Is money any more plentiful

Are cur taxes any lighter? Ir is said that Mr. C. H. McIntosh I. P. for Ottawa, and editor of the tawa Citizen, is now operating in nnox in the Tory interest, and in ew of the forthcoming election. It also said that the election there is ing to be fought out on a different ne by the Tory. party, in some partilars, from that pursued in any preous contest. Money is already being stributed. The prominent Tory wireller has openly boasted that the vernment will carry Lennox this possible person has been appointed sturning officer, and he in turn has lready chosen as his deputies young en, some of them not residents of the inion Treasury to do it. sponsibility whatever. Ar the Peel County Court, last week, Major Parsons, of Orangeville, was such for a penalty of $200 for illegally roting at the Cardwell Provincial elction in 1883. The case was decided favor of the defendant, on the ground hat he was the equitable owner of four acros of land in that town. At the me court, Angus Norris, of East Garafraxa, was the defendant in a similar suit. The Brampton Times says: "It appeared that the defendan, ived with his father in Garafraxa on a em owned by the father, and on which the defendant voted as farmer's n. The father was tenant of a farm Caledon which was worked by the in Caledon which was worked by the father and sons in the same way as the home farm. At the Court of Revision it was suggested to the father to put the defendant on the voiers' list as a joint tenant, which he did. The defendant swore that having been put on in this way he thought he had a right to vote. The jury found that he voted in that belief, and the verdict was entered for him accordingly." ed for him accordingly. THE publishers of the News Record, of Fergus, announce that they are threatned with a libel suit at the instance of Messrs. Hudson & Keely, produce dealers in Arthur, for stating in a paragraph among the Arthur items in their of the 11th ult., that Messrs, Hudson & Keely, grain buyers, had ended payment, and that parties having 'unsettled grain tickets were mixious to know when they would comnence again. The Messrs. Craig state that they morely published what was sent to them by the person who held the measured grain ticket, and that in doing so they had neither prejudice or malice against Hudson & Keely; ither as a firm or private individuals. Under the circumstances, therefore, we hink it would be foolish for the Arthur me to press their suit. They ought accept the explanation made by article in which it seeks to show that what we stated was not true, when we said that Mr. Stevenson stated plainly a year ago that he would run this year We have only to turn to the Herald him to have said:—"Though now entering on his declining years he had as lively an interest as ever in the welare of the city, but during the coming year he could not devote the ne time to the office. If he could ha done so he would have gladly respond ed to the call, but would defer accepting their support until another year, when, if the same kindly feeling towards him prevailed, he ent himself as a candidate." This urely was a positive enough state-
