, but within ten minutes he had regained his composure and was master of his feelings.

The state completed the cross-examination of Charles H. Moyer at noon, and in dealing with his testimony directed its strongest attack against the circumstances under which the federation, at the suggestion of Jack Simpkins, came to the relief of Orchard when arrested for killing Steunenberg.

Haywood Testifies. William D. Haywood was called to the stand immediately after the recess and his examination by Mr. Darrow was begun. Haywood was first questioned as to his family history. He declared he never knew Governor Steunenberg and had no other than as a member of the federation.
