MONDAY, NOV. 25.

DRYDEN, OF DAKOTA.

A year ago Hon. John Dryden addressed the Cattle Breeders' association in Guelph, and the Herald of that city now reproduces his speech. Here it is:

"The possibilities of the live stock industry are immense. Our soil, our climate and our people are all admirably adapted to achieve the very best results. I have been reading in the newspapers letters from prominent men who say we cannot compete with our friends to the south. We can compete with them. For forty or fifty years this province has been the centre of the cattle and sheep industries of North America. At this very time we are sending to the United States the cattle that are to be the foundation upon which they build the structure which they boast so much about. Do not tell me that the farmers of Canada cannot produce as good animals as they can in the United States or in any other country. We have at this showing the proofs of what I say, and we have at Chicago, at the Fat Stock show there, the proof of what I say.

"We can compete, but we shall have to have the trade more or less centered before we can do our best, and when it is once centered as it is in Chicago, you will find how rapidly we shall grow. It is a downright shame that our leading hotels in our large cities have to go to Chicago for the meat they put on the table. They are obliged to go to Chicago because they get a continual supply of what they want. I shall not rest content until somehow we have inaugurated a system that will give us the advantages they occupy here."

And he didn't rest; but marched immediately off to Dakota, where he put the Canadian cattle breeders and hotel-keepers further into the hole by adding a Dakota ranch to the Chicago supply of beef! That speech will make very good campaign literature.

A GREAT NEW TERRITORY.

A railway from Edmonton to Peace river and thence to Liard, from which point there is a straight waterway to the Yukon district, would open up a Canadian territory fully as large and as fertile as Manitoba and Alberta, comments the Ottawa Citizen. Such is the opinion of His Grace Bishop Girouard, who has acted as missionary (in the charge of Athabasca and McKenzie dioceses). He has traversed that section of country from end to end, and has been among the Indians since 1848. The fact is that the Peace river and the Liard valley have so far remained in a dormant condition for want of railway communication. The Peace river is distant about 300 miles from Edmonton. Gold, coal and oil have been located in paying quantity in that region. Liard valley is about 500 miles from Peace river, and the country is unexcelled for both farming and for ranching. From this point a railway could be built to Dawson, which, according to Bishop Girouard, would rapidly open up an area of Canadian territory of vast importance. What an outlook is here in store for our Canadian people, and what an opportunity for the investment of capital. A direct railroad line through Canadian territory to Dawson is a certainty within the next few years, demanded by the development of each season's operations in the Klondike, and the fact that exceedingly rich discoveries of gold quartz or conglomerate have recently been made will establish beyond a doubt the permanency of mining operations in that section of our Dominion.

The wheat production of the Territories this past season has attracted the attention of capitalists at home and abroad, and when we consider the vast new agricultural regions north, as yet undeveloped, who can have any doubt that Canada will ere many years produce food products sufficient

Every Exertion
a Task

There is failure of the strength to do and the power to endure; a feeling of weakness all over the body.

The vital functions are impaired, food does not nourish, and the whole system is run-down.

A medicine that strengthens the stomach, perfects digestion, invigorates and tones is needed.

What Hood's Sarsaparilla did for John Y. Paterson, Whitby, Ont., it will do for you. He took it as a tonic and general builder of the system, and writes: "I have found no other remedy to compare with it as a restorer of vitality. It drives away that tired feeling, quiets the nerves, and brings sweet refreshing sleep."

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Promises to cure and keeps the promise. The earlier treatment is begun the better—begin it today.

for the demands of a large portion of the British Empire. This is the ideal we are looking for and hope soon to see an accomplished fact.

The following pointed paragraph is from the Hamilton Spectator:
Dear Uncle Sam: Please put John Charlton's nose this way, and give him a swift kick in the coat-tails.

THE TYPE MACHINE'S CHOICE.
Toronto News.
Editor News: To my mind the most appropriate name for the new hotel would be "The Typo" ETALON.

A FAIR INTERPRETATION.
Brantford Courier.
Uncle Sam's idea of reciprocity seems to be—"Give me what I want and I'll send back something you make yourself."

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.
Toronto Telegram.
If Henry Carscallen, K. C., M. L. A., had never left the party to which he formerly belonged, the Ontario government might have looked long and in vain for a joint author of its scrap from Guelph.

