J. A. STEWART, EDITOR.
WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 9.
The Anti-Corruption Cabinet.

Hon. T. N. Gibbs, member of the Macdonald-Elroy Cabinet, was defeated at the last election in South Ontario, and his defeat was made a text on which to preach sermons on the condemnation of a "corrupt" Government by a free people. It was pointed out at the time that Finance Minister Cartwright had used means against Mr. Gibbs that were far from being in accordance with the anti-corruption mottoings of Blake and Mackenzie.

Mr. Gibbs, who has been a member of the Government in the past, has now been defeated. He has been a member of the Government in the past, and has been a member of the Government in the past. He has been a member of the Government in the past, and has been a member of the Government in the past.

Further evidence of Ministerial bribery and corruption is given in today's dispatches. Another squad of "Return" members of Parliament have been indicted, and will appear in court today. The indictments are for bribery and corruption.

Another Hero Repeated.
"Call no man happy until he is dead," was the remark of a distinguished Canadian when he was asked to give a eulogy on the late Sir Samuel D. Bell.

There is a small woman who lives in a quiet street in the city of Toronto. She is a widow, and has a young son. She is a widow, and has a young son. She is a widow, and has a young son.

The author of "Thoughts of a Country Parson" was some time ago travelling, and fell into conversation with a fellow-traveller. He was a man of letters, and had a great deal to say on many subjects.

Some reputations come through the fire of calumny almost unscathed. While others are ruined by the same. The reputations of the late President, for example, the late Vice President of the United States, and the favorite, after Grant, of his party for the Presidency, who has been utterly ruined by the loss of evidence of wrongdoing that has been produced against Henry Ward Beecher of the Central Church.

It remains to be seen how Sir Samuel Baker will emerge from the scandal in which he is involved. His name and his good name are in the hands of the public, and he will have to answer for his actions.

The Country Question.
Capt. McLean's claim to an 18th century birth has been so clearly established in this paper that we should not wonder if the matter again only that many people think the Chief Justice must be on the right side.

There would seem to be no need of a further investigation, but the matter is so old and so widely known, that it is not surprising that the question is still being raised.

The Old Burying Ground.
This last resting place of many of St. John's earliest and most respected citizens deserves more attention from our Common Council than it has received this year.
