

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY TO TWEED MAN

Martin B. Reid Passed Away in the Night—Well Known in Milling Circles.

Our village was saddened on Sunday morning when the news passed about early that during the silent watches of the night the spirit of Martin B. Reid had taken its flight to the God who had brought it into being.

Up to about half past eleven o'clock on Saturday Mr. Reid was engaged as usual with his duties as miller at the Deseronto Milling Co's mills here. Then without any warning he was stricken with intense agony and was hurried to his home and the physician summoned, who soon discovered that the patient was in a most critical condition.

Dr. Tuttle, the attending physician, gave it as his opinion that the trouble was in the stomach but there were other indications that pointed to appendicitis and the latter view was finally accepted.

The patient grew rapidly worse and very little could be done other than to relieve his suffering.

Dr. Faulkner of Foxboro, a friend of the family, and Dr. Robertson, were summoned for counsel in the matter but nothing could be done as the disease developed with such startling rapidity. He passed peacefully away at 1:30 p.m. Sunday morning.

It was deemed advisable to hold a post-mortem examination and this revealed the fact that the cause of death was a perforation of the stomach.

He leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife and daughter to whom the heartfelt sympathy of their entire circle of friendship and acquaintance is extended.

There still survive him also, an aged mother, Mrs. Caleb Reid, who has passed her 88th mile post along life's ever changing highway. There are also five brothers living, viz. Allen C. of California, Almon P. of Calgary, Albert of Orono, Mich.; Wilson of Cartwright of Thurlow, and three sisters, Mrs. Gilbert Jones and Mrs. S. Massey, both of Saskatoon, and Mrs. Albert Bailey of Stirling.

Mr. Reid was an esteemed member of the Methodist Church and held an honored position in many important departments of its work.

He was a member of the Quarter-

Official Board and in the work of the Men's Adult Bible Class he took a faithful and helpful interest. Possessing excellent musical ability and a desire to be helpful, his brethren could always count on him being present with his cornet to lead or take part in the service of song.

He took great interest in the question of a town band and was for a long time leader of our village band.

For many years he was closely associated with the late Richard Rayburn in the milling business and a very strong friendship existed between them.

That he was highly regarded by those about him was evidenced in the many words of sympathy that were heard on all sides and the many beautiful floral tributes placed upon his casket bore mute but eloquent testimony to the place he occupied in the affections of those who knew him.

There was a cross from wife and daughter; a wreath from the Men's A.B.C.; a wreath from the Canadian Order of Foresters, a cross from the Sunday school teachers; a bouquet of white roses from the Women's A.B.C. and a wreath from the Deseronto Milling Co.

A short service was held at the home on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock by his pastor, the Rev. C. H. Ooon. The remains were then conveyed to Foxboro for interment in Elmwood cemetery at Carmel.—News.

Napanee's Rate 29 1-2 Mills

At an adjourned meeting of the Town Council held on Thursday evening of last week, the estimates for the year 1914 were presented. At first it looked as though the rate would have to be higher but, after considerable pruning, 29 1-2 mills was arrived at.—Beaver

Sodalite Find

Mr. Jno. McAllister has a gang of men opening up a sodalite property about two miles below the village near the river. It lives every promise of being a valuable proposition. Other mining properties are being developed in the neighborhood, and it looks as if we might possibly see a boom here this summer.—Banner Times

Perilous Position

Last week Dr. Lapp, Cobourg, bought a new automobile. On Monday he was driving near Precious Corners, and coming down a hill just north of Mr. E. Budd's, he momentarily lost control of the steering gear. The car ran over the embankment on the road and upset in a small creek, pinioning Dr. Lapp on his back underneath and submerging him in the water. Mr. M. Herrington, who was with him, managed to lift the car sufficient to allow Dr. Lapp to get his breath, while he called for help. Sons of Mr. Budd came to the rescue and without any broken bones, but it was certainly a close call for him. Very little damage was done to the car.

Fell From Train

Mr. Frank Barton, who resides near Havelock, while on her way to Toronto on Wednesday last week, fell headlong from the platform of one of the coaches of the afternoon train just as it was approaching the station, at Peterboro. She was seized with a weak spell when a few miles from the city, and not realizing the danger to which she was exposing herself, made her way to the coach door and stepped out on the platform. Whether she fainted or else lost her balance with the swaying of the train she could not say. Fortunately, however, she was not injured, and was able to continue her journey.—Norwood Register.