THAT MAN CARSCALLEN.
Toronto Mail.
Mr. Stratton has been making another speech, intimating that the Ross Government has passed several cords of beneficent laws. But Mr. Stratton cannot deceive the public on the subject of the Ottawa legislation. If there are any good laws it was Mr. Carscallen who drafted them.

ONE ON MORRIS.
Toronto Telegram.
The now historic misfortunes of ex-Mayor Morris, of Ottawa, would have been avoided if he had taken heed to the letter which Major Maude wrote expressive of the hope that his worship would be prepared to conduct himself properly.

"TIME FOR A CHANGE."
United Canada.
Hon. G. W. Ross, Premier of Ontario, was in Ottawa for several days last week. He has aged very much in recent years, and is frail and feeble. While here he must have observed two things, viz: that almost every one of the old guard whom he saw, showed evidence of that tired, "time for a change" feeling, or had a robust grievance.

THE GLOBE DO MOVE.
Toronto News.
First it was Mr. Carscallen on whom the Globe laid the blame of the government's unfortunate amendment to the scrap iron assessment act, but now it seems that the guilty part was the Municipal association, whose insidious recommendation of the simple and guileless members of the Ross cabinet were induced to adopt. The Globe, however, has a faint hope that the clause may be held by the higher court to be effective, and in case it is there is no doubt that the organ will suddenly discover that the government, and the government alone, was responsible for it.

IMPOSING ON EDITORS.

Curious Instances of Failure of the Editorial Memory.

Among magazine editors that particular kind of a memory which recognizes instantly any literary thing which it has seen before is developed to the limit of its capacity. Very rarely can a story be republished, even in a slightly garbled form or after an interval of many years and not be recognized and spotted by some outside editor, even if it has slipped past the censorship of the staff. The method usually followed by people who attempt to pass off old stories as original is to copy some practically unknown story by a famous author, leave out a little, add a little, and yet save enough that is good to make their version stand out from the ordinary run of the manuscripts which are declined every day by the magazine editors.

Some years ago one of the larger monthly published a poem by a well known poet who died more than a century ago. As printed, it had been sent in by an unknown contributor from the west. This poem so struck the editor that he printed it, surrounded with a series of drawings by one of his best and most expensive illustrators. When he was informed by his friends of the true origin of the poem, he made a resolution to accept no contribution from authors of whom he had no personal knowledge, and for a year or two strictly maintained that policy. A somewhat similar case occurred recently when a paper in this state published a poem by Keats and duly printed the poet's name beneath the title. A number of western papers reprinted the poem, giving credit to John Keats in the margin.

The use of extracts from magazines, newspapers and other magazines is not objected to by most of the large publishing houses, provided that the extracts are short ones and that a regular credit and copyright notice is printed either at the top or bottom of the article. In spite of this generally understood permission so many cases occur when material is used and no credit given that a regular printed form is kept on hand in most of the large establishments to be sent out in such cases as come under their direct notice, cases which mount up in the course of a year to a large number. A warning is usually enough to make the offending editor publish a note acknowledging his omission in the next issue of his paper, and it is very rare that these slight offenses have to be followed up any further.

POULTRY RAISING.

As a rule few old hens lay late in the fall or early winter.
Indigestion is very often taken for cholera among fowls.

There is no better absorbent for the poultry house than plaster.
The hen lays only when she is capable of supplying the materials for forming an egg.

All arrangements for ventilation should be made so that if necessary the house can be closed in cold or stormy weather.

A hen that is long and bent shaped and also fairly deep is likely to show staying qualities. She should also have a deep chest.

If an abundance of good sharp grit is kept constantly within reach of the fowls, many diseases from indigestion will be avoided.

It is not the large hen that always lays large eggs. Some of the breeds that lay large eggs are small, as the Spanish and Minorca.

Scalded sweet milk and cooked rice will stop diarrhea in fowls, but don't feed sloppy food while the fowls are in this condition.

The usual causes of roup are cold, dampness and exposure. Although apparently contagious and spread, the disease is due primarily to the surroundings.

In nearly all cases turkeys to bring good prices should be shut up ten days or two weeks and be given all that they will eat of a good fattening ration. Cornmeal and sweet potatoes boiled together fatten very rapidly.

The Absentminded Don.
One of the finest instances of absence of mind is that recorded by a certain Oxford don, whose "scholarly abstraction" frequently landed him in difficulties.

Dining out one night he suddenly became immersed in thought, and for a time sat gazing at his plate, evidently deeply engrossed in some mighty problem.

Now it happened that his left hand neighbor, a portly dame, had a habit of resting her hands on the table, palm down and fingers closed.

