or losses, but the initiative in moves has passed to the Dominion government. South Huron will not likely be opened while the House sits, but it may be sprung shortly after to force a provincial dissolution, leaving the option open to spring other Ontario seats in the aftermath. The move Mr Ferguson should have made in December. He had two chances then, only one now, he must choose soon, or be forced as you forced Mr King, and the situation growing more complex with delay.

Mr King will run more risk a general action than P. --- was anxious to meet the Japs. If he is a statesman he will play South Huron

Yours sincerely