Mr. Cockram's Purchase

The following was taken from the Toronto Globe of Friday, May 8th:—At yesterday's meeting of the Toronto License Commissioners the license of the James Morgan estate, licensees of the Marchant's Hotel, Jordan street, was transferred to John P. Cockram, a former hotelkeeper of Madoc, the consideration being $40,000 for the good-will and the business.

Another Old One

Mr. J. H. Foley has repaired and put in excellent order a wooden clock of Mr. W. N. Simmons, merchant tailor, made and dated in the year 1577. The ancient timepiece was the property of Mr. Simmons' great-great-grandfather, and he has declined the offer of $400 made for it by relic hunters. The clock stands over seven feet high.—Banner Times

RESIDENCE BURNED AT WELLINGTON

Saturday Afternoon—Beautiful Home of Mr. A. M. Osborne a Prey to the Flames.

(Special to The Ontario)

Wellington, May 18—On Saturday afternoon the afternoon train was going to Pierson, the cry of "Fire!" was heard. The beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Osborne was discovered to be in flames and was burned to the ground with all the contents and just a few things were saved. Clothing, bedding and furniture were burned. All worked heroically. Mrs. Osborne was away in Belleville at the time and returned home on the midnight train, prostrate with grief. Mr. and Mrs. Osborne are now with the former's mother. The loss is not covered with insurance, sorry to report. There is no fire protection in Wellington but all worked heroically and did their best to save the property. No other property was burned.

Beachey Will Fly AT BELLEVILLE JUNE 3RD RAIN OR SHINE

Rain, shine or cyclone, is the slogan Lincoln Beachey has nailed to the mast head of his aeroplane. The great loop the loop and up-side down aviator no longer fears the weather. His powerful motor sends him through the air faster than any wind blows, and so powerful is the impulse of his craft that in starting, landing or flying at two miles high altitude, there is nothing to overpower the great mechanical bird as it is sent along by the master hand of the world's greatest aviator.

"The public has been hoodwinked by aviators for many years," is Beachey's comment, "and has grown accustomed to the belief that man cannot fly unless the wind is right. There are no such things as 'swirls', 'vortexes', 'down-trends' or other of the alibis so dear to the heart of the timid, incompetent or inexperienced aviators. A man who can fly well en-

SHOT BIG BLACK BEAR

Noak King and his stalwart family of sons of Belmont Lake, seem destined to be in the limelight very frequently. The latest exploit of the Kings is the killing of a big black bear on Wednesday of last week. Bruin was first noticed by Mr. John King, who at first thought it was a stray pig, feeding in one of the fields near the house. Hastily procuring a rifle he took a pot shot at his bearship, but the distance was too great and the shot only frightened the animal into the swamp. A council of war among the Kings resulted in the complete armament of the family, and the requisition of the tribal hounds, and then the hunters deployed upon the swamp. A few minutes afterward the furious baying of the dogs indicated that the bear was located and so Mr. Ezra King fell the lot of the high chief executioner. His first shot hit the big brute in the shoulder but did not stop it and it came directly toward him with extermination in its eyes, but four more shots put a quietus to its ambitions and it dropped dead a few feet from its slayer. The bear had evidently wintered in the swamp in that vicinity, and is probably the same animal that was seen several times last fall. It weighed 250 pounds and its fur was in splendid condition.—Havelock Standard

THE EARLY CROCUS

One night—twas in a hot July— I slept at Farmer Brewster's; But long ere sunrise lit the sky. Was wakened by the roosters.

At breakfast then I made a pun— The farmer couldn't catch it; Although in serious matters he Was sharp as any hatchet.

I said, "My friend, at four o'clock Your screeching roosters woke us. Beneath your windows—though July— You raise the early croc-us."

WHAT MOTHERS SAY OF BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Thousands of mothers use no other medicine for their little ones but Baby's Own Tablets. Once a mother has used the Tablets she will use no other medicine. Concerning them Mrs. Geo. M. Binns, Clifford, Ont., writes—"Enclosed find twenty-five cents for another box of Baby's Own Tablets as I would not be without them. When baby is cross and ailing I give him a tablet or two and he is soon well and happy again. I know of no other medicine to equal them and find them far superior to Castor oil." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