Suddenly the professor awoke from his brown study, seized his fork, plunged it into the plum pudding and to the left of his plate and, beaming genially through his glasses, remarked, "My bread, I think!"—Tit-Bits.

Partial Punishment.
The man who had rocked the boat and turned it bottom upward was clinging desperately to its slippery keel.

Half an hour passed away.
"I can't hold on any longer!" he gasped.

"Then suppose you let yourself down and slide out," suggested the other man, who had been standing on the ground all the time and apparently struggling to keep his head above water. "It's only four and a half feet deep here, I am sorry to say."

The Wasp.
It is said that the male wasp does not sting. But as the male and female wasps wear the same kind of polonaise and look as much alike as twins the only way of distinguishing their sex is to catch one. If it stings, it is a female; if not, it is a gentleman wasp.

Two Likes.
"I like your nerve!" gasped the beautiful girl, struggling against the inevitable.

"And I like you cheek!" chuckled the young man as he continued the oculatory exercise.

And Be Read Too.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Depends upon the name.

Scott's Emulsion is a name that has value. Maybe it doesn't mean much to you—but to the consumptive who has been strengthened and fattened, to the sickly children who have received good health, to the weak mothers and babies who have grown strong—to these Scott's Emulsion means something.

To all of them it has meant an easy and natural return to health.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

Popular Canadian Playgrounds

The traffic over the Grand Trunk Railway System to the summer resorts located on their line during the past season has been somewhat phenomenal, especially the heavy tourist travel that made the Highlands of Ontario their objective point.

Statistics compiled to date show 35,000 passengers were carried into the northern districts during the past summer from points all over the continent; in fact, in view of the growing popularity of the regions, it is found necessary every year to increase the accommodations in this district by the building of new hotels and making additions to the hotels that are already located throughout the locality. First class summer hotels are being erected at a cost of thousands of dollars, one now being in operation on Lake Rosseau, Muskoka Lakes, with accommodation for 250 people, and built at an outlay of over $100,000. The region is bound to be popular as there is no finer country on the continent of America for health, pleasure and recreation than in the Highlands of Ontario, and which include the Muskoka Lakes, Magnetawan River, Lake of Bays region, and the 30,000 islands of the Georgian Bay, not forgetting the many pleasant summer resorts situated on the shores of Lakes Simcoe and Couchiching.

Many are the expressions of praise emanating from travelers who have been in this region. A letter just received by a Grand Trunk official, from Mr. Chas. F. Outter of New York City is a specimen of what is thought of these districts, and reads as follows:

"We are wishing we were on Lake Rosseau in sight of the autumn glories of 'Fairyland'—this very minute. More and better should be said about Muskoka than the bit of enthusiasm in that hasty personal note, more and better than I am artist enough to say, and in spite of the dictates of selfishness, which say 'Don't tell everybody; Muskoka's too good to give away.'"

"Indeed, the kindness of United States and Canadian friends encouraging my wish for a vacation in high and dry air with waterside delights, and free from swarms of men of insects has just given me and mine the best vacation of our lives. In the first place the trip to get there is easier, less expensive, though grader than any other between the Rockies and Switzerland. Rivers, lakes, Niagara, Falls and the Gorge, the Lakes Ontario and Simcoe, stretch from New York City to Muskoka Wharf."

"The Grand Trunk trip, including all round the island studded waters of Lakes Muskoka, Rosseau and Joseph, at one's leisure in charming little steamers, with courteous officers and crew, substantial dinners, soft waters, clear exhilarating air the whole continuous round is perfect. Then camp, cottage, boarding house, or hotel life in this peace and grandeur, with refined friends, good books, and well behaved children, canoes and boating, bass river at your dock, pickered around the next point, the finest bathing, sleep refreshing, no noise but one's own exuberance, dress to suit yourself, no business but fun, no roads but the trackless primeval forests—the whole 'shooting match' challenges comparison with all other vacation grounds known to New Yorkers. Our only regrets are at leaving this paradise short of a six months' stay."

I believe the first test of a truly great man is his humility. — John Ruskin.

THE ONLY ONE.
The man who says that all patent medicines are worthless is a fool. For Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure has no equal. W. C. Switzer, Harrowsmith, O., suffered with sciatic rheumatism for ten years. He tried every known remedy recommended for the cure of rheumatism without obtaining relief. Six bottles of Dr. Hall's completely cured him. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days' treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.
