Let us -- by tolerance -- by prudence -- by patience -- by mutual understanding -- build -- and build -- and build -- our national structure of freedom -- the expression of the very soul of our people.

Canada has never been behind -- in asserting her willingness to defend the right -- as God gave her to see the right.

Let us carry on -- in peace -- as in war -- in the spirit of service to humanity.

The stern sense of duty -- which led Canada into the forefront of the battle for freedom -- found expression in the development of our own land -- where hardy pioneers conquered the wilderness -- laid low the forest -- and brought the plains into fertility.
