

Revision court decisions mailed

The final decisions from a list of 5,280 made by Mississauga's two courts of revisions were made last week and mailed to taxpayers who launched appeals on their assessments.

Hearings wound up last Tuesday following 10 1/2 weeks of public testimony and deliberation by the six members of the two courts.

The court officers met Wednesday and Thursday to make decisions on the last few hearings and decisions were in the mail by the weekend.

The sittings began Jan. 16 in the wake of mounting criticism and alarm over the county council's re-assessment program in Mississauga late last year.

Many homeowners and property owners found their assessments hiked up to as much as 150 percent by the new program. Taxes of many rose accordingly.

It was earlier estimated by town council that as many as 5,000 other property owners would have launched appeals had they realized what they were in for.

Last week it was reckoned that about 270 property owners were unsatisfied with the courts of revision decisions and have made appeals to a county court judge who will have the final word.

But, of course, you didn't really believe such a story on a day like today. The "UFO" is really an out-of-context view of the roof of a restaurant located on Lakeshore Rd. in Clarkson. And, the only occupants of the "vehicle" were the restaurant owner and a waitress.

That's a Volkswagen?

That's a Volkswagen.

Honest.

The Volkswagen Notchback.

And while it doesn't bear the slightest resemblance to a VW, it does bear some terrific similarities:

Like gas economy. An air-cooled engine. And workmanship you'd expect to find only in a... well, Volkswagen.

The Notchback also has a few things you wouldn't expect to find in a Volkswagen:

Like electronic fuel injection. A Porsche-type rear suspension. A more powerful engine. (It cruises at better than 80.) It also has disc brakes in front and an optional fully automatic transmission.

What's more, you get all of this for less than $2700.

No doubt about it.

That's a Volkswagen.
