

his heart. Should he not follow his old comrade's example, give up his bishopric, and devote his remaining days to preaching Christ to the Mohammedans? A learned New Zealand missionary in Persia, Mr. St. Clair Tisdall, sees in the C. M. Intelligencer an account of the awakening of some Christian hearts in his colonial home to the claims of the heathen. He writes to Bishop Stuart: Come to Persia! That letter is God's message; and the Diocese of Waiapu is called upon to bid farewell to its Chief Pastor. Stuart comes to England, tells the C.M.S. circle at the May meeting of 1894 of the Lord's call to him, takes leave of the Society on the 44th anniversary of the first sailing of himself and French to India (September 11), and starts the next day for Persia. And in Persia he is permitted by the grace of God to labour, with short intervals, for over fifteen years; until at last, in his eighty-fourth year, he is brought to England to die, and enters into rest on March 15, 1911. Thus, together French and Stuart went in the name of the Lord to India;
